County Is Paying for Expenses of Primary

The task of paying off expenses of the recent primary election was begun Wednesday morning at the county clerk's office, windows 1 and 2 being designated for the work, in charge of Charles H. Smith. The expenses at 413 precincts of Multnomah county, for salaries of election boards and meals, amount to $22,571.45, and the rental for polling places amounts to $2607. Relatives of the election board members can only draw the money due these members on written orders.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends and brother members of Portland lodge, B. E. C. of A. 268, for the kindness and sympathy during our sad bereavement for the loss of our husband and father, also for the many beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. A. E. Altree and Family.

Alleged Accomplice In Dubinsky Murder Case to See Visitors

Russell Brake, who is held in the Multnomah county jail with George Moore on the charge of having murdered Harry Dubinsky, a Portland man who operated a for-hire automobile, may see persons on the request of his attorney, Tom Garland, if the visits take place in the presence of the jailer.

This is the order of Circuit Judge Campbell of Clackamas county, as a result of the appeal of Garland that he be permitted to take persons before Brake for the purpose of undertaking to identify him as a part of the intention to provide an alibi for Brake on the night of the murder. Judge Campbell did not grant the request of Garland that he be permitted to see a copy of the second confession of Moore, made recently before Deputy District Attorney Bernard here, acting on behalf of the district attorney of Clackamas county.
