According to the statement of LaBorne, Himbree failed to give right of way, and was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Smoke and Fire Rout Lodgers—Martha Buck and her mother, Mrs. E. A. Buck, shouted to firemen to rescue them from a third story fire escape of the Benson building, Fifth and Morrison streets, during the course of a small fire which was quickly extinguished by the fire department early today. They were in no immediate danger and were left by the firemen to find their own way down the fire escape. Lodgers in the Zorn hotel on the second and third stories were routed by the smoke. The fire started in the offices of the Eastern Painless dentists.

Captain of Police Bemoans Lost Dog; 'Too Much,' He Says

Mike, bearing license tag No. 13, who used to wag his tail unconsciously when Captain Harms, in charge of the second night relief at police headquarters, returned home, has been stolen.

Mike was comrade, friend and pet of Captain Harms. He was a large, dark brindled bulldog, guardian of the captain's home during the early hours of the morning when Harms was on duty at the police station. He was last seen a few days ago on Peninsula avenue near Columbia boulevard.

"If my other pair of shoes were taken I wouldn't be nearly as mad as I am now," said Harms. "Take my clothes, my wood or groceries, but my dog—it's too much."
