Two Sunday Games Split With Vernon

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—Breaking even in Sunday's double header, Portland managed to grab three out of the seven games of the series with the Vernon Tigers. This gives the Mackmen an even break on the two series away from home.

The Beavers annexed the morning contest, 3 to 1, Bert Glazier, the former Detroit pitcher, letting the Tigers down with five hits. In the afternoon game Mac used three pitchers, but was unable to stop the Vernonites, who annexed the game, 6 to 2.

Women's Clay Court Tennis Tourney Open

Detroit, Mich, June 21.—(I. N. S.)—With the courts in excellent condition and scores of out-of-town tennis players on hand, drawing for the play in the national women's single and doubles clay court championship were in progress this morning. Play in the singles will begin at 3 o'clock today and it was thought the doubles would be reached by Thursday.

Disappointment was expressed over the news that Miss Mary K. Browne, the Pacific coast star, would be unable to be on hand for a match with Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston.

Miss Corrine Gould of St. Louis, winner of the women's title in the Chicago tourney in 1919, is here to defend her title against a large number of aspirants.

AMERICAN TENNIS STARS FAVORED TO WIN IN TITLE PLAY

LONDON, June 21.—(I. N. S.)—William M. Johnston and R. N. Williams II. scored victories at Wimbledon today in preliminary matches to the British national tennis championships. Johnston defeated Flavelle 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. Williams disposed of F. Field, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

By Percy Sarl
United News Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 21.—The British press generally believes that the American tennis cracks are due to emerge victors in the men's singles and doubles which began at Wimbledon today. They declare that either Johnston or Tilden are the likeliest contenders for Gerald Patterson's title, with every chance that Patterson is due for a defeat.

Johnston's steadiness and brilliance in Saturday's finals for the London championship when he came out from behind after losing the first set and defeated Tilden in the fastest tennis seen here in years, makes the San Francisco player the favorite in the singles.

Johnston has a devastating forearm drive, which is regarded as his strongest asset, one writer comparing it to Bob Fitzsimmons' annihilating punch.

Johnston and Tilden are regarded as practically unbeatable in the doubles. The entrants in the event represent 12 nations. A tremendous crush is anticipated. Season tickets which were sold as long ago as last January are now obtainable only at a tremendous premium, some selling for as high as 30 pounds each.

It is expected that 250,000 persons will see at least one match, for the tournament lasts a fortnight.

Hillsboro Wins From Astoria

The first extra-inning games of the Intercity circuit were staged Sunday and in one of them the Hillsboro boys won from the Astoria Centennials, 5 to 4, in 10 innings on the Hillsboro grounds. A three bagger by McCurdy with one on was responsible for the final marker. Furney, twirling for Astoria, hit one for a home run, as did Kopple of Hillsboro. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Hillsboro	5	6	2
Astoria Centennials	4	9	5

Batteries — Neilson, Taggart and Baker; Furney and Cook.

Schuman Is In Shape for Sheppard Go

By Bob

LOVERS of the fistic art will hike to the Armory tonight, where Johnny Sheppard, European lightweight champion, and Heinie Schuman, promising Pacific coast lightweight, will settle the question of supremacy in a 10-round decision fight with Grover Francis as referee.

Schuman's stock went up Sunday following a few days during which the first impression made by the Englishman had rendered him a slight favorite. It was the old adage of a new broom sweeping clean. The reaction in sentiment now concedes a draw as the worst that may come to Schuman, with a possibility that his cleverness and aggressiveness may bring him a decision over the strong boy from Albion.

BAIRD AND BROWN READY

Schuman's future rests more or less on the outcome of this one battle, and he is going into the ring with the intention of turning the opportunity to the best advantage. Eddie Marino, who has coached and fostered Shcuman from a preliminary boy to one of the most dangerous lightweights in the game, is confident his protege will give a splendid account of himself. Sheppard is a boy of international caliber and is a tremenedous pugilistic bite for Heinie. But the fight will be worth seeing, no matter who wins. Both boys like to mix.

Young Brown and Earl Baird will have a multitude of fight-hungry eyes turned on them when they enter the ring for their 10-round clash. The fights these boys have put up in the past have gone down in red letters. Baird is a clever piece of machinery, so is Brown, and each has shown himself fond of rough stuff.

LEWIS TO BOX WILLIS

Perry Lewis, a battler who is as tough as they come, will try to stop Stanley Willis' popularity with a knockout, something that other tough boys have failed to do. Willis is giving away eight or 10 pounds, but feels he is equal to the task.

Billy Mascott is in for a crucial test in his eight-round setto with Baby Blue, California colored bantam. Blue is stronger and more aggressive than Danny Edwards and hits twice as hard. Blue will carry the fight to the Portland Frenchman at all times, and one or the other is liable to drop before recess is called.

Frankie Crites, a newcomer, will make his debut in a four-round clash with Frankie Landers. The fights begin at 8:30.

CROWDS SEE WORKOUTS

Mike O'Dowd and Battling Ortega played to big crowds in strenuous workouts at the Olympic gymnasium Sunday afternoon. Ortega worked at 1:30 o'clock and O'Dowd at 3. Both men went through 10 rounds of furious work.

Ortega took on Bud Fisher, a rip-tearing California middleweight who will appear on the Milwaukie card July 5, for two rounds of real fighting that brought applause from the spectators. Fred Taylor, 175-pound colored boy, came on for two more rounds, while other boys of lighter class tantalized the Mexican for short periods. Ortega looks good, probably weighing something like 154 or 156.

BATTLES HEAVYWEIGHT

O'Dowd took on the toughest of his sparring partners first. That was the 210-pound Clem Johnson, who not long ago mussed up Andre Anderson's pretty face. O'Dowd gave the big colored scrapper a terrific go for the full two rounds. Frankie Murphy, who will meet Allie Jackson on the O'Dowd-Ortega card went on for two rounds with the Irishman, and a royal slugfest they provided. Johnny Fiske next danced and slugged with the middleweight champion.

O'Dowd's condition contradicts first reports which asserted him to be fat in the waist line. He is now several pounds below the 160 required and declares himself in shape to go 20 rounds or more without trouble. He will not outweigh Ortega more than three or four pounds, while the Mexican will have a slight advantage in height.

Lefty Miller's First Defeat

Lefty Larry Miller was handed his first defeat of the 1920 campaign Sunday when Sherwood came from behind in the last two innings and won out, 9 to 2. The Portland Iron Works representatives were leading, 2 to 1, up until the blow-up came. Sherwood now rests in second place of the Intercity league of the P. B. A. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Sherwood	9	7	2
Portland Iron Works	2	6	5

Batteries—Baker and Baker; Miller and Meekins.

Ruth Says Yankees Will Win Flag

Loss of Series Due to Weak Hitting

By Babe Ruth

(Copyright, 1920, by United News.)

ST. LOUIS, June 21.—The advance of the Yankees on the ramparts of the Indians didn't turn out quite so well as might have been expected, when it is considered that we won only one game of the four played. The one we did take was the result of heavy hitting—the kind of tremendous drumfire that we had maintained in New York and Detroit. When the break came it was due to just one thing: We were not hitting.

The fact that Cleveland trimmed us for those three games means absolutely nothing, despite the fact that the series was advertised in advance as one of those "crucial" things. We were beaten in Cleveland by poor pitching. We will pound the daylights out of just such pitching the next time we face it. Watch this and see if I am not right.

PITCHERS FAIL TO WIN

Cleveland is still playing without its head.

I insist that this is so.

No club that has one dependable pitcher has a right to be holding the position the Indians are in the American league. Bagby has won more games than he should have because he has been very lucky. Uhle is out of the question as a winner so far. Caldwell and Myers are hasards any time they start a ball game. No fan who knows baseball will admit that a club so constituted can win a pennant.

It seemed to be the fate of the Yankees that their pitchers should turn bad just at this inopportune time, too. Quinn lost the first game he has dropped in nine starts. Thormahlen was wholly ineffective. The others, with the exception of Shawkey, were almost as bad. They are good pitchers. What they did in Cleveland is ancient history and will not be repeated.

SOX NOT STRONG ENOUGH

I think my contention is borne out by what happened when we ran into the classy pitching—so-called—in Chicago. The pasting we gave the White Sox will give them something to remember us by. As I said early in the season, their stiff pace could not last. They are good—very good—but they are not good enough to stay up in the pennant fight this year.
