GIRLS' CLUB HAS NOVEL PLAN OF INTERPRETING MUSICAL SELECTIONS

Saturday Afternoon Classes at East Portland Branch Library Work on New Experiment.

Folk tunes, and the words they suggest to different children, are a part of an experiment in musical appreciation being conducted by the Saturday Afternoon Girls' club of East Portland branch library.

Miss Rosella Knox, in charge of the work, sings the air of the songs. Sometimes she is accompanied by a violin. The children, when she finishes, tell her the words suggested by the tunes.

One girl, after the experiment, said the melody made her think

"The wind is blowing, O, where is it going?"

Another girl interpreted the same song in this way:

"Spring time, spring time is here. The birds and flowers are near. Spring time, spring time is here."

In addition to the musical work, branch libraries are conducting an interesting series of dramatic classes. Performances, directed, staged and costumed by the members, with the assistance of the librarians, are given at regular intervals.

The club of North Portland branch recently presented "Cinderella," which was played to a youthful audience of 329 persons. Many of them gathered an hour before the curtain went up, and were entertained with stories.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 20.—(I. N. There Is An Art in Being Attractive. Have You Mastered It? Here Are Some Easy Helps. By Madame Marce. NOT only must the woman of natural beauty be constantly on guard against the loss of her fascinations, but she who depends on artificial aids—such as creams, hair tonics and the like, must be sure they are permanent and lasting.

There is a new thing you need to beautify your skin and bring it to a condition of incomparable softness in a very short time. This has been used by thousands of women with extraordinary success. By the use of this cream you will soon find that all red spots, freckles, oiliness and sallowness will have disappeared completely, leaving the skin pure and clear as a lily. You cannot get this result except by mixing yourself at home, in a very few moments, one ounce of santonin with a little glycerine and hot water. The santonin costs fifty cents at the drug store. This makes a remarkable cream, which when used liberally, will not fail to give you the results.
