

DEADLOCK WOULD BRING NEW MAN OUT AT CHICAGO

Sproul, Lenroot, Coolidge, Allen, Hughes and Kellogg Listed as Promising Dark Horses.

By Carl Smith
Chicago, June 5.—It estimates of the strength of Republican candidates for the presidency are correct, and the convention goes into deadlock with Wood, Johnson and Lowden eliminated, the prevailing opinion is that the delegates will turn to a "new" man, passing over the minor candidates who rank merely as favorite sons.

With the three leaders out, their inability to win demonstrated after six or eight ballots, the convention will be in a mood to try out the speed of the dark horses. There are few who believe that any of the lesser active candidates will be able to command any large strength. So Harding of Ohio, Butler of New York, Poindexter of Washington and Sutherland of West Virginia are all regarded as virtually impossible.

LIVE ONES SUGGESTED
The question then comes to the list of available remaining in the background. Many are mentioned, but who are the "live ones"? The most promising on the eve of the convention are Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, Governor Allen of Kansas, and Charles E. Hughes of New York.

Coolidge came into prominence largely on the "law and order" issue in Massachusetts, and after all things are weighed it seems unlikely that the Republican party will desire to name a candidate who starts with the certainty of opposition by organized labor. It is contended by labor that Coolidge went beyond mere "law and order" and applied repressive measures that stamp him unfriendly to labor.

The same reasoning applies to Governor Allen, whose nomination would subject the Kansas industrial court into the campaign as a leading issue and bring the active opposition of organized labor.

Governor Sproul seems so far not to be the center of any particular conflict. He worked in combination with the Wood forces in Pennsylvania, stands well with Senator Penrose, and has the active support of Gifford Pinchot. The Sproul movement is worth watching.

LENROOT CONSIDERED
Another likely possibility is Lenroot. He has been identified with the progressives, but does not lean over far enough to offend the conservatives. He was a leading figure in the treaty fight, and is ranked as one who really believed in the treaty, with the Lodge reservations added. His long legislative experience finds favor with those who argue that knowledge of law making and law makers is needed.

Kellogg is also counted a progressive, but he lacks the aggressiveness of Lenroot, and his reputation has not been much enhanced by his service in the senate. He wobbled so noticeably on the peace treaty that his influence was somewhat dissipated.

It is conceivable that Hughes may figure prominently before the fight is over, based on the belief that he is entitled to another chance and that in ability he ranks far ahead of many of the others.

FLORAL PARADE ATTRACTS MANY FESTIVAL AUTOS

Gorgeous Decorated Car in Non-Competitive Class Assured; Attractive Floats Being Lined Up

Assurance of a gorgeous decorated automobile, entered in the non-competitive section of the 1920 floral parade, has been made by Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, chairman of the women's committee in charge of entries for this parade.

Mrs. Corbett will not enter a car in competition with other entries. She is anxious to do her share in providing private car entries which will send visitors away satisfied that in no other region of the globe are beautiful flowers in such profusion as in Portland.

Interest in the floral parade is gaining ground each day. Headquarters of the Rose Festival association, 506 Henry building, are receiving new entries daily. A beautiful decorated float, together with six or eight decorated private automobiles, will represent the Irvington district. Alameda district will enter a decorated float and several automobiles.

The Hellenic Commercial league, composed of enterprising Greek business men of Portland, has arranged to enter a large float, which will be escorted by two decorated touring cars. The escorting cars will be in the non-competitive class, being entered to carry out the scheme of the Hellenic league.

The Elks will make an entry of a float which will cost in excess of $500. The Security Benefit association, better known as the Knights and Ladies of Security, will be represented by two entries, one by the Kirkpatrick council No. 327, and the Anchor council No. 748.

Individual entries are being filed each day by residents of Portland, actuated by civic pride and liberal cash prizes, including a cash prize of $500.

Flight Record From Marshfield Broken By Curtiss Oriole
With F. R. Harding as pilot and Mrs. Mahoney and Dannie Greto as passengers, the Curtiss Oriole, K. 8, 160 horsepower motor, of the Oregon, Washington & Idaho Airplane company, broke all records in speed with that type of plane and over that particular character of country, in its flight Saturday from Marshfield to Portland.

CITY PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN TO BE THROWN OPEN

Special Attention Will Be Paid to Instruction for Boys and Girls in Athletic Work.

Complete with equipment and directors, the 16 city playgrounds will be opened to the children next Saturday by the park bureau. William H. Knapp, playground supervisor, finished the preliminary work in connection with the summer playground program last week, and the organized play season promises to be the most successful of any since the system was adopted.

The playgrounds are Brooklyn, Columbia, Forester, Irvington, Johnson Creek, Kenilworth, Laurelhurst, Lenta, Lincoln, Mt. Labor, Mt. Scott, North Park, Peninsula, Sellwood, Terwilliger and Washington.

Under the supervision of a man and a woman director, each playground will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. during the summer months. The special work to which most attention will be devoted will be instruction in athletics for boys and girls, working up to a final track meet later in the season. This will be under the direction of a specialist, and the playground will be graded according to age and size.

HANDBALL GAMES PLANNED
Attention will also be devoted to basketball, and all the work will be exhibited at the end of the season. For the championship of the city, there will be handball tournaments in singles and doubles.

A league of playground ball has been arranged for the girls and boys in all parks, and they will play for the city championship.

Towards the end of the season tennis tournaments will also be held. The park championships will first be determined, after which there will be city tournaments to determine the junior male and female champions of the city in singles and doubles.

The finals will be played under direction of the National Lawn Tennis association, this organization offering cups for the champions in both classes and in doubles.

With a view to working up a large pageant at the end of the season, special folk dancing instruction will be carried on throughout the summer.

TO HAVE STORY HOUR
The children's department of public library will conduct the story hour on each playground as usual, under the direction of Miss Millard. There will be stories of birds and flowers and special studies made of the birds on the playgrounds.

Arrangements are being made to take the children who have never been on the Columbia river highway for day trips as far as Benson park.

The swimming tanks at Peninsula and Sellwood will be opened about July 4. The swimming facilities are free. There will be swimming instruction at the tanks and preliminary contests leading up to a series of meets at the close of the season.

Walter Jenkins of the Community service organizations will conduct singing in the various playgrounds during the summer. The schedule for these will be announced later.

CIVIC LEAGUE IN LEAD IN FUND FOR ISOM MEMORIAL

Members Have Subscribed Over $34 to Cause; School Election Topic; Candidates Give Talks.

With a contribution of $54.15 the Oregon Civic league heads the list of civic bodies in contribution to the Mary Frances Isom memorial fund. This contribution was made at the meeting Saturday. The contribution made by the Ad club was $25 and the Progressive Business Men contributed $39. Other organizations have not yet been given opportunity to contribute.

"The School Election" was the subject for discussion at the luncheon, and the program was opened with an address by E. A. Groat, superintendent of public instruction, who urged support for the three-mill tax levy for purchasing sites and erecting school buildings.

There are now 119 portable buildings in use; 27 additional portables have been ordered for elementary schools for September, and 10 portables are needed for high school purposes in September.

PURPOSES ARE STATED
It is for erecting permanent buildings equipped with laboratories, assembly rooms, gymnasiums and other modern conveniences, none of which a portable has, that this levy is asked. Upon motion of General Charles F. Beebe, the league adopted a resolution endorsing the tax measure.

"The several candidates for school director were given six minutes each. Mrs. Francis Sherman said she had been appointed by President Taft to establish a public school system in the Philippines. Later she made a study of educational matters in China and Japan. She has taught as a substitute in the Portland schools for several years.

William F. Woodward urged the re-education of the children of the schools, and he also spoke on behalf of increased salaries for teachers and for the support of the 3-mill tax measure for the erection of new school buildings.

J. N. Peary urged as much individual attention to the needs of pupils as possible. S. A. Murhard, one of the two candidates brought out by the labor organizations, said that he considered the school system a large business enterprise in which pupils, teachers, parents and taxpayers should be protected, and that he would pledge himself to this protection.

SHULL MAKES TALK
Miss Henrietta H. Falling introduced the next speaker, Frank L. Shull, explaining that he had been sought out by a group of public-spirited women, many of them representing leading club and other organizations, as a man eminently qualified to give the schools the best possible service. Shull said that he had been asked to make no promises and had made none and that if elected he would do all in his power to see that the children of the city are provided with the best possible facilities for furthering their education, and that he thought but three elements should enter into consideration in the hiring of teachers—that of training, temperament and character.

Arthur Jones, laborer's second candidate, said he had supported himself and assisted with the support of others since he was 10 years of age, and that his own inability to secure an education made him the more appreciative and that, if elected, he would feel a responsibility to all the people of the state. He declared that there was no place for bigotry of any kind in the public school system.

O. M. Pymmer, who has served on the board for seven years, said he was not so much interested in his reelection as he was in the 3-mill measure, and urged a general support of it. D. C. Lewis spoke the support of all present for Mrs. Sherman.

A. C. Newell, the president, welcomed back to the league Isaac Sweet, for many years one of the league's most valued members, who, with Mrs. Sweet, recently returned from an extended stay in California.

Auto Strikes Two Girls, Inflicting Painful Injuries

Struck down by an automobile driven by Miss M. Seidler of Hillsdale, at Grand avenue and East Morrison street Saturday night, two girls were painfully injured. They were Miss Greta Teague, 20 years old, stenographer at the Marshall-Weiss Hardware company, and Miss Maude Koerber, 18 years old, salesgirl at the Pacific Coast Biscuit company. Both girls reside at 12 East Seventh street.

Miss Seidler was arrested by Police Sergeant Keegan, charged with reckless driving, and released under $10 bail to appear Monday. The police say the girls were struck down in crossing the street when the machine turned into Morrison street rapidly from Grand avenue.

The injured were taken to the city emergency hospital. Miss Teague sustained bruises on the right leg and elbow. The other girl's ankle was sprained and she was also bruised. They were taken to their home in a police machine.

Work of Enlarging Swimming Pool at Oaks Park Begins

A dredger began work Friday on the enlargement of the swimming pool at the Oaks park. Work will be conducted to avoid interference with the swimmers who frequent the pool.

The pool will be dredged to a depth of 15 to 25 feet for an area of 80x120 feet, and the improvement will be completed in a few days. The "cradle" for beginners will be maintained. It has a depth varying up to seven feet for an area of 20x60 feet. The improvement is made to insure ample swimming space when the river is low in August.

ANTI-BONUS BILL AGITATION SCORED BY LEGION HEADS

Fight on Measure Termed Waged in Interest of Wall Street by Oregon Executive Committee.

The Oregon state executive committee of the American Legion, meeting in Portland Saturday, characterized as "pernicious propaganda in the interest of Wall Street," the anti-soldier bonus agitation throughout America, and it was declared that literature being circulated by the "Committee for Aid to Disabled Veterans and Referendum on Bonus" contains deliberate lies.

It was voted to send to all posts of the Legion in Oregon letters explaining the stand of the legion and refuting the statements circulated in the literature referred to.

George A. White, a member of the executive committee and adjutant general of Oregon, declared that he was confident the campaign against the bonus is carried on by a paid lobby "put out and financed by the money interests of the country to avoid heavy taxes on excess profits, or retroactive taxes on war profits."

State Commander William B. Follett said that conditions for the disabled veterans have been improved by emergency legislation and that this improvement is due, in great measure, to the activities of the American Legion.

"It was not until disabled comrades were cared for," said Commander Follett, "that the American Legion brought up the question of a bonus for veterans to place them on a financial plane comparable with the men who stayed home in essential industries and the slackers."

Through cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and J. A. Cranston, general manager of the General Electric company and chairman of the Shreve transportation committee, the railroads have arranged for the opening of the office for validation of tickets of visiting Shriners from the East.
