Mrs. Houghwout Is Honored by Her Friends

By Helen H. Hatchison
PORTLAND friends of Mrs. W. B. Houghwout (Marian Brodie), whose marriage was an event of last year in the Orient, are honoring her with many social attentions since her return with her husband. They are the house guests of Mrs. J. R. Brodie. Today Mrs. J. H. Mackenzie and Mrs. Frank Hottel were entertained for Mrs. Houghwout at a luncheon at the Portland Golf club. Covers were placed for 13 at an attractively appointed table. Additional guests included Mrs. Millard Holbrook, Mrs. Samuel Holbrook, Mrs. G. E. Watts, Mrs. Ben W. Gadsby, Mrs. Charles E. Stolley, Miss Hazel Reed, Miss Emma Barlett, Miss Ellen Brodie and Mrs. Arthur Murphy.

Wednesday evening Mrs. and Mrs. Houghwout will be guests of honor at a dancing party at the clubhouse of the Oregon State Motor association for which Mrs. and Mrs. W. B. Houghwout and Miss Hazel Reed were hosts. About 70 congenial friends enjoyed the affair.

Freewater, June 29.—Mrs. and Mrs. D. E. Jones of Sunnyside, Wash., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary this week at the family residence.

Besides their family, the immediate friends of the family were present, including Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones of College Place, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Jones of Elletts Rock, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones and family of Freewater, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Knight and family of Farmington, Wash., and the Rev. D. L. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist church, Freewater. The Misses Vida and Margaretta Marshall will entertain informally at bridge Wednesday afternoon at their home in Alexander court.

Mrs. J. H. Shaw, 468 East Eleventh street south, called on the S. S. W. Williams, recently returned from Honolulu, accompanied by Mrs. John J. Walsh and Miss Ellen Walsh. The marriage of Miss Walsh and Ralph F. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Shaw, will take place at Maui, in August. A pretty little romance attaches to the betrothal. Mr. Shaw went to the Oregon Agricultural college, and as he happened to be at Maui at the time of the Maui county fair, he was pressed into service as a judge of some of the agricultural exhibits. During the course of the fair he met Miss Walsh, and in a brief time he resigned his mainland position and accepted the offer of the Maui county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Longner have given up their residence in Everett street and are domiciled at Alexandria court.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Reingold of Ladd addition have had as their house guests during the past week Mr. and Mrs. E. Hirschfelder and son, Erwin of San Francisco. During their stay in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Reingold entertained them at several informal functions.

Among visitors in the city during the week were Judge and Mrs. W. A. Gilmore of Seattle, who were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Altman and of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rickerts of Vancouver, Wash. Judge and Mrs. Gilmore had just returned from the Republican convention in Chicago where Judge Gilmore was campaign manager for General Leonard Wood, and Mrs. Gilmore was a delegate from Washington.

Mrs. Emilie Strupers and daughter, Catherine, are spending a month in Newport, Or.

Mrs. Harry Shiller of Chicago is visiting her son, George Jehlner, 732 Lovejoy street. She expects to remain in Portland for several weeks before her return to the Middle West.

George Wright Relief Corps No. 2 will hold a regular meeting in room 325 courthouse, Wednesday evening promptly at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is requested. Convention reports will be given and important business will be transacted.

Mrs. James G. Gauld and Miss Isabelle Gauld, who have been spending the winter and spring months in Santa Barbara, returned to Portland, Sunday, and are stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Alvord for a time.

Julius Tannen, who has been coming over the Orpheum trail for some seasons, billed as the "Chatterbox," used to work for the Armour Packing company. Tannen's chance meeting with one of his former employers is related by Tannen as follows:

"Saw J. Ogden Armour today. You know I was his stenographer 18 years ago. Met him in the Grand Central station, which is about the only place in New York we both go. How's everything, Julius?" says J. O. I tell him I've just signed up to go with Nora Bayes in her new show next season. He says: "You probably got the job on the strength of the advertising I have given you. I told him I hadn't seen any advertising. 'You don't observe,' he said. 'Why, all over the country the billboards are telling folks about Armour's star team.'"

Victor Sherstinger, Goldwyn director, says he intends installing a $10,000 pipe organ in his new home now being erected.

Priscilla Bonner, now supporting Will Rogers in his latest Goldwyn picture, is the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel John Bonner, on the staff of General Leonard Wood.

'The Rivals,' Song By Tom Dobson, To Be on Program

One of the late Tom Dobson's songs will be included in the program to be sung by Leah Leaska (Miss Leah Cohen), dramatic soprano, when she is presented in concert at the Auditorium next Friday night by the Music League of America, Inc., and sponsored by the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs and the Council of Jewish Women, of which Mrs. Alex Bernstein is president.

The song, "The Rivals," which the distinguished Portland song writer, who died in New York during the influenza epidemic, wrote to words of James Stevens, Miss Leaska says the words are simple but the melody is beautiful, in her opinion the best that Dobson wrote.

National Guard
The first quarterly muster of the Fifth Oregon Infantry, National Guard, of Oregon, was held Monday night, Colonel C. E. Hammond in command. Companies E, F, G and H, comprising the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th battalions, were present. Captain E. H. Elvers, in command of the 1st battalion, Captain J. H. Elvers, in command of the 2nd battalion, Captain J. H. Elvers, in command of the 3rd battalion, and Captain J. H. Elvers, in command of the 4th battalion.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

An Old Friend Who Is a Worker
By Thornton W. Burgess
How few there are who know their neighbors. Their pleasures, fears and joys all about. —Jerry Muskrat.

PETER RABBIT was tired of school. Yes, sir; Peter was tired of school. Possibly you know just how he felt. School had been very fine at first, but now Peter's head was beginning to feel much as his stomach does when he has eaten too much. He needed a vacation.

So Peter was very much pleased when he discovered that it was raining so hard that there wasn't the least chance that Old Mother Nature would expect us to go to school the next morning. Now, ordinarily, Peter isn't fond of wet weather. He much prefers to have jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun smiling down from the blue sky. But this morning Peter wasn't doing all the smiling. Oh, I forgot little Mrs. Peter; she was doing some smiling, too. You see, she knew that as long as it rained, Peter would stay in the dear old Briar-patch, and that would mean that he would have nothing much to worry about. Peter also was beginning to feel a little better about the dear old Briar-patch.

Just before it was time for him to go to bed behind the Purple Hills John to Mr. Sun partied the rain clouds and then the morning Peter wasn't doing all the smiling. Oh, I forgot little Mrs. Peter; she was doing some smiling, too. You see, she knew that as long as it rained, Peter would stay in the dear old Briar-patch, and that would mean that he would have nothing much to worry about. Peter also was beginning to feel a little better about the dear old Briar-patch.

Just before it was time for him to go to bed behind the Purple Hills John to Mr. Sun partied the rain clouds and then the morning Peter wasn't doing all the smiling. Oh, I forgot little Mrs. Peter; she was doing some smiling, too.
