

CHICAGO TO REAP GOLD HARVEST AT G. O. P. SESSION

City Pays $125,000 to Land Convention; Return Will Be All of $1,200,000 for Few Days.

Chicago, May 29.—(U. P.)—Bong! Bong! Bong!

When the dinner gong rings in Chicago during convention week at least $60,000 extra will tumble into the coffers of Chicago's eating emporiums.

That's one trifling example of how money will flow when Republicans gather here June 8 to nominate a presidential candidate. With the air filled with patriotic phrases and flapping flags, the delegates and visitors will find some prosaic matters to occupy their minds. Chief among these are sleeping quarters and meals. Also they will find the answer to the query, "How can Chicago afford to raise a $125,000 fund to land the convention?"

HOW CHICAGO WINS

It figures up something like this: There will be at least 50,000 delegates and visitors. Rooms, ranging from $2 to $200 per night, may average $10. Meals and such eatables at theatres and shopping will bring in another average $125. The least Chicago figures on is a return of $1,200,000 a day for five or six days.

The profiteer is unshackled. But the Chicago Chamber of Commerce claimed tonight the familiar dollar grabber will have little chance to operate. The chamber has charge of a room clearing house whereby it will put room hunters in contact with room owners in Chicago. Prices through the bureau will run from $2 up. It was said. There will be no shortage of rooms at comparatively moderate prices, the chamber claimed.

BUT HOTELS—THERE'S THE RUB

Hotel space is a different matter. Rates were hoisted with the demise of J. Barleycorn. They went up again under the operation of the law of supply and demand. Hotels on Michigan avenue, particularly those near the headquarters of nomination seekers, were able to get what they wanted. The national Republican committee gave up one room, when the rate went to $100 a day last week. However, the same space was a different matter, a committee for his personal use.

Along "Presidential row" in the Congress hotel, all rooms went to $100 a day. Candidates' headquarters consist of nine rooms at $900 a day. Governor Lowden has several rooms there. Harding and Edwards each have one.

Albers Milling Co. Employees Gather In Yearly Banquet

The annual banquet of the department heads, salesmen and office employees of the Albers Milling company was held Friday evening, under the auspices of the Albers service committee.

After a short introductory talk by the chairman, George A. Westgate, a program of talks and music was given. Chairman Westgate uncovered a surprising array of talent.

Among the musical numbers was an Irish yodeling song by George Harvey, and several songs by a sextet of Salesmen L. D. Cook, Professor Hazen W. Maynard of the farm service bureau serving as accompanist on the piano.

Several new members of the staff were introduced. Since the previous banquet a number of former employees had returned from the army and navy, and their safe return was welcomed by the chairman.

Dr. Lovejoy Leaves For New York; To Return Next July

Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy left Saturday evening for New York to complete her work there as president of the American Women's Medical association hospital service, and will remain in New York until July. She will then return to Portland to work on an active campaign for election to congress in opposition to C. N. McArthur, the Republican nominee.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL

Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams of San Francisco, who is the first woman to be appointed assistant attorney general of the United States. She now is United States attorney for northern district of California.

Yakima Fruit Men To Build New Box Factory at Kenton

Yakima valley fruit growers will erect a box factory at Kenton on property acquired from the Peninsula Improvement Co., to make the boxes and crates necessary to ship their products, according to announcement made to the Chamber of Commerce Saturday. Few changes will be required at the site selected and work on the mill will start immediately.

The factory will be built by the Bede Lumber company, and construction will be financed by an association of Yakima fruit growers. Machinery for the plant has been ordered from the Sumner Iron works of Everett, Wash., for delivery by June 10. Contracts have been let for improvements on the factory site.

The Yakima growers who are financing the building operations are: D. R. Laughlin and M. Harkman, Zillah, Wash.; Dr. Henry Armstrong Packing Co.; C. G. Pinkerton and associates, Selah, Wash.; and C. O. Carlson, H. R. Leach, T. S. Mason, C. B. Elliott and associates of Yakima.

Portland News to Sell for 2 Cents Instead of 1 Cent

In its Saturday editions, the Portland News announced that, effective June 1, the price of the paper would be increased from 1 cent to 2 cents on the street. For a long time the News had been the only penny paper in the United States, holding down the price in spite of mounting costs of production. The paper announced also that the increased price would apply to copies delivered by carrier and to mail subscribers, with 4 cents a month the rate by carrier and 50 cents a month by mail.

HERDMAN TO BE HONOR GUEST AT WASHINGTON HIGH

Principal Who Has Been at Head of School From First to Be Given Reception June 2.

As a recognition for his services, the students of Washington high will hold a reception Wednesday evening, June 2, in honor of H. H. Herdman, principal of the school. Herdman has been principal of the school since its opening 13 years ago and his efforts along educational lines have spread over the state of Oregon. The speakers will be confined mainly to the alumni with a few outside speakers.

GOSS TO PRESIDE

Walter A. Goss, an old schoolmate of Herdman's, will preside. Superintendent D. A. Grout and Principals T. T. Davis and W. T. Fletcher of the city schools will give short talks. Every class president since February, 1908, will either be present or send a message. These men are scattered far and wide, and it will be a great event to the members of the Alumni to renew their friendships, which were so firmly bound by Herdman's administration.

Lyman Cooley, famous W. H. S. yell leader, will have charge of the yelling. H. H. Boyer will lead the singing, and the remainder of the musical numbers will be under the direction of G. Ingham. Each speaker will be limited to a few minutes. The program will be given in the assembly hall of the school, and will be followed by a general reception in the gymnasium.

CLASS PRESIDENTS NAMED

Alvin K. Bradford, February, 1908; Robert McDonald, February, 1909; Lloyd Brasse, June, 1909; Bryon Houck, February, 1910; Milo Blair, June, 1910; Leonard James, February, 1911; Terry O'Brien, June, 1911; Kenneth Irie, February, 1912; Lowell C. Bradford, June, 1912; June S. Jones, February, 1913; Horace W. Tevis, June, 1913; R. Lloyd Tegar, February, 1914; Wilbur Morrow, June, 1914; Ray R. Staub, February, 1915; Biddle Combs, June, 1915; John W. Beale, February, 1916; Paul Campbell, June, 1916; Frank Norman, February, 1917; Howard A. Dark, June, 1917; Albert Baver, February, 1918; Paul A. Patterson, June, 1918; Albert T. Combs, February, 1919; Elmer R. Goudy, June, 1919; Marcus Young, February, 1920.

G.O.P. WINNER CERTAIN TO BE SECOND CHOICE

various candidates have more or less definite ideas of how they expect the vote to be distributed for their men on the first ballot and after the "break" comes. This "break" is looked for anywhere from the second to the fifth or sixth ballot, but the majority of politicians agreed that it ought to come in the third.

The United Press is able to present for the first time the comparative claims made for the principal candidates by their friends, revised and corrected up to and including tonight. They are as follows:

HOW THEY FIGURE IT

Lowden: First ballot—Alabama 8, Arkansas 13, Colorado 12, Connecticut 13, Delaware 13, Florida 16, Illinois 57, Indiana 6, Iowa 26, Kentucky 25, Louisiana 6, Massachusetts 6, Minnesota 35, Mississippi 12, Missouri 35, Montana 8, Nebraska 2, Nevada 6, New Jersey 4, New York 60, North Carolina 22, Oklahoma 20, Oregon 3, Pennsylvania 23, Rhode Island 4, Tennessee 6, Texas 23, Utah 2, Virginia 15, Washington 14, West Virginia 2, Wisconsin 3, Porto Rico 2, Hawaii 2. Total 557.

HARDING STILL IN RACE

Friends of Senator Warren G. Harding are anxious of the opinion that his chances depend largely upon desertion of support of his rivals in the event a deadlock is threatened. The nucleus of his strength is in Ohio. He is in his home state of Ohio. His backers are depending upon recruiting additional support from such states as Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. When the obligations of senators are discharged to first choice candidates of their delegations, a further "break" is believed to be imminent.

Herbert Hoover and Senator Philander C. Knox can only be placed in the "dark horse" category, since there is possibility that they will be recruited on the initial ballot. The usual crop of rumors is flourishing regarding such possible "dark horses" as Charles Evans Hughes, William Howard Taft, Senator James Watson, Governor Calvin Coolidge and Governor William C. Springer.

According to the latest available information from non-partisan sources, the indicated strength of the various candidates on the first ballot is: ROOSEVELT 100,000; WOOD 100,000; LOWDEN 100,000; JOHNSON 100,000; HARDING 100,000; SUTHERLAND 100,000; POINDEXTER 100,000; and the remainder of the 122 contested delegates and includes the following appointments of positively instructed delegates:

Wood 123, Johnson 113, Lowden 83, Harding 39, Sutherland 16, Poindexter 14.

Hearings on contested delegations will be taken up by the Republican national committee Monday, and are expected to last about four days. The committee will then make up the temporary roll of the convention and its findings in the contest will be referred for final decision to the credentials committee, which will be appointed after the convention gets under way.

Mrs. Emily J. Marsh Is Dead at Home of Her Daughter in City

Mrs. Emily J. Marsh, mother of Mrs. Maud L. Richards, teacher at Benton Polytechnic school, and Miss Ethel Marsh, teacher at Lincoln high school, died Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richards, 550 East Everett street, at the age of 66 years.

Mrs. Marsh was born in Agency, Wapello county, Iowa. She spent her girlhood at Colfax and was married to David Marsh in 1871. He was sheriff of Whitman county. He died in 1888. Besides her two daughters, Mrs. Marsh is survived by son, Harry Marsh of Hoquiam, Wash.; her mother, Mrs. Rosabelle Larwood of Eugene; a brother, T. H. Larwood of Eugene; a sister, Mrs. George Cummings of Hood River, and two grandchildren.

Alice King Merrill, sister of Mrs. Albert Ely of Portland, died May 23 at Evanston, Ill., at the age of 81 years. Mrs. Merrill spent nearly a year in Portland in 1910 and made a large number of friends here. She was the widow of Daniel D. Merrill, formerly of St. Paul, Minn. She is survived by a daughter, Harriet, and son, George E. Merrill of Montclair, N. J. Interment was in New York.

George F. Felts, 195 Twenty-first street, died Friday at the age of 83 years. Felts was born at Fort Wayne, Ind., and had lived in Oregon 15 years, engaging in the practice of law. He was formerly attorney for Meier & Frank's credit department. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Arlene Felts, and a daughter, Josephine Felts. Funeral services will be held at Finley's Tuesday morning at 11:30.

Burglary Charges Filed Against Two Suspects by Police

Formal charges of burglary were filed against Guy H. Lamberton and Elmer E. Zimmerman Saturday afternoon by Inspectors Phillips and Tackaberry. The two were arrested Friday at 540 Walnut street, where the police recovered about $8000 worth of woolen cloth, alleged to have been stolen from the Portland Wool warehouse, 105 Union avenue north, last Monday night.

Police say Lamberton imposed on his uncle, Robert Leffel, and stored the cloth in his basement on Monday night, after Leffel had retired for the night. Leffel declares he did not arise when Lamberton asked permission to put a camping outfit in the basement for a few days. The "outfit" was covered with a huge piece of canvas. Leffel declares he did not lift the canvas to see what was underneath, believing the pile to be a camping outfit.

CONTESTS WILL BE FEATURES OF BOY SCOUT WEEK

Tenth Birthday Anniversary of American Organization Being Observed by Portland Scouts.

The tenth birthday anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will be celebrated in Portland this week, known nationally as Boy Scout week, when Portland people will be informed as to the purpose and aims of the Boy Scout movement and just what the scouts are doing for the community.

As to recent accomplishments, Executive Secretary James Brockway points with pride to the clean-up campaign which the business clubs, the fire department, really board and other organizations connected with it admit would have been a failure except for the scouts, as many communities had no boys turn out whatever, except scouts.

DEMONSTRATIONS PLANNED

During the same week the scouts put up more than 1000 posters in store windows and other public places for the forest protection week campaign, and placed thousands of forest protection stickers on automobile wind-shields.

The Scouts are securing thousands of signatures to the initiative petition for the Roosevelt bird refuge. They are cleaning up the cemeteries this week for the G. A. R. and will assist in the decoration of graves and the program at the auditorium on Monday. They will cooperate with the G. A. R. in many of the Sunday school and church programs today.

The boy scouts will hold their annual field rally at the baseball park Tuesday, June 15, from 1 to 5 p. m. when competition will be held in fire building, wall scaling, signaling, archery, and demonstrations of first aid and life saving.

Prospects for Reed College Are Bright, Students Are Told

Prospects for next year at Reed college are bright, according to E. B. MacNaughton, of the board of regents, who spoke before a student assembly Thursday morning, and who intimated that students will return to Reed in September to find a capable president in the office, and finances in a healthy condition for the year.

"There is an increasing number of Portland business men who are desirous of Reed's well being," said MacNaughton, "and indications are that the college will offer added courses next year with an adequate instructional staff."

Election of courses for next year followed the talk and students signed for their choice of courses. Several preferences among courses not now given at Reed.

UNDERTAKES TO AID LUMBER MARKETING

Shad O. Krantz, who has been in charge of the publicity department of the West Coast Lumbermen's association at Seattle for the last two years, has just resigned to become manager of the Pacific coast office of the Gulf Coast Lumbermen, an organization devoted to the lumber trade in the Mississippi valley and Southwest, and will have his headquarters in Portland.

Krantz was formerly a well known Portland newspaper man and previous to going to Seattle was connected with the industrial service department of the University of Oregon at Eugene. In his new connection he will cooperate with the lumber manufacturers on the coast in extending their markets into the Middle Western and Southwestern states. He will begin his new work about June 1.

Purchase of Park Site Is Planned by City of Portland

An ordinance authorizing the purchase of the 10-acre Ida Krueger tract, adjoining the Creation school, for $12,040 will be introduced before the city council next Wednesday by Commissioner Pier, in charge of the park bureau. The ordinance was filed with City Auditor Funk on Saturday.

The land is assessed at $8,500 and will be used as a playground site for the children of the district. Condemnation proceedings on the 12-acre Vernon district, assessed at $22,270, will be instituted in the circuit court within a few days, according to Deputy City Attorney Tomlinson. The playground is expected to serve both the children of the Rose City Park and Irvington districts. The 17-acre Vernon district, owned by Moy Back Hin property in Vernon also be started soon, says Tomlinson. He has already filed papers and is awaiting the arrival of several defendants in the suit. The land is assessed at $29,500.

WASHINGTON AND OREGON MILLS ARE CONSTANTLY BUSY

New Business in Sight Expected to Keep Lumber Camps Going Until Middle of the Summer.

Lumber mills of Western Oregon and Western Washington are continuing their steady production and probably will run full until the mid-summer period of inactivity, which usually occurs early in July. Production for the week ending May 22 aggregated 89,429,662 feet, which was only 3,834,338 feet or 4.21 per cent below normal, according to the weekly bulletin of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

The total volume of new business accepted was 66,112,145 feet and total shipments amounted to 69,953,978 feet, with 138 mills contributing to the report. The same mills have on their books a balance of $608 cars or 358,240,000 feet of rail orders awaiting shipment. Total rail shipments for the week were 48,810,909 feet or 16,227 cars. Rail orders received were 36,630,000 feet or 1221 cars. Cargo business accepted during the week aggregated 26,625,221 feet, of which 19,183,391 feet are to be exported and 16,436,830 feet delivered to California. The balance of cargo orders remaining on the books of the mills after the week's deliveries was 14,459,434 feet, of which 63,244,124 feet was domestic and 85,225,410 feet export business. The monthly stock report of the association shows the industry as a whole has approximately a normal volume of stocks on hand, although they are short of some of the higher grade items.
