WOOD LOSES DELEGATES IN MISSISSIPPI CONTEST

Wood sought to have a hearing on his claim for recognition as national committeeman.

NOMINATIONS ON THURSDAY
Nominating speeches for candidates are expected to begin on Thursday, leaving Friday and Saturday to be the "big days" of the convention. The balloting and adoption of the platform probably will take the entire two days.

The tentative program was announced as follows:
The national chairman (Will H. Hays of Indiana) will call the convention to order and after a prayer by the Right Rev. Charles E. Woodcock of Louisville, Episcopal bishop of Kentucky, the temporary chairman (Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts) will be introduced. Following his keynote speech there will be announcement of committee.

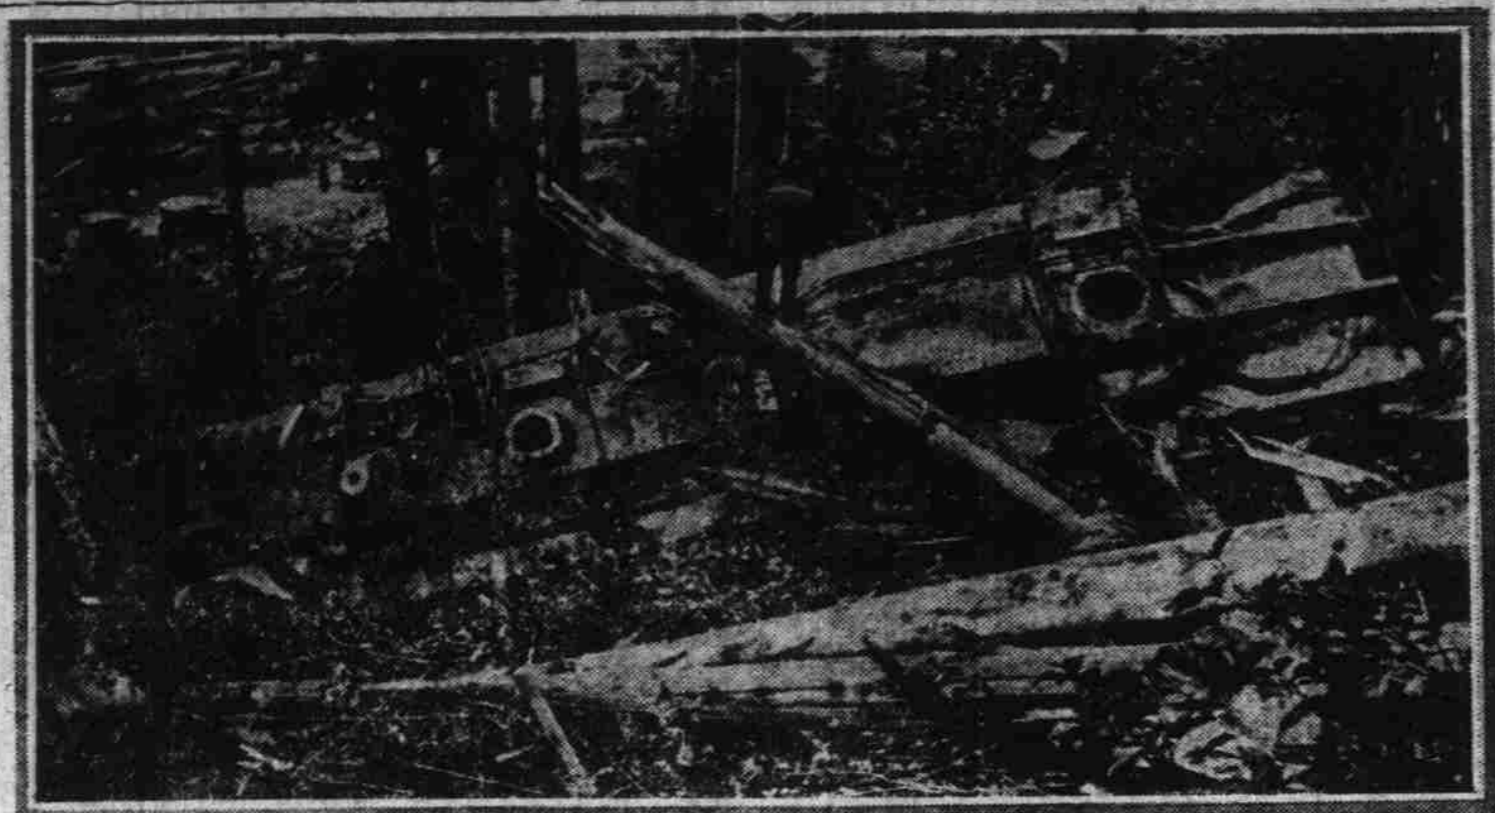

The convention tickets and special badges were being wrapped today for state delivery. There will be about 75 packages in all.
The committee announced today that there are more than 150 applicants for the 12,389 seats in the Coliseum, and more than 1100 applications for the 576 press seats.

LOWDEN IS VICTORIOUS IN ALABAMA AND ARKANSAS
Chicago, June 2.—The score stood 8 to 2 in favor of Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois when the Republican national committee resumed its hearings on contested seats for the national convention today. Seven of the Illinois governor's delegates in Arkansas and one in Alabama have been seated by the committee as against two for General Wood from the District of Columbia.

The two cases represent the only contests actually decided by the committee in two days. Progress has been so slow that beginning tonight sessions will be held nightly until all the contests are out of the way. The Lowden and Wood factions are practically the only ones involved in the contests. Senator Hiram Johnson's candidacy is involved in but two from the tenth district of Minnesota. Members of the national committee are beginning to manifest considerable impatience with the status of the contesting factions. In almost every case the contests come from the South and are the result of local factional fighting. In most of them the racial question is predominant.

The general dissatisfaction with the contests, particularly noticeable among the so-called "old guard" members, was voiced by Joseph Keating of Indiana, one of the guarantors.
"Every four years," he said, "we come up here and spend hours of valuable time on these contests. We see the same faces every year. The same factions from Southern states are seen here year after year and all this time is spent upon

ELECTRIC ENGINES TAKE 300-FOOT PLUNGE

Wreck of one of two big locomotives on Milwaukee line in Cascade mountains a few miles west of the divide. The locomotives rolled over and over more than 20 times before coming to rest. Of six men on them five were injured, one seriously, and one escaped entirely.

On Sunday, May 23, at 10:30 a. m., two huge electric locomotives of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway plunged from the track in the Cascade mountains a few miles west of the divide when the roadbed, weakened by heavy rains, gave way, and the two heavy engines rolled over and over down the mountainside, coming to rest finally 200 feet below the right-of-way in a position close to the Sunset highway. A passing motorist saw the wreck and took the accompanying pictures with his kodak.

states which have never delivered one electoral vote to the Republican party." The contests from Georgia, with 17 delegates; Florida, with eight; Minnesota, with two; Missouri, with four; Mississippi, with 15; North Carolina, with 22; and Oklahoma, with six, were taken up by the committee today. There is a manifest desire to be "regular" and discourage rebellion factions.

FLORIDA PROVES SNARL
The first case to be considered today was that of Florida. The evidence was fully presented Monday, but the legal technicalities were such that it was referred to a sub-committee. This body reported yesterday that further evidence was required to clear up certain points regarding the claims of the regular delegation of eight, headed by George W. Bean and Daniel T. Gerow, and the first contesting delegation under H. L. Anderson. The former is supposed to be for Major General Leonard Wood and the latter merely anti-Wood. The second contesting delegation, of which W. L. Van Dusen is chief, was practically eliminated by the subcommittee's report. It was reported to favor Governor Frank O. Lowden.

GEORGIA IS NEXT
The next case will be that of the contest over 15 of the 17 delegates from Georgia, which was referred to a sub-committee late yesterday. This was practically a clean-cut fight between a Lowden delegation headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, an Atlanta negro, and a Wood delegation led by Roscoe Pickett of Jasper.
The case of 12 contesting delegates from Louisiana hinged upon an application by Frank C. Labit for rehearing of his claim for recognition as national committeeman, which was decided against him in favor of Emile Kuntz of New Orleans by the national committee January 10, 1919. Several of the committeemen contended yesterday that the only point of issue was which one of the delegations was elected by the Kuntz organization, as apparently both state

Six men aboard the locomotives, which were eastbound to pick up trains, had a miraculous escape from death. Five were injured, one of them seriously. As the heavy engines turned over more than twenty times in their deadly plunge down the mountainside, sweeping boulders aside and snapping off giant trees as though they were toothpicks, the fact that the men did not lose their lives is considered marvelous. The engine being propelled by electricity the current was shut off the instant conventions were otherwise conducted strictly according to the party rules. So far only 10 of the 151 delegates affected by the contents have been placed on the temporary roll of the convention. Of these, Lowden won seven from Arkansas and one from Alabama the first day, while Wood benefited by two from the District of Columbia yesterday.

propositions from the managers down to the common labor. It is also given full power to discharge any or all of them as it pleases.
Two members constitute a quorum and by the act the governor is made the permanent chairman. Section 4 of the act provides further that:
"All rules, orders, regulations, by-laws and written contracts, adopted or authorized by the commission, shall, before becoming effective, be approved by the governor, as chairman, and shall not be in force unless approved by him."
Since the passage of the law, Attorney General William Langer has been ousted as the attorney for the commission by Governor Lynn J. Frazier, although the act specifically provides that: "The attorney general shall act as attorney for the commission."

This was the result of a break between Langer and the Non-partisan league. The other member of the commission is John N. Hagen, commissioner of agriculture.
Langer's break with the league has not affected the commission, because of the provision that two members would constitute a quorum.
The secretary of the commission is Oliver Morris, Socialist, brought to North Dakota from Seattle and appointed by the two league members of the commission.

Official Lead of Johnson Over Wood Is Given as 2393
Salem, Or., June 2.—Senator Hiram Johnson leads General Leonard Wood by a plurality of 2393 in the Oregon presidential preference vote as officially canvassed by the secretary of state's office here late last night. The official figures give Johnson 46,183 and Wood 43,770. Governor Frank O. Lowden received a total of 15,581 votes, while 14,157 Oregon Republicans voted for Hester Hoover.

Henry Cabot Lodge was easily the choice of Oregon Republicans for vice president with total vote of 58,614 against 30,931 for Washington and 18,179 for Webster.

Despite armed with revolvers quelled the prisoners.

COURT ROAD HEAD RESIGNS POSITION

Oregon City, June 2.—Hal Randa, in charge of the county road work, resigned this morning as the result of what is reported to be friction between himself and the county court. It is said that the members of the court expected more of him than he was able to do.

County Judge Anderson declined to comment on the resignation, other than to say that successor has been chosen. Meantime, it is said, the road forces are disorganized, the 10 to 15 engineers being without a head.

Hands will enter the private practice as a hydraulic engineer as soon as his successor is named.
County road work is being delayed, according to county officials, by the suit filed to test the bond issue recently voted.

Filipinos Protest Against Provisions Of Marine Measure

Washington, June 2.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Secretary Baker has written Senator McNary that Philippine commercial interests are protesting against the provision of the merchant marine bill extending the coastwise trade to the islands, on the ground that this would confine transportation of freight to and from the United States to American bottoms and certainly result in increasing rates.
It is noted that under the bill the president may postpone the operation of the law until a larger part of the bill is sufficient number, but the war department believes this imposes a duty on the president which congress should assume.

It is also asked that Filipinos be given the same rights in shipping as American citizens, so Filipinos may serve as officers and crew on the ships of the United States. The letter came to Senator McNary as one of the conferees on the merchant marine bill.

100 Policemen to Be Added to Force In Festival Period

Portland will have 100 extra policemen attached to the regular force during the festival week to help preserve order among the crowds expected to be in the city.

Mayor Baker this morning, with the consent of other members of the council, directed that an ordinance be drawn providing for the hire of the hundred men to serve for eight days, beginning Saturday, June 19.

"Our police force will be inadequate to handle the situation at that time, and a hundred men extra will hardly be enough," said the mayor. "As it is, the regular police will be required to work night and day."
The extra men will be paid $5 a day and the extra expense to the city will be in the neighborhood of $4000.
