

NOMINATE

W. A. Cadwell is seeking the Republican nomination for County Assessor at the primary election to be held on Friday.

Mr. Cadwell was chosen, as he is not the protégé of any politician or political clique, and well qualified for this most important office. Upon filing his declaration, he immediately resigned his position as a Deputy County Clerk, feeling that he should not be on the County payroll while spending his time in the nomination. If such a course was generally followed, a reduction in the expense of running the affairs of the City and County would be the inevitable result, and taxes would be lower.

The spirit of progress demands fair and just assessments and lower and equal taxes, as any other policy, especially one discriminatory in character, will prove detrimental to our future development.

This is the platform upon which Mr. Cadwell is asking for the nomination, and he has the backing of men and women in all walks of life—the home owner, business and professional man, laborer and mechanic. In fact, all imbued with the proper public spirit are earnestly supporting him. It was this class of citizens that urged him to enter the primary for the nomination, believing that his ideas and principles will bring about a change so much desired.

Mr. Cadwell was educated in the public schools of this city. He engaged in business in this city, and later went to farming in Washington. Returning to Portland, he again entered the business world. Having been used repeatedly in allowing damages or assessing property when new streets, roads and additions were opened up, and his awards and decisions giving universal satisfaction, he is well qualified to fill the office of Assessor, and if elected will choose as his assistants those competent to carry out his ideas of fair and just assessments and lower and equal taxes.

While not being able to be called a veteran of the wars, he is nevertheless one of those dauntless veterans of the patriotic and loyal work and endeavor that always put Portland and Oregon over the top first and foremost, and his reward is the high regard and esteem of those who know and worked with him. His decorations consist of the official badge or insignia issued for each and every "drive" for he was an indefatigable worker in all 1916 American, his friends and acquaintances are working and doing their utmost to put a competent and deserving man in an office which he will fill with satisfaction to all. He is seeking the office, not as a reward for duty well done, but as one competent to keep step in the onward trend of the upbuilding of this community.

is recommended for your consideration. His past reputation is his guarantee for the future.

He is recommended particularly on account of the way he sacrificed to serve his country while his opponent enjoyed all the comforts of home, an income from a lucrative practice and pay from a public office.

All else being equal, give the ex-service man preference.

Hamaker's Telegram to The President

"Portland, Ore., May 6.—Primary election May 21. Please wire whether you consider it important to nominate candidates pledged to ratify Versailles treaty without Lodge reservations. (Signed G. E. Hamaker, Chairman Multnomah County Democratic Central Committee.)

The President's Reply

Hon. G. E. Hamaker, Chairman Multnomah County Democratic Central Committee, Portland, Oregon. The White House, Washington, D. C., 8 P. M., May 9, 1920.

I think it imperative that the party should at once proclaim itself the uncompromising champion of the nation's honor and the advocate of everything that the United States can do in the service of humanity. That it should therefore endorse and support the Versailles Treaty and condemn the Lodge reservations as utterly inconsistent with the nation's honor and destructive of the world's leadership which it had time that the party should proudly avow that it means to try, without flinching or turning at any time or way from the path for reasons of expediency, to apply moral and Christian principles to the problems of the world. It is trying to accomplish social, political and international reforms and is not daunted by any of the difficulties it has to contend with.

Let us prove to our late associates in the war that at any rate the great majority party of the nation, the party which expresses the true hope and purpose of the people of the country, intends to keep faith with them in peace as well as in war. They gave their treasures, their best blood and everything that they valued in order, not merely to beat Germany, but to effect a settlement and bring about arrangements of peace which they have now tried to formulate in the treaty of Versailles. They are entitled to our support in this settlement and in the arrangements for which they have striven.

The League of Nations is the Hope of the World
As a basis for the armistice, I was authorized by all the great fighting nations to say to the enemy that it was our object in proposing peace to establish a general association of nations under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike, and the covenant of the League of Nations is the deliberate embodiment of that purpose of the Treaty of Peace.

The chief motives which lead us to enter the war will be defeated unless that covenant is ratified and acted upon with vigor. We cannot in honor whittle it down or weaken it as the Republican leaders of the Senate have proposed to do. If we are to exercise the kind of leadership to which the founders of the republic looked forward and which they depended upon their successors to establish, we must do this with courage and unalterable determination. They expected the United States to be always the leader in the defense of liberty and ordered peace throughout the world, and we are unworthy to call ourselves their successors unless we fulfill the great purpose they entertained and proclaimed.

The True Americanism, the only true Americanism, is that which puts America at the front of free nations and redeems the great promises which we made the world when we entered the war, which was fought, not for the advantage of any single nation or group of nations, but it is in this way we shall redeem the sacred blood that was shed, and make America the force she should be in the councils of mankind. She cannot afford to sink into the place that nations have usually occupied and become merely one of those who scramble and look about for selfish advantage.

The Democratic party has a great opportunity to which it must measure up. The honor of the nation is in its hands.
