Smart, carefully-tailored ties in the narrower widths, which are so popular this season with well-dressed men. Every tie made with slip-band to pull easily through the collar. Each proportioned to make the proper knot for soft collars as well as for the light-weight, stiff collars so much in vogue.

A sudden slump in the silk market—a Meier & Frank representative on the spot—a famous New York maker of men's neckties with a big stock on hand anxious to put them into ready cash—that's the story.

A magnificent collection—finest we can recall offering at anything like this price. Scores of beautiful designs and colors. Dark, medium and brilliant effects. Something for every man's taste.

Hand-stitched English foulards.
"Non-wrinkable" genuine Koroko crepe.
Grenadine.
Jacquard silks.

Good-looking fancy reps.
Handsome Matelasse silks.
Interesting basket silks.
Italian jacquards.

Men who forgot to provide themselves with new ties for vacations can congratulate themselves that this sale comes at the psychological moment. Sale starts 9:15 A. M. in the Men's Store, Main Floor, Morrison street. See the Morrison street window.
