

POLAND FURIOUSLY AT WAR WITH TWO DIFFERENT NATIONS

Poland Has Two Wars
International News Service
The new Republic of Poland now has two wars on its hands. Polish and Ukrainian troops are engaged in conflict with soviet Russia on a great battlefield stretching from the Dvina river to the Lower Dnieper river. Vienna reports that war has broken out between the Poles and Czechoslovaks in the disputed Teschen region of what once was Austrian Silesia. So far as known, the allies have not taken any decisive steps to end either of the conflicts in Eastern Europe.

London, May 28.—(I. N. S.)—War between the Poles and the Czechoslovaks has broken out in Teschen, formerly a part of Austrian Silesia, and 1100 men were killed in a battle on Thursday, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Daily Express today.

Fighting with rifles and machine guns has been in progress in the Karwin district since Wednesday and the civil population is in flight.

Czech reinforcements are being rushed up to the front from Ostrava. Entente troops, which were sent into the Teschen district pending a plebcite, were reported by Vienna to be remaining passive.

Near Dobruza the Poles were said to be masters of the situation. The administration that was set up at Karwin, in the Teschen district, is being moved to Udlaw.

Polish and Czechoslovakian officials have made counter charges as to responsibility for the fighting. The original dispute was over rich coal fields in the Teschen district, which both sides claim.

RUSSIAN ATTACKS WITH FRESH DIVISIONS FAIL

London, May 28.—(I. N. S.)—Although the Russian Bolshevik forces on the Dvina river have been attacking continuously for four days with 10 divisions of reinforcements drawn from the Lithuanian and Estonian fronts and the Caucasus, they have been completely halted in the Lake Bereshta region, the Polish war office announced in a communique telegraphed from Warsaw today.

An earlier communique from the Polish war office said that the Russians who crossed the Bereshta river, south of Borisoff, had been cut off by a concentric attack by the Poles, losing several hundred prisoners and many machine guns. The remainder of the Russians fled. The Poles have occupied Krasitouka and Trebuchovo opposite the Kieff Bridgehead.

Lady Astor Takes Seat With Enemy

London, May 28.—(I. N. S.)—Sir William Joynson-Hicks's battle for his corner seat in parliament which had been assigned to Lady Astor during his absence in India, has driven the first woman M. P. across the aisle into the labor section of the house. Will Thorne, Labor M. P., gallantly surrendered his seat to Lady Astor, and she now sits with the "enemy," opposing all their main policies except where they affect women.

SECRET SINN FEIN COURTS DOLE OUT JUSTICE TO IRISH

By William H. Brayden

Ennis, County Clare, Ireland, May 28.—Brian O'Higgins, Eamon de Valera's colleague in the representation of Clare, has taken over the office of Sinn Fein judge for the county and is said to be doing more work than the regular king's judge.

The Sinn Feiners refuse to recognize the British courts and realizing that unless something took place there would be sheer anarchy they instituted courts of their own for every district in the county with a system of appeal.

It looks like playing at law, but there is no play about it. The proceedings are conducted with seriousness and the decisions can be made effective. Regular attorneys even have been known to appear before these courts, though nominally they are officials of the king's courts in Dublin. The whole machinery is secret. It is all against law, but it works. The most important as well as the most trivial cases are dealt with. Disputes about land and rights of way, which used to take days before the king's judge, are disposed of in a few hours. Though the proceedings are formal, mere technicalities are not employed.

The idea always is to reconcile the litigants if possible, instead of giving either side victory, which would bring bitterness. Even where imprisonment is inflicted it is willingly borne and there are no hunger strikes. I heard of a small case in which two men were charged with stealing a barrel of beef from a widow. They were duly tried and ordered to make restitution. They were also sentenced to 48 hours' solitary confinement. They were taken up to the Cliffs of Moher, locked up separately for the time of their sentence in the family burying vault of the Lords Inchiquin.

In another case a well-to-do farmer assaulted another man. Instead of imposing imprisonment the Sinn Fein judge resorted to the old Breton principle and ordered the delinquent to pay the victim 100 pounds (normally $500), and four guineas ($20) to the doctor who attended him. The money was paid. Cattle thieves have been tried by a court-martial of Irish volunteers. The cattle were restored and the thieves paid a penalty as well.

In County Cork 18,000 pounds ($90,000) which was taken from two bank messengers in a raid has now almost all been recovered and will be returned to the bank. The Sinn Feiners, after the police had failed to trace criminals, rounded them up in night raids by volunteers, took them into custody and made them disgorge. The last man who was arrested a day or two ago was found hiding in the mountains with his hoard.

Cuff Ruffles Not Liked
Paris, May 29.—(I. N. S.)—No gentleman will wear ruffles on his evening shirt in Paris, at least this summer. A smart shop on the Avenue de l'Opera tried to boost the fashion by exhibiting in its windows a lot sent over from England with two wide lace ruffles which overlapped the lapels of the coat. The crowds that gathered about those windows guffawed the thing out of Paris.

LEATHER INSIDE STYLE OUTSIDE

WHY Jack O'Leather?

Three Overwhelmingly Good Reasons

FIRST—

Style

—Jack wants a suit with style in every thread.

SECOND—

All-Wool

—Jack's suit must be all wool to assure the smart, shapely lines, the lasting fit, but only all wool and thorough tailoring can give.

THIRD—

Leatherized

—When you pay for a good suit, you want it to WEAR—and the all-around wear of Jack-o'-Leather Suits can only be secured by the

Leather Reinforcements

that are a part of every Jack-o'-Leather Suit. Leather as soft as a glove, more durable than any woven fabric, such as the lining of seats, knees, elbows and pockets—every point where the strain comes is assured EXTRA wear in Jack-o'-Leather Suits.
