

10,000 MEMBERS OF T. P. A. WILL BE HERE FOR SESSION

Business Men From All Parts of Country to Hold Convention Week Before Shriners Gather.

Nearly 10,000 visitors from over the entire country are expected in Portland the week of June 13, when the thirty-first national convention of the Travelers' Protective association opens. For the first time since 1902 the convention will meet in Portland.

Night and day have the Oregon and Washington division members been working to get everything in readiness for the big convention, which will occur the week immediately preceding that of the Shrine. The program is a week of business and entertainment.

On seven special trains will the delegates arrive on Sunday evening, June 12. They will be met by a Portland delegation and escorted to the Multnomah hotel, which will be the official headquarters for the T. P. A. Sunday evening the Multnomah Guard band will give a concert at the Multnomah for the visitors.

WILL HAVE PARADE

The routing problem has never bothered the T. P. A. Long ago, when first the convention was contemplated, members lined up hotels and rooming accommodations for the convention, and when the Shriners and others began to worry, the T. P. A. were high and dry.

The convention will open Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Registration and the presentation of souvenirs and ticket books will have taken place the evening before. Monday afternoon at 2:30 the T. P. A. and industrial parade will occur. Besides the local floats there will be divisions by states, and the members of the association will all be in the line of march. A first prize of $100 has been offered for the best float; for the second best will be given $50; the division in the parade having traveled the greatest aggregate number of miles will receive a prize of $50; the second greatest number of miles represented will bring $25 to the division; the division making the best showing will get $25.

ROSE TEA IN GARDEN

Monday evening a dance and entertainment will be given at the Multnomah for the delegates and their wives and families.

On Tuesday the business session will be held in the morning, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. A luncheon will be given for the women in the assembly room of the Multnomah at 12:30 p. m. At 2 o'clock the delegates will be taken for a visit to the municipal terminals and industrial plants in the Peninsula district. A banquet will be given to the state presidents and state secretaries associations at 6:30 p. m. at the Imperial hotel.

Both the forenoon and afternoon of Wednesday, June 16, will be devoted to business sessions. The women will be entertained by the auxiliary in the afternoon with a rose tea in the sunken rose garden. In the evening at 8 o'clock a banquet will be given to all delegates and their families at the Auditorium. At 8 o'clock the delegates and members will have a picnic, while the women visitors will be entertained at a theatre party at the Hellig.

TO TAKE HIGHWAY TRIP

Thursday morning the convention will be devoted to business. In the afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock, the visitors will be taken on a trip up the Columbia River highway. For this trip the association needs 500 automobiles, and it will appreciate the offer of any machine which the owner will loan for the occasion. On the return trip the machines will stop at Crown Point chalet, where there will be a banquet to the national officers at 6 p. m.

The business of the association will be finished up Friday. In the afternoon the auxiliary will furnish entertainment to the visiting women. Saturday will be turned over to sightseeing trips and entertainment of the guests. The city will be decorated for the occasion with T. P. A. emblems strung for 50 blocks at the street intersections in the business district. The elaborate lighting system worked out by the Shrine will also be used a week in advance for the benefit of the T. P. A.

2000 MEMBERS IN STATE

The rose garden in the park blocks will be in full swing under the joint auspices of the several conventions and the Rose Festival association, so that the city will be in full gala attire. The association needs donations of roses to carry out its plan of providing a fresh rose bouquet each morning in every room occupied by visiting T. P. A. Those who have roses they can supply

Big Road Program Of Linn Held Up by Low Bond Market

Albany, Or., May 29.—Twenty-one miles of hard road, the opening of a paving program and several other highway improvements are planned by the Linn county court for the coming summer and fall.

Action on all county projects, however, will be delayed as the county issue of $100,000 in bonds is not disposed of. At the time advertised for acceptance of bids none were submitted and Albany banks underwrote $25,000 worth of the bonds to forestall delay in the work.

Among the projects are: Paving of four miles of the Pacific highway between Albany and Tangent. Paving of four miles of road between Greens bridge and Munkers station. Grading of the highway between Tangent and Shedd. Grading of the road from Crabtree to Seio.

The market roads will be built with state aid.

Commencement at O. A. C. Is to Be Held On Tuesday, June 8

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 29.—Commencement exercises will be held Tuesday, June 8, preceded by events incorporated into "Senior week." Senior convocation occurs Wednesday, the last big meeting before commencement. The traditional moving up of classes when the seniors take seats on the platform will be observed. "Alumni day" will be Saturday, with class reunions, the annual meeting of the Alumni association, and the Alumni banquet. A record crowd of "old timers" is expected.

The CHENEY

The voice of the Cheney is like the song of birds—clear, serene, satisfying. The natural and human-like quality of the Cheney tone is due to the fact that in the Cheney are embodied the old well-known principles of pipe organ and violin construction. Prof. Cheney, the musician, has built an instrument free from the scratch and grind which has been so objectionable in the ordinary phonograph.

TIN-CANLESS CITY POSSIBLE IF LAWS ARE CARRIED OUT

Complaint of Citizen That Portland Is Too Badly Littered Up Brings Out Legal Opinion.

Law in plenty guards against belittlement of streets and lots, according to an opinion which City Attorney W. P. La Roche gives today in answer to a query from a Journal correspondent.

Enforced law, it is apparent, could make Portland the weedless, tin-canless and spotless city. The complaint which prefaces the opinion comes from E. E. Brackney and reads:

MORE NOISE THAN WORK

"During one week of the year the people of Portland make a great outcry about cleaning the streets and beautifying the homes of the city. During the remaining 51 weeks they—or at least many of them, seem to work very industriously toward littering it up again. Glass tin cans, papers, sawdust and every conceivable movable thing is left in the streets and as if not satisfied many persons sweep off all accumulations from about their sidewalks into the gutters to rot and fill up drains. There it remains until the city can remove it at public expense. This it seems to the writer ought not to be and the question is raised: What steps can be taken by ordinance not only to penalize persons for doing this, but also to make them clean around the premises they occupy, at regular stated intervals and as much more frequently as the proper authorities deem necessary. That is to say:

First, fine persons guilty of sweeping or throwing refuse on the streets and gutters, and then

Second, compel them to take regular days or times and sweep the entire street or at least the gutters around their premises.

"If something of this kind can be enforced our taxpayers can be greatly relieved of the burden of cleaning the streets and at the same time, the city will be greatly beautified and benefited.

PENALTY IS PROVIDED

"Answering your note of the 1st instant, enclosing letter from E. E. Brackney in The Oregon Journal, in regard to glass, tin cans and other rubbish in streets and gutters, we beg to advise that article II of ordinance 2222 makes it unlawful for any person to throw into or deposit in any streets, sidewalk or public place any junk, ashes, rubbish, litter or waste material except at such places as may be designated by the department of public works, or to throw into or upon any street, sidewalk or public place any glass, crockery, nails or other thing whereby the feet of persons or animals may be injured. Those who violate the provisions of this ordinance are subject to arrest and fine or imprisonment. If the police officers and others officers fail to detect and arrest the offenders, any citizen who detects a person offending against the ordinance may by making application at the city attorney's office in the municipal building, Second and Oak streets, obtain the issuance of a complaint and prosecution of the offender. The greatest point of difficulty in regard to enforcing the ordinance is the difficulty of ascertaining who the offender is. The mere fact that cans or rubbish may be in a street in front of a certain house does not constitute adequate evidence to prove that the owner of the house or the tenant of the house cast the rubbish upon the street, and it usually happens that those who have knowledge of the offender fail to give the necessary information to the authorities or cooperate in prosecuting the offender before the court.

"There are other ordinances which require the cutting of grass from premises, the removal of rubbish and other articles which cause danger of fire or which are detrimental to the public health. There are also provisions which authorize the city engineer in cases where a nuisance exists in the shape of rubbish, cans, etc., upon lots or adjacent street areas, to post notice upon the property requiring the owner or occupant to clear away the rubbish, and in the event of his failure to do so within a prescribed time, then the engineer may clear the premises and adjacent street of rubbish, keep an expense account of the cost and upon reporting the matter to the council, the council is authorized to charge an assessment lien against the property for the expense."

A baseball game in the afternoon and a declamation contest in the evening are to be featured Monday. Tuesday will be given up to field sports during the day and an opera, "The Emperor's Daughter," in the evening.

Wednesday will be given over to an inspection of the industrial and academic departments of visitors, with the play "Sylvia" presented in the evening by the senior class. A competitive military drill will be a feature of Thursday, with the evening devoted to graduation exercises and presentation of diplomas.
