

EPISCOPAL SCHOOL SUIT HAS BEEN SET FOR TRIAL IN JUNE

With the entry today of W. T. Slater into the case for the board of school trustees against Dr. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, the proposed setting of a trial date, scheduled for Friday, of the long-pending litigation involving the Bishop Scott school for boys, was upset and the case will go to trial June 16. Slater asked that the matter be put over until fall, but Dan J. Malarkey, of counsel for Morrison, resisted this.

The court directed that Slater file his proposed new amended petition before June 1.

The plaintiff is the corporate body created by the diocesan convention of the diocese of Oregon for the management and control of the Bishop Scott school for boys. The defendant is the Rev. A. A. Morrison, a clergyman of prominence in this diocese and vice chairman of the board of school trustees. The gist of the charge is that Dr. Morrison "concocted and carried out, in violation of his duties as one of said trustees, a wrongful, unlawful and fraudulent scheme and plan to make a secret profit for himself, by acquiring in his own name, and in the name of a farm known as 'The Oaks,' at $40 an acre and then endeavoring to persuade the other members of the board to purchase, ostensibly from Bland Horning, but in fact from Dr. Morrison himself, 'at an outrageous and exorbitant price' of $250 an acre, 100 acres of this farm.

Dr. Morrison makes denial of all allegations of wrong doing on his part, and sets forth that at the meeting of the board when the decisive action was taken regarding the purchase of the land there were present the Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, bishop of the diocese; the defendant, the Rev. A. A. Morrison; the Rev. J. E. H. Simpson and John K. Kollock.

"Let's burn 'em up" during the Shrine convention in June, writes R. G. Littler of the West Coast Engineering company in a communication filed Tuesday with City Auditor George R. Funk, asking that the city cooperate with the county in outfitting all bridges crossing the Willamette with lights.

"For the love of Pete let's have all the lights all the time during convention week," continues Littler. He asks that all streets be cleaned, that new lamps be installed in all sidewalk electricians and that every light in the downtown district be kept burning during convention time. The communication will come before the council at the regular meeting May 26.
