

ONLY BROTHER OF SAINT AT SERVICE OF CANONIZATION

By Edgar Ansel Mowrer
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
Rome, Italy, May 12.—(Delayed)—This is the greatest honor that can happen to any family and I wanted to live to see it. Now if God wanted to call me I die content." So spoke to me today a little bearded doctor, 56 years old, unique in the world as the only living brother of a saint. His name is Michele Possenti and he lives in Ancona but is now in Rome with a group of 20 odd relatives for tomorrow, Ascension day, his brother, Francesco, will be canonized in the Church of St. Peter and will henceforth be known as St. Gabriel of Our Lady of Seven Sorrows. Eagerly the old man with eager eyes told me many anecdotes of his brother.

"When did Gabriel's reputation for sanctity first begin?" I asked.
"Immediately after his death," was the reply. "I was a doctor of Morovalle, where he was first brought up, told me that there must be something extraordinary about Gabriel, because hundreds of persons brought to him not only infirmities to be cured, but money, and they would not bring money unless they were convinced that Gabriel was a saint."

"Did you personally ever assist in any of his miracles? Did you ever personally, during your brother's lifetime, suspect that he was a saint?"
"Not at first, but when once I visited him while he was a novice at Morovalle I said to myself that he was either a saint or a fool."

From old Michele and Gabriel's printed biography I learned the following: Francesco Possenti, the eleventh child, was born in Assisi in 1838 and was baptized at the same font at St. Francis. He grew up in Spoleto, a generous, intelligent boy, but quick to anger and inclined to disobedience. He began to feel the call of religion early, but it was not until after the death of a sister that he was actually drawn to it. Then, kneeling one day before an image of the Virgin in Assisi, he heard a voice saying, "Francesco, this world is not for you. Your part is religion."

DEATH HIS FONDEST WISH
Henceforth he turned from the world and, against the wishes of his parents, entered the order of the Passionist Fathers in 1856 on the day of Our Lady of Sorrows, whence he took the name, Six years later, while still a novice, his fondest desire was granted and he died of tuberculosis. Gabriel as a novice was pious, generous and fond of poverty. He especially adored the eucharist, the sacred heart and the Virgin mother.

Once he had turned from the world he hated it and urged his father to banish novels from the home and avoid theatres. He was a mystic and so pious that he never raised his eyes from the ground. He was hardly dead when miracles began. He appeared several times to the peasants and cured hundreds of sick, especially those afflicted with rupture.

CURES AND SAVES
Later his body was transferred to the town of Isola, where, above his tomb, are more than 100 rupture bandages left by the cured in sign of their gratitude. Several times saved by Gabriel. Some of those who blasphemed were as readily rewarded as the faithful. His fame filled all of Umbria and Abruzzo, and especially in the neighborhood of Isola it is immense.

Canonization was formerly a matter of tradition, but since the time of Pope Benedict XIV the procedure has been legalized. The candidates, after his death, must first become beatified. When it is shown that during his lifetime he possessed seven virtues and when the church prosecutor, called the devil's advocate, who protects the church from impositions, has recognized his heroic virtue, and when three miracles have been duly attested, then the church, through the pope, permits beatification. The canonization of Gabriel was done in 1908. Since then two more miracles have been attested.

MANY PILGRIMS GATHER
It was a great week for the church. Thousands upon thousands of pilgrims filled Rome's already crowded hotels and were lodged in all the religious institutions. Competition for places at the ceremonies was so great that many of the pilgrims who came in the way from France could not secure admission to the vast basilica of St. Peter.

The canonization of St. Gabriel, as well as of Marguerite Mary Alacoque, a French nun of the Order of Visitation and of Jean of Arc, is proof of the religious fervor aroused by war and suffering. Holy images, banners, medals, buttons and sacred books are shown in profusion everywhere, and the sound of foreign languages makes one feel as if old Rome had returned. This, together with the generally chaotic social conditions, the garbage strewn streets, for the street sweepers are once more on strike, and the presence of many police and soldiers, produced a sensation which it is impossible to describe.

Franc Slumps When N. Y. Report Received
Paris, May 20.—(U. N. S.)—Advices from New York indicating the United States does not desire to underwrite German indemnity according to the plan of the Hythe conference, caused a sharp falling in the value of the franc on the Bourse this afternoon.

Of English invention is a sliding shoe to replace trolley wheels for electric railroads, the claim being that it causes less wear on the wire and is easily replaced when it slips from a wire.

REVOLUTIONISTS TO GET HOT RECEPTION

By Edward Price Bell

London, May 20.—Popular anxiety relative to strikes and sectional political aggression is manifesting itself in many European countries. Americans are already familiar with the organization of the British middle classes to defend themselves in the event of serious strikes and the formation of the British legion to deal with possible violent revolution.

Holland is considering an anti-revolution bill "in view of the probable arrival of agitators from foreign countries." Under this bill an individual is liable to imprisonment for not exceeding five years if, first, he enters into communication with any person or organization in foreign countries for the purpose of causing revolution in Holland; second, introduces into the country large sums of money or jewelry with the object of assisting in sedition; third, if found in possession of articles and documents tending to promote revolutionary disturbances.

WOULD BREAK STRIKES
Denmark has formed a society calling itself "Civic Aid" with a non-political membership drawn from all classes with the object of placing labor and materials at the disposal of the authorities in the event of industrial disputes, lockouts and strikes involving the cessation of activities essential to the community.

The society will be neutral in all disputes, intending merely to act in emergencies to lessen the evils suffered by large sections of the population not directly concerned in the stoppage of work. There are to be two classes of members. One, to work under the orders of the society may only be employed as long as the authorities require its help. Its members are guaranteed remuneration by the society. The other class merely subscribes the funds. One of the first tasks of the society will be that of unloading grain belonging to the state before it is spoiled on account of the seamen's and dockers' strike.

LIKE AMERICAN LEGION
In France a "Union Civique" has been formed to assure the continuance of public service in the case of revolutionary strikes. The aim of the union is to establish voluntary mobilization in order to prevent general strikes. All individuals and associations will be asked to lend their support.

In Belgium, Italy and parts of Germany peaceful society is taking similar measures to protect itself against the effects of big strikes and revolutionary assaults.

Wilson's 14 Points Posted as Protest To Greek Invaders

By Constantine Brown
Special Cable to The Journal and The Chicago Daily News.
Constantinople, Turkey, May 20.—The Turkish and Bulgarian population of Xanthi, the well known tobacco center, received the Greek army of occupation quietly but as a protest hung upon the town hall a huge black-framed poster containing President Wilson's 14 points. All the houses bear mourning signs and activity has ceased. The Greeks are not expected to advance farther into the interior. The nationalists in Anatolia have withdrawn their forces from the Constantinople front and are concentrating in Smyrna.

The government has signed an agreement with the British for the sale of the Hadjiaz railway for 27,000,000 Turkish pounds (about $135,000,000). The Tartar government of Baku is now entirely Bolshevik. M. Merimanoff, a member of the executive body in Moscow, is the prime minister.

THE SIGNAL CORPS SCHOOL
Camp Alfred Vail, N. J.
April 12, 1920.

Dear Rodin,
Yes, I am in the Army now, and here at Camp Alfred Vail, learning telegraph operating and telephone and telegraph repair work. I like the life and I really believe I am fitting myself up for a paying job when my enlistment is up.
The work is laid out so that it reaches the average man and you don't have to be a high-brow to start in.
The school now has ten commissioned instructors, three consulting engineers from civil life, and twenty-four non-commissioned instructors and eighteen privates.
I am a private myself but I can be promoted up to one hundred and five dollars a month, all practically clear money, for everything you need is free.
How are James and Hines? Give my regards to your father.
Let me hear from you some time.
Yours as ever,
Dewey
