More Warehouses For Jackson Farm Bureau Purchased

Medford, April 28.—The Jackson county farm bureau, which, on expansion some time ago, leased the big warehouse of the Rogue River Fruit and Produce association, has purchased two warehouses and six adjoining lots on the Southern Pacific railroad here, at a reported price of $12,400. From these warehouses it will sell to its members, at cost, fertilizers, feeds, grain and sprays.

A Medford Y. W. C. A. is fast approaching a reality and as soon as a secretary is provided active work will begin. The local Y. W. C. A. has, up to the present, resources in cash and pledges of $3500 and has purchased the Leon B. Haskin 10 room house and large yard, across from the high school, for headquarters and home.

Airplane Crashes To Earth in Fog; Aviator Escapes

New York, April 28.—(I. N. S.)—Losing his way in a fog above the Orange mountains, Wesley L. Smith, pilot of a mail plane en route from Washington to Heller field, Newark, struck a tree on the side of the mountain and crashed to the earth. Fire broke out in the wreck of the plane and it was consumed, together with 300 pounds of mail. Smith was bruised but not seriously hurt.

Million Seedlings Being Planted in Experiment Station

The forest service nursery and experiment station at Wind River is a busy place with the transporting of 1,000,000 seedlings by 15 men, says A. O. Waha,

Relics of Pioneer Days Found When Old House Robbed

Roseburg, April 28.—When the old house of Judge Mosher in West Roseburg was torn down, curious relics of by-gone days were found. The house was built more than 50 years ago and most of the old sections were put up with hand made nails of extraordinary size. Another curiosity was an old dinner gong, used in earlier days, resembling a Chinese gong.

Assistant district forester, who has just returned from a trip into the Wind River country. The seedlings are of Douglas fir, white pine and noble fir. In the arborvitum, says Waha, are six or 10 specimens each of 110 different species of forest tree, covering an area of 10 acres. Trees are grown from all parts of the world, red woods thriving along with evergreens of this species, and hardwoods.

Road construction is under way from Camp 8 to Government mineral springs, which will open up the region to more visitors, when complete. The section from the forest boundary to Camp 8 is already complete. The road is in charge of Ranger Mann, with a crew of 10 men. Government mineral springs is highly charged with soda and has been partially developed. It has a hotel with a capacity of 100 persons.

White Slaver Is Given 13 Months In U. S. Prison

Joaquin Miranda, a Portuguese, after pleading guilty to violation of the Mann white slave law, was Monday sentenced by Judge Bean to 13 months at McNeill's island. Miranda transported 16-year-old Eva May Lee, a sister of his wife, from Wood, Cal., to Portland. The plea of his attorney for leniency because of his wife and two small children was denied by the judge because of the seriousness of the offense.

Irish Agitator Is Found Guilty of Criminal Anarchy

New York, April 28.—(I. N. S.)—James Larkin, Irish agitator, who has been on trial before a jury here for several days, was found guilty of criminal anarchy late this afternoon. The jury deliberated two and one-half hours. Larkin took the verdict stoically.

Club at Boardman Chooses Officers

Boardman, Or., April 28.—At the annual meeting of the Commercial club A. W. Cobb was reelected president. S. H. Boardman was chosen vice president and M. B. Signs secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive committee elected were: Ed Miles, O. H. Warner, W. A. Goodwin and Nick Falser. A committee was appointed to represent the club in the John Day barbecue celebration in June and one to investigate the possibilities of securing land for an aviation landing field and community park.

Beavers Are Busy in Pendleton Outskirts

Pendleton, April 28.—Evidence that beavers are at work almost within Pendleton's city limits is reported by local anglers, who have discovered trees felled by the rodents both in the vicinity of the Eastern Oregon state hospital and near the levee at the east limits of town. No animals have been seen at work, however.

Roseburg Plans to Display Blossoms Of Umpqua Valley

Roseburg, April 28.—Friday will be "Blossom day" for Roseburg, and the exhibit building on the depot grounds will bloom forth in an array of flowery beauty, typifying the Umpqua valley and its apple, prune, cherry and peach orchards. The season seems to be progressing without damage so far reported and pollination is as good as can be expected. The cherries will be the first crop and are well along, giving promise of a full crop. Peaches are a small crop in this section and not much attention is given to them. Prunes, apples and pears are all showing up in good shape.

One of a trio of colored "jail birds" caused the officers about an hour's worry Sunday evening. A prisoner each day empties the jail ash can. Sunday evening the one assigned to this duty failed to return. He was found in a long, black tunnel under the courthouse.

Permits for Public Dance Halls Being Filed; Two Granted

Many applications are being made for forms which must be filed with the county supervisors by persons seeking permission to conduct public dance halls, under the state law adopted at the last session of the state legislature; but, so far, only two such applications have been granted by the county commissioners.

These were acted upon Monday. One was from the Sand Island Amusement company for a dance hall at Columbia Beach, and the other was from Mrs. H. E. Hadley for a dance hall at Burlington.

Under the new law there are numerous regulatory provisions and it requires that no public dance hall be kept open between 1 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock a. m.

Mrs. Ida May Needham, 40, comely widow, identified Harrigan as one of her roomers.

"I never knew he was a crook," she said. "He told me he was a detective. It seemed impossible that a man like he was could be a thief. His room was always like a bandbox. He proposed to me several times."

Harrigan's cache revealed more than $100,000 worth of stolen goods. He had hidden it in a secret vault under a sidewalk.

Heavy Snow Halts Work of Building Trail on Larch Mt.

Deep snow at an altitude of 3000 feet forced the Trails club Sunday to abandon its building of the new Larch mountain trail at this point. The trail will be completed to the summit at a later date, and the trip scheduled for June 5 and 6 probably will be over the new route. A detour will be made for about two miles, commencing about a mile back of Angel's rest, in which advantage will be taken of existing trails and an old skid road to reach the main ridge. This will add 20 minutes to the time necessary in making the climb, but later the lower section of the trail will be straightened out and the time shortened.

Blue Prints Ready For Fish Hatchery On Salmon Creek

Eugene, April 28.—Architect W. C. Knighton of Portland has sent to the office of the Cascade national forest the blueprints of the proposed new ### fish hatchery on Salmon creek near Oakridge. These show a substantial log structure 44 by 125 feet and 13 feet in height at the eaves. The building will have a group of 13 hatching troughs to start with, but has space for 44 troughs, and when brought up to its capacity will have an output of many millions of fry each season.

The site is ideal for a trout hatchery, the surroundings being even more attractive than at Hopewell and promising to become a popular resort for tourists.

Booze Runners Give Up, Surrendering to U. S. Marshal Here

A secret liquor conspiracy, whereby old Scotch and Canadian whiskey was smuggled across the Canadian border from British Columbia to Seattle and Portland, was revealed here when three of its backers surrendered to the United States marshal after a secret indictment by the grand jury had been turned in Monday.

The three are Phil Polsky, who is said to be the Seattle agent; Floyd V. Dudgey, once convicted for violation of the Reed amendment, and Artie Sussman, the Portland agent for the gang. It was through the capture of two automobiles

John McCarthy, Civil War Veteran, Is Dead At His Home in Bend

Bend, April 28.—John McCarthy, aged 78 years, Civil war veteran, died Sunday after a light paralytic stroke. He was a native of Ireland, coming to America early in his boyhood. In the Union army he served with the 133rd Illinois volunteers.

To bring before the people of Bend and Central Oregon the comparative merits of the Royal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen and the International Union of Timber Workers, a debate will be held in Bend this evening between W. D. Smith, field representative of the "Four L's," and Harry Call, secretary of the I. U. T. The debate is an outcome of repeated challenges of the timber workers.

The pupils of the Bend high school will give an elaborate Americanization program this evening at the high school auditorium. A feature will be a patriotic community sing.

Wholesalers Advise Using Only 1 Pound Of Sugar Per Week

Chicago, April 28.—(U. P.)—One pound of sugar a week to each household until the present critical sugar shortage is relieved, was advocated here today by wholesale grocers.

According to sugar buyers, unless some such voluntary step is taken the appointment of a sugar administrator to regulate price and distribution may become necessary. The present sugar situation was likened to a famine.

"There isn't enough sugar to go around and something must be done to prevent disappearance of sugar altogether," said B. L. Thomas, buyer for a large wholesale grocer here.

Retailers here are limited to 50 and 100-pound purchases, and are urged to apportion the sugar in one-pound allotments to regular customers. "The situation is a natural one," said one wholesaler. "The crop production was overestimated and there has been an enormous increase in consumption."
