Gymkana Last Of Benefits for U. of O. Building

THE closing benefit given for the women's building at the University of Oregon was the garden party and gymkana, which was held at the Riverwood home of C. D. Brunn on Riverside drive Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 7 o'clock, an interesting part of the program being the archery exhibition which was given by Miss Eva Hansen and Miss Moss of the University of Oregon, who brought the college equipment of bows and arrows and target to Portland for this occasion. The guests were allowed to try their hands at this interesting sport and bows and arrows were provided for their use.

The public was invited to attend this fête, which was one of the gayest affairs of June. In addition to the gymkana sports under the direction of Colonel John Leader a program of dances was given on the lawn. For this event the University of Oregon sent to Portland one of the choicest programs of aesthetic dancing given on the campus. Five dancers came from the university and appeared in the original compositions of Miss Winslow, who has charge of that department at the university. A bachfuge was danced by Miss Jeanette Moss of Grants Pass, Eva Hansen of Marshfield and Vivian Chandler of Dayton, Wash.; Miss Dorothy Miller of Medford gave a solo dance. A colonial dance was given by Miss Hansen, Miss Miller and Dorothy McKee of Portland. In addition to other dances the group appeared in a number called a Greek frieze. Little Miss Flora McCoy of Corvallis was another soloist.

Supplementing these numbers were dances by Jean McCurdy, Elise Sundbom, Pauline Garrigue, Irene Drake, Lillian Hansen and Hazel Fasset of the Jean Wold dancers, accompanied by Gladys Coates, Mrs. Lucius Meacham of Hood River sang several songs during the afternoon.

The gymkana was copied from the gymkana sports given by the English officers in India for the sole purpose of an amusing holiday and some of the games on Saturday were hotly contested. Winners of all events were awarded a blue ribbon. Those assisting in putting on the different events were Willis K. Clark, Jacob Kamm, Richard Wilder, Henry Ladd Corbett, Donald Green, Morimer Hall Hartwell, Richard Norris, John Kerr, Lloyd Smith, Robert Strong, Fred Strong, William S. Ladd, Walter Kendall, Kurt Koehlen, Charles E. Miller and Alma Katz. For many of the races, partners were chosen from among the ladies present, as in the cigarette race and song race. The husbands' bench show was one of the amusing features of the afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Nunn are expected to arrive in Portland early in July from abroad, where they have made their home for the past few years. Dr. Nunn has been in service with the British army. They will spend the summer months in Portland at their former home, 77 Flanders street, which has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger and family. Dr. and Mrs. Nunn and their son, Richard Jr., sailed for the United States May 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elias Preston of Irvington have as their house guest, Stoney McLinn of New York city, who is a visitor in the city for the Shrine week. Mr. McLinn is secretary and manager of the American Trapshooting association.

Dr. and Mrs. William Conger Morgan left the city for Los Angeles Tuesday to make their home. Dr. Morgan will take the chair of chemistry at the state university at Los Angeles. Dr. Morgan has been a member of the faculty at Reed college.

MISS MARGARET VERSTEEG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Versteeg, who was a charming hostess last week for a smart tea given to honor Miss Helen Buckley and Miss Margaret Marvin, brides-elect.

Miss Hawkins to Join Ranks of Brides of June

ANOTHER Portland girl to join the ranks of the June brides during the past week was Miss Esther H. Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hawkins, who became the bride of Gilbert McLennan Saturday afternoon. The service was read at the Mount Tabor Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Ward McHenry officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father, John W. Hawkins. The bridegroom is the son of Dan C. McLennan of Mount Tabor. He is a brother of Mrs. Margaret McLennan Grimschaw of Honolulu. Following the ceremony an informal wedding reception was held, after which Mr. and Mrs. McLennan left for Victoria, B. C. They will make their home in Portland on their return.

Dr. Milligan Is Honor Guest at Large Reception

AN enjoyable reception was held on Wednesday evening at the Rose City Park Presbyterian church in honor of Dr. Robert H. Milligan, who is about to terminate his pastorate and take a trip abroad, to rest before entering on a new field of duty. In spite of a stormy night there was a large attendance and a cordial sunny atmosphere within. The program was unusually attractive and highly appreciated by the audience. Mrs. A. W. Claxon, president of the Monday Musical club, gave several numbers, and Miss Elizabeth Pollock gave two readings which were much appreciated. Miss Kathleen Harrison, director of the choir and lately on the Chautauque circuit, also contributed excellent readings, and several numbers by Mrs. Helen Fromme Scheller were well received. The program was closed by a little farwell address by the guest of honor. Sunday, June 27, will be his farwell service in Rose City Park Presbyterian church.

Wedding Noted Among Social Events of Week

TWO old families of Portland were united when Miss Ruth Sellwood became the bride of Edward Werlein Thursday afternoon. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's cousin, Dr. and Mrs. John J. Sellwood, in East Thirtieth street at 4 o'clock, the Rev. W. A. M. Breck of St. Mathews church officiating. Preceding the service Dr. Sellwood played the bridal music on the pipe organ and the music was continued softly throughout the service. For her wedding gown the bride chose a model of white crepe de chine fashioned with rare Duchesse lace. The wedding veil was made in cap mode and hung in graceful folds to the hem of the gown, which was cut round length. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Vivian Johnson, as bridesmaid, was gown in pink taffeta with silver ribbon. She wore a white and pink chiffon hat. Her flowers were pink sweet peas and forget-me-nots. Frederick Haines attended the bridegroom. Edward Britts acted as usher. Following the ceremony the wedding collation was served. At the punch bowl was Miss Mildred Smith. Assisting about the rooms were the Misses Elizabeth Stowbridge and Margaret McGowan. A supper was served to the members of the bridal party, following the home ceremony at the Portland hotel with Mrs. Charles Stanburrough, mother of the bride, as hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Werlein will make their home in The Dalles, where Mr. Werlein is in the automobile business.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger and family will leave this week for their country home at Dallas, where they will spend the summer months. On their return in the fall they expect to occupy the residence of Mrs. Jack Gerlinger in Thurman street. Mrs. Remick leaves soon for Colorado Springs, where she will spend the summer months, later going to New Orleans, where she will make her home.

Mrs. Lee Moorhouse of Pendleton was a visitor in the city during the past week on her way home from Phoenix, Ariz., where she has been visiting Mrs. O. P. Morton. Mrs. Moorhouse was accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Gertrude Moule, who will spend the summer in Pendleton with her aunt, Mrs. L. W. White.

Mrs. Willis Dunaway motored to Eugene for the week-end to attend the commencement exercise at the University of Oregon when her niece, Miss Dorothy Dunaway will be a member of the graduating class. Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger also spent the week-end in the college town for the commencement exercises.

Portland friends regret the departure of Miss Anna Wierdama and Miss Elsie Grelle who have been sojourning in Portland for the past year. They are leaving this week for Yellowstone Park and will return to be married in the fall for a summer. Friday Mrs. C. Edward Grelle asked a few of their close friends in for a cup of tea to bid them farewell.

FURS AND MYSTERY

By N. M. Ungar

This is not the first honest story about the mole. In numerous passages of the Bible this little animal is mentioned in a most interesting and impressive manner. From that good day to this, many things have been perpetrated in the name of the tiny excavator of tunnels and builder of hills that would not look well in print.

For example, a large percentage of the "mole-skins" found in today's market comes from an animal many times the size of the busy little mole—namely, the muskrat. This fur, when sheared, makes an unusually good imitation of the real thing and is, therefore, a treacherous substitute in the hands of an unscrupulous dealer. In nine cases out of ten he will get the price of the genuine, which is fairly costly because of the fineness of the skin and the difficulty with which they are caught, while the customer gets the imitation.

Were you to enter his shop with a request for genuine mole-skin and have the genuine placed before you, at its fair price, and then the substitute, as a substitute, mind you, at its proper figure—then all would be well, and this article need never have been written. But the time has not yet come when all stores, or even a fair percentage of them, will do this, so one still must be keenly on one's guard.

Genuine mole-skins are of a bluish black and are no longer or broader than one's hand. The majority of them, however, come from Scotland, while Holland adds smaller collections to the annual supply. Muskrat skins range up to 15 inches in length and are extremely plentiful in all parts of this country and Canada. You can readily see, therefore, that the margin of illegitimate profits is no small item.

Besides the muskrat, there are poorer substitutes for mole-skin, such as rabbit, which in turn can be sold to you as muskrat imitation, if not as the mole-skin itself.
