

PORTLAND MAN AND ASTORIAN FIRED ON BY MAN IN BUSHES

Astoria, April 28.—While driving to Astoria from Portland over the Columbia river highway Monday evening, Edward E. Cohen, manager of the Oldsmobile company of Oregon, was fired upon near Svenson by some unknown person. The bullet grazed his left ear and punctured a hole in the windshield of his car. He was accompanied by J. C. Beck, manager of the Beck building in Portland. According to Cohen, something struck the side of the car with sufficient force to attract his attention. Cohen turned his head and looked down to the running board of the roadster, at the same time reducing the speed of his car. As he brought his car to a slower speed, a voice from the darkness of the roadside called to him to stop.

Thinking it perhaps somebody who wanted a ride into town, Cohen was applying his brakes when a bullet whizzed by his head, puncturing his windshield. He stopped the car quickly and stepped down into the road and looked back just in time to see a man disappear into the woods at the roadside.

According to reports made public at the Port of Astoria commission's meeting Tuesday, net earnings of the docks for the month of March was $7698. In a letter, Major Slocum of the United States engineers said he had received a communication from the Pacific Power & Light company asking permission to lay a new electric cable across Youngs bay at a depth of 25 feet. The major inquired if the commission had any objection to the request being granted. The port decided that the cable should be laid not less than 20 feet below zero tides in order not to interfere with the projected channel improvements.

Hair Tonic Starts O. A. C. Students on Wild Auto Tour

Albany, April 28.—Fred Norris and Roy Olsen of Portland, special students at the Oregon agricultural college, did not possess invitations to a dance for which they came from Corvallis and to drown their disappointment drank a bottle of hair tonic.

That was the beginning of a wild time. The aftermath was the Lin county jail.

Subsequent to inhibition of the tonic they procured H. B. Casick's automobile without obtaining his consent and mapped out a tour of Eastern Oregon and Washington. Their destination was to have been Seattle, they confessed when arrested, but a mudhole at Toledo worked havoc with their plans and after giving all of their funds to a "bedouin," whose steed pulled the car from the mire, they wired friends in Corvallis, asking for money.

It was spent after they visited Salem, Independence and Hood River. Portland was their headquarters during this time. Then they wired for more money. "Sell our books; we need transportation home," they implored. When they arrived Sheriff Warfield of Benton county arrested them.

Casick went to Portland to obtain his automobile, which was left in a garage.

Eugene Bank to Have Handsome Building

Eugene, April 28.—Evidence of business expansion as well as faith in the future of Eugene was shown today by directors of the First National bank, when it announced the purchase of an 80 by 160 foot tract on the corner of Ninth and Williams streets, on which to erect a handsome, modern banking building. The work on removing the present buildings and preparing for construction will begin as soon as possible. The First National is one of the oldest banks in the Willamette valley, having been established in 1882, and nationalized in 1886.

The area to be cut off from Wasco county by the proposed plan comprises about one-third of the present area, and has a valuation of about $5,000,000. The Jefferson county slice has a similar valuation. If present plans progress, petitions will be circulated to place the matter of county division before the voters in November.
