Interest in college circles is given this evening at Multnomah hotel for the pleasure of all students here for the Easter vacation. Representatives from various colleges and high schools in the Northwest will have charge of arrangements for the affair, which promises to be well attended.

The committee in charge of details for the evening includes Marian Spoor, Marian Stephenson, Alma Scharp, Gene Geisler, Marian Brebel, Margaret Stuber, Jennie Parelus, Elsie Peterson, Mildred Weeks, Penelope Gehr, Thelma Dykes, Marian Lawrence, Elizabeth Anderson, Geraldine King, Margaret Anderson, Elton Gilbert, U. of W.; William Teutsch, O. A. C.; Paul Campbell, Stanford; Henry Foster, Herman Lind, Kenneth Bartlett and Stanley Anderson of U. of O.; Douglas Farrell, W. H. S.; Osburn Walker, O. A. C.; James McCune, L. H. S.; Merle Margason, Harold Brown, J. H. S.; Lawrence Cook, F. H. S.; Oliver Jeanup, J. H. S.

More than 30 girls who are students of Hendricks hall at the University of Oregon, the Multnomah hotel, Wednesday for luncheon. The affair was planned in anticipation of the organization of a Hendricks hall alumnae association which will have its headquarters in Portland. Many of the girls were accompanied by their mothers and the occasion was a delightful one. Miss Gertrude Tabbot, resident head of Hendricks hall, presided and spoke briefly to the girls on plans for the alumnae association and its possibilities. Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, through whose efforts Hendricks hall came into being, also made an informal talk and was followed by Mrs. George R. Stephenson, alumnae of the University of Oregon and Miss Lola Hollaender, student head of Hendricks hall. It has been decided to make this together luncheon an annual affair during the Easter vacation.

Much interest centers in the Easter party to be given Monday evening at the Hotel Multnomah by the Catholic Women's league assisted by a number of other prominent Catholic organizations. In addition to cards and dancing the headline acts from the Orpheum and the Pantages theaters have been secured for special performances in both the ballroom and the assembly room during the evening. Tickets for the party, which will cost $1 a couple, may be secured from any member of the committee or at the Knights of Columbus headquarters, eighth floor of the Hotel Multnomah, or the headquarters of the Catholic Women's league, 357 1/2 Washington street.

The Girls' club room of the Young Women's Christian Association was the scene of a wedding Wednesday evening, when Miss Ethel McMullen and Howard Cross of Wilber, Idaho, were united in marriage. Judge George Rossman read the service at 6 o'clock. The room was decorated with spring flowers and a number of the members of the Girls' club acted as attendants for the bride. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen Phillips, a secretary of the local association. Mr. and Mrs. Cross will make their home in Wilber.

The members of East Gate Chapter Social club will give a dance and card party in the L. O. O. F. hall, corner East Eighth and Gisan streets, Saturday evening. To those who prefer cards, suitable prizes will be awarded high scores. The proceeds will go toward a fund for furnishings. An invitation is extended to all Masons and their friends.

Mrs. H. H. Wilson of Alameda Park entertained with a tea on Tuesday afternoon, to which about 75 friends were bidden to meet Mrs. Frederic W. Barber. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Barber were schoolmates in Marshalltown, Iowa, and both attended the Toronto College of Expression in Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. L. K. Moore entertained informally at a tea Saturday at her home in East Fourteenth street north, in honor of a group of old friends from Moro, Or. At the tea hour Mrs. G. A. Rockwell presided at the tea table.

Mrs. William Ellis has planned an Easter dinner at her home in Alameda Park in honor of cadets Jack Rice, Francis Rose, Melvin Mattingly and W. Evey of Hill Military academy.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Alvord, who have been visitors in San Francisco and who have spent some time with Colonel and Mrs. Alvord at Santa Barbara, are now at El Encanto, Fort Marion.

Announcement was made in Spokane recently of the engagement of Miss Grace Alena Shultz of that city to Herbert Arthur Katz of Portland.

MISS MAY CLOY, who returns to the Heilig tonight with Kolb, and Dill in "Wet and Dry."

Kolb and Dill in their latest uproarious musical concoction "Wet and Dry," described as a prohibition dramatic farce, in a prologue and two acts, open at the Heilig theatre tonight for the end of the week. This laugh provoker is another seemingly funny vehicle by Max Dill, who scored a notable triumph as a playwright with "As You Were." C. William Kibb, the elongated member of the firm, and his roly-poly partner have had two of the best parts they ever have had. "Wet and Dry" is timely in theme, but utterly devoid of any seriousness. The plot is built around a fight which grows to white heat in a small town called Breuville, with the coming of prohibition. Needless to say, Kolb and Dill occupy the center of interest and participate in a riotously funny campaign for mayor. There are all sorts of droll situations cluttered with laugh upon laugh.

(Mabel Barker) have returned to the city following their wedding trip and will make their home at the Barker apartments.

Miss Katherine Holbrook entertained informally at dinner-Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Martha Whiting and Kenneth Samuel Reed whose marriage will be solemnized Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Whiting announce the birth of a daughter who arrived March 26. The baby has been named Ann Elizabeth.

Fraternal Notes

Nobles of Al Kader temple, under the management of Chief Rabbi Frank S. Grant will go to Astoria Saturday. There will be a large turnout and a special ceremonial. The rear guard, which will include the greater part of the invading forces, will leave the North Bank depot at 8 a. m. Saturday. There will be a public parade, dinner, ceremonial concert, chautauque, theatre party for the ladies and a dance. There will be something doing every minute until 1 a. m., when the return trip for Portland will start.

Portland lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, Wednesday night installed its officers, past dictator Roscoe P. Hurst officiating. Grant will go to Astoria Saturday. There will be a large turnout and a special ceremonial. The rear guard, which will include the greater part of the invading forces, will leave the North Bank depot at 8 a. m. Saturday. There will be a public parade, dinner, ceremonial concert, chautauque, theatre party for the ladies and a dance. There will be something doing every minute until 1 a. m., when the return trip for Portland will start.

Samaritan lodge, I. O. O. F., Wednesday evening authorized the closing of the purchase of the lot immediately south of its property on Tenth and Salmon, making a building site 100 by 100, and the ultimate building of an I. O. O. F. temple is thus brought one step nearer to completion. The second degree was given under the direction of K. J. Nolan, grand warden of the state encampment.

The I. O. O. F. dance Saturday night at the Multnomah Hotel is to help pay for the uniforms of the organization. They were obtained at pre-war prices and are worth $65 each, but will come at about $22. A large attendance is confidently expected. A committee of $0 is out selling tickets every night.

Ivanhoe homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Wednesday evening held one of its series of social dances at N. of W. hall that was well attended by members and friends.

Royal circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, Wednesday evening enjoyed a largely attended card party with a musical program at W. O. W. temple.

THE Oregon Branch of the National League for Women Voters, of which Mrs. Charles E. Curry is president, is announcing the first course of its citizenship school, which opens Monday, April 5, with Miss Elizabeth Bain as chairman. The course comprises nine lectures given by experts in various phases of government and political science. The school will be held in the north gallery of Central library and will be open to both men and women.

Following is the schedule for the week:

Monday, April 5, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"Women Need Political Education More Than Men," Miss Elizabeth Bain.

Tuesday, April 6, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"The Home and Local Government," Miss Elizabeth Bain.

Wednesday, April 7, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"The State Government," Miss Anna E. Arnold.

Thursday, April 8, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"Congress and Congressional Procedure," Miss Elizabeth Bain.

Friday, April 9, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"The President and His Cabinet," Miss Elizabeth Bain.

Saturday, April 10, afternoon session, 3 o'clock—"Party Machinery and Voting Demonstration," Miss Helen F. Sedgwick.

Evening session, 8 o'clock—"Origin and Functions of Political Parties," Professor U. C. Dubois.

The following chairmen of committees for the assembly of musical clubs, meeting next week at the Multnomah hotel, are called to meet at 148 Thirtieth street, Saturday, April 3, at 2:15 p. m., by order of the district president, who suggests that they assemble at 2 p. m. and enjoy the program on American music, prepared for the junior department by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petri.

The committee meeting will be held immediately following the program. Courtesy committee, Mrs. J. Coulson Hare; hospitality, Mrs. W. L. Swank; transportation, Mrs. E. J. Leiby; automobiles, Miss Marie C. Dooley; chairman of ushers, Mrs. A. W. Claxon; seating, general chairman, Mrs. Charles H. King; banquet committee, arrangements other than program, Mrs. Philip Blumauer; credential committee, Miss Fay Ruddick; Mrs. J. E. Bonbright and Mrs. H. T. Donivan; assistant to Mrs. Coulson Hare, Mrs. Eldon J. Steele. The credential committee has very kindly consented to take the reservations for the luncheon and banquet during the convention. Those anxious to enjoy these affairs may call Main 3162, Tabor 7247 and Marshall 1360.

Mrs. M. W. L. Block, who is in charge of the table arrangements for the Parent-Teacher association luncheon that will be given at the Hotel Portland Saturday, has secured the services of the following young women to serve as ushers, all teachers in Portland schools: Misses Lillian Goodspeed, Julia Fearson, Edith Alderson, Roxanna Schager, Anna Nickson, Anna Blason, Estella Marlas, Olga Hollingsby, Viola Ortlund.

The colored drive for establishing a colored Y. W. C. A. in Portland was postponed by the provisional committee until the arrival of a colored field secretary from headquarters. At present the solicitors are refusing subscriptions until the campaign is renewed. All the money already contributed to the colored Y. W. C. A. has been deposited in the bank to their credit, available at any time that their drive is continued.

All people of the Creston school district, whether having children in school or not, are urged to attend a grown up party this evening at 8 o'clock in the school assembly hall. Matters of community interest will be brought up in addition to a good social time being assured all who attend. There will be music, games and refreshments. No admission charge will be made.

On account of a number of gatherings on Monday evening, the Mayflower club will hold its meeting next week on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the blue room of the Hotel Portland. "Monasticism" will be the subject of the fourth in the series of lectures being delivered before the club by John P. O'Hara.

The Overlook club will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. A. B. Sponner, 832 Colonial avenue. Miss Mary Henthorne will tell of her experiences in the war zone. The ladies of the community are invited.

The Portland Parent-Teacher council will meet Friday at 1:30 p. m. in room A of the Central library. Mrs. J. A. Keating, state regent of the Daughters of American Revolution, will speak on "Americanization."

Miss Macbeth's ancestry dates back to the Mayflower on her mother's side, and her musical training has been solely in the hands of the American voice specialist Yeaman who trained her for both the operatic and concert stage. Born in Mankato, Minn., Miss Macbeth early showed signs of possessing a phenomenal voice.

After two years of intensive study Mr. Griffith took her with him to study in Italy. Two years later she made her initial debut at The Hague, Holland, with the famous Lamoureux orchestra of Paris, meeting with instantaneous success. This was in July, 1912. She was immediately engaged for appearances in Germany and Hungary, and later for the Royal opera houses of Petrograd and Budapest, Hungary. Her fame reaching London, she was called there, and thither she went along with her devoted teacher in 1913. Camerini, who happened to be in Paris, read about the unprecedented triumph of the winsome American who had suddenly appeared overnight, and rushed post haste to London and signed her up for his famous company.

The New Home Is Finished

To end a success as you have planned. Means of success as you have planned. Means of success as you have planned.

When Johnny Chuck found Polly Chuck already starting to dig a new bedroom down in their new home he knew that Polly was entirely satisfied with the place he had chosen for that new home. He didn't say a word about how she had scolded and how sure she had been that she wouldn't like the place. He was too wise for that. He just chuckled down inside.

"I think you are quite right, my dear," said he. "That will be a splendid place for another bedroom. Of course this home isn't nearly completed. Do you think I have made it deep enough, my dear?"

"Plenty deep enough," mumbled Polly Chuck as she made her black paw fly and threw the sand behind her almost into Johnny's face. "It will be perfectly dry down here, and no frost can get down here in winter. I notice you haven't a back door. No home is safe without a back door. You ought to know that."

"Of course I know it," replied Johnny. "Any Chuck who will make a home without a back door is either too lazy to live or else hasn't got plain Chuck sense. I've planned two back doors, but I didn't want to do all the work of digging out for them until I found out if the place would suit you, my dear. If you'll take a few minutes' rest and come, I'll show you where I planned to have those two back doors."

Polly stopped working and followed Johnny outside. He took her outside and showed her where he had planned to have one back door under a certain little bush, and another back door some distance away between some clumps of grass. Polly examined the land all about and finally nodded her approval. "You couldn't do better," said she. "Now let's get back to work."

For the next day or two the new home of Johnny and Polly Chuck was a busy place. Both were happy, for you know the making of a new home is always a cause for happiness. While Polly Chuck dug a new bedroom and enlarged the old one, Johnny Chuck made a long back hallway out to the little bush where he planned one back door. He slithered that hallway up, and by and by his little black paw dug right into the sunlight under the bush.

Now, it would have been a great deal easier to have started that back hallway from the outside. It would have been very much easier. Then Johnny could have thrown the dirt out behind him just as he had done at his front doorway. But Johnny hadn't done this.

"You couldn't do better," said she. "Now let's go back to work."

Can you guess why? It was because he wanted that back door to be a secret. If he had thrown out the earth it would have given his secret away. Every one who came that way would have seen the mound of shining sand and known that there was an entrance to Johnny's home.

So Johnny had started from the other end and had pushed all that sand back and out of his front door. When he had been pushed out the front door, and it made a big mound which could be seen from a long distance. It was a fine mound to sit on and take a sun bath and watch for enemies. Johnny and Polly didn't care who knew where that front door was, because, you know, Johnny had made it between two great stones, so that it couldn't be dug any larger. His back door secret, back doors they felt quite safe. Polly made a comfortable bed of dry grass in one of the bedrooms and then their new home was finished. It had meant a lot of very hard work, but, as Johnny said to Polly, it was worth it. It was as fine a home as ever a pair of Chucks had.

First Aids to a Lovely Skin

SEM-PRAY JO-VE-NAY (The Pink Complexion Cake) needs no introduction. Some women have been using it for more than 20 years. There is nothing quite so good for the complexion.

There are three other SEM-PRAY complexion requisites of similar worth:—SEM-PRAY Face Powder, SEM-PRAY Vanishing Creme and SEM-PRAY Rouge.

Each one helps the other to perfect your complexion. All four are for sale at good stores near your home.
