Luncheons and Teas Form the Social Calendar

By Helen H. Huthless

SMALL luncheons and teas suggesting hours of leisure for summer afternoons seem to be all that the social calendar registers for the present. The past week witnessed the wedding of another of Portland's society maidens and the news of her marriage caused more than the usual stir of interest, because it was unheralded. The quiet chapel of the church of the Holy Rosary was chosen by Miss Anna Munly for her marriage Wednesday to Vance Thomas Ferguson, and only members of the immediate family were present for the ceremony.

The engagement announcement, of Miss Elyn Anne Newbegin, to Ernest Wyland Crichton was also an event of interest to a wide circle of friends. Miss Jean Rosendale also announced her engagement to George Jehlenger during the past week.

The Oregon State Tennis tournament, which will be held at Irvington club this week, will bring to the city visitors of note from all parts of the Pacific Northwest, and the attendant social functions at the clubhouse, for which an extensive program has been arranged, will offer diversion for those who do not participate in the game but who will enjoy the festivities during the tournament.

Portland friends are extending a cordial welcome to Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn and their son, Richard Jr., who returned to the city Tuesday from abroad and are again occupying their home at 777 Flanders street. For the past five years Dr. Nunn has been an officer in the English royal medical corps, only recently receiving his discharge from service. Following his active service in the field Dr. Nunn has been engaged with the pension department of the English war department. During his experience he has been in charge of hospitals at Plymouth and at Oxford and spent five months in France during the German offensive in 1918.

Mrs. Hamilton F. Corbett (Harriet Cumming) was hostess for an informal luncheon Thursday at her home at River, honoring Miss Isabelle Rockefeller and Miss Harriet Pratt, who were visitors in the city with the Rockefeller party.

Portland was well represented at Vancouver, B. C., this year when the Pacific Northwest Golf tournament was held. Among those from this city who made

MRS. VANCE THOMAS FERGUSON (Anna Munly), whose marriage was quietly solemnized Wednesday at the church of the Holy Rosary. Miss Elyn Anne Newbegin, whose engagement was announced to Ernest W. Crichton.

Dinner Is Given In Observance Of Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. E. E. LARIMORE were hosts for a dinner party Monday evening at the Portland hotel celebrating the anniversary of their marriage. Twelve guests were seated at the table for the occasion and the floral decorations were an artistic arrangement of pink rose buds and ferns.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacLean, Miss Dorothy Dolton, Miss Maxine Hughes of San Francisco, who is a visitor here; Edward Kline, Earl E. Larimore Jr. and the hosts.

Miss Myrtle MacLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. MacLean of 148 North Twenty-fourth street, returned Wednesday from a six months' sojourn abroad, during which she visited at the home of her aunt and uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacMullen, of Belfast, Ireland, Miss MacLean toured England and Scotland before her return and stopped at Montreal and at Ottawa to visit relatives on returning to Canada.

Mrs. W. Dennison Clark and her three children have left the city for the summer months, which they will spend visiting relatives in Saginaw, Mich.

Dr. Sternberg Is Wed Last Week To Olympia Girl

A WEDDING of wide interest in Portland is that of Miss Josephine Oppenheimer to Dr. J. J. Sternberg of this city. The ceremony was witnessed by a small company of relatives and was performed by Judge William N. Gatens in the room of the Benson hotel Wednesday evening.

For her wedding gown the bride chose a smart model of blue silk, with which she wore a small hat to match. Her flowers were a bouquet of orchids. Mr. Carl Solomon and Mrs. Max G. Pollis were her attendants and Albert Sternberg of Albany, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served, the table for which was centered with an artistic arrangement of summer flowers arranged with the bride's bouquet.

The bride is a charming girl of Olympia, Wash. She is a daughter of Mrs. Belle Oppenheimer of that city and has been much entertained in Portland since the announcement of her engagement to Dr. Sternberg. The bridegroom is one of the most prominent surgeons of the city. He is a son of Mrs. Sternberg of Portland.

Following an extended trip through Canada and the East, during which Dr. Sternberg and his bride will stop at Chicago, at Rochester, Minn., and in New York city, they will return by way of Denver to Portland, where they will make their home.

Marian Martin Becomes Bride Of Bert Cohen

THE marriage of Miss Marian Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin, to Bert Cohen, July 2, was an event of wide interest to Portland friends. The service was read at the cathedral residence at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate family relatives. Father George Campbell officiating. The bride wore a smart frock of midnight blue and a small hat to match. Her flowers were orchids and roses. Both young people have many friends in the city, where they have made their home most of their lives. During the war period Mrs. Cohen became a member of the staff of employees at the Ladd & Tilton bank, where she remained for two years. Mr. Cohen went overseas with the 91st division and was in active service with the 36th ambulance corps and also received the Belgian war cross for bravery. He is in the employ of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway as traveling freight and passenger agent. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Cohen will make their home at Salem, later returning to Portland to live.

Mrs. Helen Laad Corbett presided at a smart luncheon of 10 covers Wednesday at Waverley Country club honoring Miss Isabelle Rockefeller, Mrs. Harbert A. Pratt and Miss Harriet Pratt who were in the city with the Rockefeller party last week.

Mrs. John F. Daly entertained Tuesday at Waverley Country club honoring seven friends at a luncheon.

Former Portland Man Is Married In St. Louis, Mo.

OF INTEREST to Portland friends is the marriage of Miss Vivian Bright of St. Louis, Mo., to Richard McAdams, formerly of Portland, which was an event of Tuesday in St. Louis. Mr. McAdams is widely known in Portland, where he made his home before his enlistment in the United States flying corps, with which he served as a lieutenant during the period of the war. He was stationed at Paris Island, S. C., as an instructor and was mustered out of service only recently. He attended Washington high school in Portland and was a student at the University of Washington, at Seattle. He is a cousin of Mrs. Harold Tuttle of this city. It is possible that Mr. and Mrs. McAdams will come to Portland to make their home in the near future.

A number of attractive young misses of Portland's sub-deb. set will leave Portland Monday, July 12, to go into camp at Williams Harbor under the direction of Miss Dorothy Elliott of Reed college. The misses Marion Farrell, Elise Bristol, Margaret Spencer, Elizabeth Donald, Nancy Nicolai and Elizabeth von Klein Smid of Tucson, Ariz., are among the party.

Mrs. Fred B. Pratt of New York is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Helen Laad Corbett, for a short time. Mrs. Pratt who was Miss Caroline A. Laad before her marriage is also travelling with the Rockefeller party and will join them later on their return to New York.

Luncheon Given Wednesday Last By Eta Alphas

THE members of Eta Alpha chapter of Chi Omega sorority of Oregon Agricultural college entertained delightfully at luncheon Thursday in the main dining room of the Hotel Portland honoring Miss Florence Holmes, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Adams Hill, who is leaving in the near future for a year's study in Europe. Miss Holmes is making a specialty of landscape gardening and already received favorable attention for her work in college. Covers were placed for 20 at a table decorated in Dorothy Perkins roses and tiny sprays of the same flowers were fastened to the place cards.

Seated at the table were: Misses Florence Holmes, Mary Holmes, Nancy Gavin, Mary Louise Myers, Hazel Truitt, Phyllis Crawford, Helen Cole, Hazel Cole, Mary Appleby, Bess Walsh, Vera Kelly, Eleanor Kinney, Elizabeth Edwards, Marie Johnston, Karen Davis, Jean Kelly, Kate Kelly, Joan Houshale, Gladys Auer of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Edwin Wright.

Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph and her daughter, Mrs. Edward Clark III, of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending the week-end at the Dolph farm near Newberg. They are expected to return to the city Monday.

Miss Helen MacEachran, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Walter Lang, for a few months, left Friday for the east and will sail in the near future for her home in Scotland.

REBUILDING CLEARANCE

Store Opens 9:30 A. M.

No Layaways

Shop Early in the Morning

Just yesterday came this order from our buyers, now in New York: "Speed up the clearance of all spring-summer stocks. We don't want to see a single coat, suit or dress on the racks nor a single hat on the stands when we get back." In answer we are cutting prices, already greatly reduced, down to the very minimum, in many cases more than half. The front of the store is in the hands of carpenters, but to offset any inconvenience because of their work, we are offering bargains that make the Emporium the logical place to buy. Let your dollars do double duty here!

Miss Munly Bride Of V. T. Ferguson On Wednesday

THE marriage of Miss Anna Frances Munly to Vance Thomas Ferguson, Wednesday afternoon, was the event of importance for this week's social calendar in the city. The news of the marriage was not made known until Thursday and the ceremony, which was a simple one, took place at 4 o'clock in the church of the Holy Rosary, the Rev. Father Kennedy officiating in the presence of the immediate family relatives only. There were no attendants for the bride and David Clay, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

For the wedding the bride wore a smart summery frock of organdie in white with a fluffy hat of tulle. Her flowers were orchids and pink roses.

Mrs. Ferguson is one of the charming maids of the social contingent of Portland and has a wide circle of friends here. She is a daughter of Judge and Mrs. M. G. Munly and with her parents has made her home at 295 East Eleventh street north. No formal announcement had been made of the engagement of the young couple although a number of their closest friends were aware of the approaching marriage. Mrs. Ferguson attended school at Miss Chamberlain's in Boston and was a student for some time at Menlo Park in California. Mr. Ferguson is the son of Mrs. E. Z. Ferguson and is a brother of Mrs. David Clay of this city. He was graduated from Stanford university. He is at present engaged in the lumber business in Astoria, where, after a wedding trip through British Columbia, he will take his bride to reside.

Mrs. Jacob Gray Kamm was hostess for an informal luncheon Tuesday at her home in Montgomery drive, honoring Mrs. Frank Jenkins of Eugene, who has been her house guest for the past week. Mrs. Kamm has only recently returned from a six weeks' sojourn at Hood River. Mrs. Jenkins left Portland Friday evening for her home. Both Mrs. Kamm and Mrs. Jenkins attended the University of Oregon, where they were classmates and members of Chi Omega sorority.

Miss Cora Amberg of Battle Creek, Mich., is a visitor in the city at the home of Mrs. George Carter Sterling in Main street. Miss Amberg will spend several weeks here.

Mrs. Frederick Martin (Helen Washburn) of Eugene has been a visitor in the city at the home of Mrs. H. W. Thompson during the past week.
