CHAMPION ROSE TO BE AWARDED PRIZE WEDNESDAY

Pageant of Surpassing Beauty To Take Place at Peninsula Park; 1000 Girls Will Dance.

One of the features of the Rose Festival the coming week will be the award of the world's champion rose prize Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Peninsula park. With a pageantry expected to surpass in beauty any previous rose dedication ceremonies in Portland, City Commissioner Pier will make the presentation.

The regular Royal Rosarian dedication of the rose will take place at 4 o'clock the same afternoon. Dr. E. A. Pierce will preside and the new roses, "Freeland Kendrick" and "Imperial Potentate" will be christened. The imperial potentate will christen the rose "Imperial Potentate" and Mrs. George L. Baker will christen the rose "Freeland Kendrick."

In the sunken gardens a pageant will be given under the auspices of the Royal Rosarians, Portland's business men's reception drill corps and the Shrine entertainment committee, headed by Frank McCrillis.

1000 DANCING GIRLS

Maila temple band, El Kahlin temple band and Lulu temple band will give concerts and Robert Krohn's 1000 dancing girls will give a dancing feature. The Cherrians of Salem will give an exhibition drill in honor of the event.

Krohn, who is physical instructor for the public schools of Portland and a noble of the Shrine, has gathered a host of dancing girls together. These girls will give pageants in front of reviewing stands as well as at the park.

ROSE TESTS WELL

The "W Freeland Kendrick" rose was produced by Captain George C. Thomas Jr. of Philadelphia. It is the result of crossing a Caroline Testout and Aviateur Bleriot. It is almost pure white in color with a slight tinge of yellow at the base and a slight pink flush on the reflexed petals. This rose has been successfully tried in various Eastern states and two years ago was sent to the international test gardens in Washington Park for an official test. As a result of this test the judges declared it the second best rose in the test garden for general garden cultivation and the best rose produced by an amateur. Therefore, in addition to being named Wednesday it will receive the silver medal of the American Rose society and the special trophy of the Portland Rose society. Jesse A. Currey, Pacific Coast member of the executive committee of the American Rose society, says the rose will not become popular on the Pacific coast or in the South, as it was produced for gardens in localities having severe winters. It is not really an exhibition rose, but was produced in the effort to breed a strain which would give a profusion of blooms during the entire season. In the test garden last year one bush had 225 blooms, and the records show it was not without blooms from May 25 to November 2. The rose has an average of 109 petals.

POTENTATE IS LOCAL

The "Imperial Potentate" rose is a Portland product, being the work of Albert Clarke of Clarke Bros. It is a large, strong-growing rose and of the true exhibition type, being large and with a long pointed bud. It is the result of a crossing of Ophelia and Hoosier Beauty. In color it is a deep salmon pink, shading to rose, with a tinge of yellow, probably having inherited the same strain of yellow which marks Ophelia. The beauty of the flower lies not so much in the color combination, but in the silvery suffison which is quite noticeable and attractive. This rose has been in the Washington Park test gardens less than a year, and is not yet fully established, but the tests given by Clarke indicates it is a good rose. It appears to be a first class outdoor rose, as it is free from mildew and other disease, has a strong branching habit, with blooms coming single on a long stalk and already this season it has made a growth of 24 inches. It will probably take two years to acquire sufficient stock to disseminate this rose.

The program for Wednesday at Peninsula park is given jointly by the Portland Rose society, Portland Rose Festival directors, bureau of city parks, Royal Rosarians and the general Shrine committee.

The program is:

Hella Temple Will Bring Brass Band; Pep Crew Included

Hella temple is coming from Dallas, Texas, bringing 250 nobles and members of their families to attend the Shrine convention. Hella temple has always sent big delegations to the annual sessions of the imperial council except during the war, when only four representatives and the potentate attended.

To Portland Hella is bringing its huge band and drum corps and its celebrated patrol will give a special series of parades. A "pep" crew will be one of the novel features of the party. In addition to its band, Hella temple has a specially rehearsed saxaphone sextette and trombone octette.

The party will be in charge of Potentate Colby E. Smith and Representatives C. W. Davis, Mike H. Thomas, Sam P. Cochran, James E. Forrest and C. W. Hobson. Hobson is a member of the imperial council.

MURAT TEMPLE'S DEPARTURE WAS EVENT OF GAYETY

Train Lavishly Decorated in the Shrine Colors and With Many Emblems From End to End.

The special train which is bringing nobles of Murat temple and their ladies to the imperial council session at Portland, left Indianapolis at 11:30 Thursday morning amid scenes of gayety. There were 133 uniform men and 103 ladies who, together with the divan and representatives and a few of the members made up a happy party of about 325.

It was a Monon train from Indianapolis to Chicago and the Monon made the most of it by way of decorating the big locomotive in the red, green and yellow bunting constituting the Shrine colors. Shrine emblems were conspicuous on the locomotive and the word "Murat" was painted on the side of the cab and the steam chests. The headlight was decorated with a picture of "Moosha," the celebrated dromedary of Murat temple, and the "cowcatcher" wore huge designs in the shape of the scimitar and crescent of the order and golden standards bore the colors of the Shrine.

A work of Shrine art was the commissary car, the sides of which bore monster designs of desert scenes, the pyramids, cavalcade of camels, etc., and the large lettering informed the entire universe that this was Murat temple of Indianapolis, headed for the oasis of Portland. The observation platform at the rear of the train also carried the Shrine emblems, a monster scimitar and crescent surmounted by a fez.

Butte Shriners Are Clever Stunt Men

Bagdad temple at Butte, Mont., claims a national reputation for the manner in which their ceremony of initiation is staged, the completeness of the numerous stunts and the proficient work of the patrol. It is composed of the specimens of nobility that keep a community clean in spite of its reputation for thugs, strikes and Bolsheviki.

Honolulu Shriners Take Long Journey

Aloha temple of Honolulu was granted dispensation May 23, 1900. Noble C. D. Wood, still an active member, was the first illustrious potentate. The original charter membership of 19 with 40 novitiates, has increased to 169 nobles from all the islands in the Hawaiian group. Aloha expects to have a strong representation in Portland.
