

BUY FLOUR, IS BEST TIP OF THE DAY; CONSUMERS PROFIT

Consumers who bake their own bread will make no mistake whatever if they purchase flour at this time. Fact of the matter is that flour can be purchased today from many retailers at a lower price than the actual cost of production. This is due to the fact that some retailers have stocks on hand which cost them much less money than the present market, therefore they can make even a better profit at the lower price than others can at the higher figures.

With hard and other cooking fats going lower, the consumer can today bake bread and cakes and save money. Consumers are advised to look closely to their stocks of cereals of all kinds, because prices are being advanced rapidly in the wholesale trade and retail values will of necessity be forced to follow.
