

ESCAPED CHINESE PRISONER CAUGHT BY LOCAL POLICE

With his right leg broken and with serious internal injuries, Tom Wing, escaped Chinese federal prisoner, was captured in a Chinese restaurant early today by Lieutenant Van Overn and Patrolman Drapeau. Wing refused to discuss his escape with emergency hospital doctors other than saying "Me—fool."

Police, expected to have a hard time finding Wing, as Chinese have been able to conceal prisoners successfully in their north end homes. Wing is being held incommunicado in the city jail pending the arrival of Federal Agent W. E. Kavanaugh from McNeil Island.

Wing and another prisoner, E. A. Gardner, overpowered Kavanaugh and his aide Monday night on a Southern Pacific train and after handcuffing the two officers together, jumped from the train.

Rate Difference in For Hire and Taxis To Inform Visitors

Because of complaints now being received by the mayor that drivers of for hire cars are profiteering and the belief that some will attempt to "gouge" visitors during the conventions, a sign is to be erected at the Union station informing the public of the difference in rates for taxicabs and for hire cars.

"We are not going to play the game for either the taxi or the other fellows," said the mayor, "but we want the visitors to know there is a difference in rates."
