

OFFICIALS OF CITY AND COUNTY TO AID SAFETY PROGRAM SHRINE WEEK

Every city and county official who is a Shriner will aid in carrying out a safety program during the week of the Shrine convention in June, according to Rufus C. Holman, chairman of the public safety committee of the Shrine.

"We are gradually getting things into shape to give service, personal if necessary, to the thousands who will visit Portland during Shrine week," said Holman today at the headquarters of the general committee in the Gaseo building. "Everybody is willing to aid and by taking extra precautions, Portland will be able to avoid accidents."

"Strict regulations relative to all vehicles will be observed to the letter, and we are asking automobile owners particularly, to help us in avoiding accidents. Ordinarily, we have too many accidents, and with 400,000 persons in the city and the streets downtown so congested, we must go to the limit to prevent collisions."

Holman has asked for suggestions relative to the best handling of the situation by the public safety committee.

Guardianship Petition Filed

Petition for guardianship was filed by E. F. Platt, who seeks legal control of the five minor children of the late Alice Stoddard Platt. He sets forth that the children have equal interest in an estate valued at approximately $30,000 left by the deceased, and that it is now ready for distribution.

Thirteenth Day of Month Brings Bad Luck for Eckstrom

What the Idea of March meant to the citizen of the Roman Empire, the thirteenth day of the past month has meant to Albert Eckstrom of Gresham. Eckstrom drives a large motor truck. March 13 he had an accident at East Twenty-fourth and Burnside streets with a grocery wagon belonging to Robert Ellison of 654 East Burnside street. Tuesday, which was the 13th day of April, Eckstrom again had the misfortune to come to Portland and get tangled up in another accident. This time he bumped into a machine on the Broadway bridge. It so happened that Mrs. D. D. Moreland of 225 Twelfth street was standing in front of the automobile trying to crank it. The blow of the heavy truck against the rear of her car knocked it ahead with such force that she was thrown to the pavement and severely bruised.

While Eckstrom was standing at the counter reporting his second accident, in walked Ellison.

"Why, here you are," he exclaimed. "I've been looking for you for a month." Both Ellison and traffic officials prepared complaints against Eckstrom. He is charged by Ellison with failure to give the right of way on March 13, and by traffic officials with reckless driving on April 13.
