Red Men Close Their Series of Entertainments

By A. D. Cridge

THE Improved Order of Red Men closed Wednesday night a most successful series of entertainments in connection with the annual great-council of the reservation in Oregon. The principal forests of Washington county were sought in which to confer the adoption degree upon a band of palefaces. A natural little amphitheater on the farm of Dr. J. Dannels was selected, situated south and west of Beaverton, and with the sky for a canopy and in the light of a big campfire the work was given by a selected team of Onsetta tribe, and the address from the tepee of the sachem was given by James T. Rogers, great inebriate of the United States. L. Carstensen, the venerable past sachem of Onsetta tribe, gave most impressively the part of the great prophet, and the parts of senior sagamore by John A. Mastin and of junior sagamore by L. B. Smith, retiring great sachem, were played with solemn savage dignity.

For the first time in the history of the order, the great inebriate raised up the great chiefs of two reservations Tuesday night, following a banquet at the residence of the commandant, participated in by the officers and delegates and members of Washington and of Oregon. The great council of Oregon met in Multnomah W. W. hall, 112 East Third street, Monday and Tuesday, and the reports of the officers showed a positive increase in membership. The relationship under the able leadership of L. B. Smith, great sachem for the past year, Monday evening Willamette tribe of Portland, in the presence of the members of the two great councils of Washington and Oregon and members and guests of Cum Tux tribe of Vancouver, conferred degree of chief upon a class, the degree team being commanded by Captain R. L. McDonald, and arrangements being made by Past Great Sachem T. C. Reichle.

The Improved Order of Red Men has been an active factor in the fraternal life of Portland for over half a century, and it bids fair to enjoy in the future a revival of interest that shall make its membership all that it ever has been, and more.

E. M. Wells, the new great sachem of Oregon, is a long-time member and active worker of Willamette tribe of Portland, and when he hands back his tomahawk and moccasins to the members, it is confidently expected by his friends that he will have set many tribal poles throughout the state and greatly increased the number of warriors and chiefs of the reservation.

With Great Sachem Wells are associated F. D. Frost of Oregon City, great sachem; J. P. Fisher of Willamette tribe, great junior sagamore; L. B. Smith, great prophet; O. D. Dickel, great chief of records; G. D. Lacey, great keeper of wampum; and a number of appointive chiefs of loyalty, ability and enthusiasm.

The Camelia Social club has arranged for a benefit card party Wednesday evening at Pythian temple, West Park and Yantel street. Members of the Masonic and Eastern Star fraternities are invited. Proceeds are used for a social fund and to assist the hospital committee in its work.

J. O. Wilson, head manager of the Woodmen of the World, will leave for Denver Thursday to attend the first meeting of the head managers since his election at the Yosemite last June. A great deal of work is expected because of a number of fiscal changes made in the business methods, and he may not be able to return before the latter part of the month.

Oregon assembly No. 1, United Artisans, has arranged for one of its attractive social parties and dance at W. O. W. temple, 128 Eleventh street, Tuesday evening, to which all members and their friends are cordially invited. Strangers welcome.

The Grotto Gul Beasze has issued a wide invitation to its members and their Masonic friends to an open social gathering in Room E, The Auditorium, Tuesday evening, August 3. The grotto orchestra will furnish music, and plenty of it. Robert A. Miller will explain objects of the organization. Prophets Earl Smith and Frank Kondra will give a thrilling four-round boxing exhibit. Four Afro-American professional boxers will follow in a series of lively bouts. Plenty of refreshments will be served, and is guaranteed, in the name of good fellowship.

Age Limits for West Pointers Are Broadened

Age limits for enlisted men of the army desiring to enter West Point military academy have been broadened by the war department in favor of soldiers who had service for not less than one year during the recent war, according to copies of a general order now being promulgated by the adjutant general.

Ordinarily enlisted men at date of admission must be between the ages of 19 and 22 years and must have had at least one year's service.

This has now been waived in the case of war veterans to admit them between the ages of 17 and 24 years.

Prior service in the army by draft, voluntary enlistment, or through the national guard, will be considered in determining an applicant's eligibility.

The examinations for entrance will be held between December 1 and 15, and successful applicants will be granted three months' furlough to prepare for the regular entrance examinations, which take place in March.

"There never has been a time since the passage of the law authorizing appointments from the army when all the vacancies have been filled," said the letter from the adjutant general, "and every candidate from that source who has qualified and desired entrance to the academy has been admitted."

Enlisted men also will be permitted to submit educational certificates with a view to admission without mental examination, but these will be considered only after the successful competitors in the examinations have been cared for.

The Engineers' company is to have target practice every Sunday morning at Clackamas through the month of August. Captain George E. Sandy announces the receipt of some valuable and instructive instruments, plenty of uniforms and supplies and room for a few more active hunters. It is expected that the company will go to Camp Lewis for training camp September 7 to 23.

Major J. Francis Drake has received the honor of being presented to Company M of Salem for being awarded first rank at Camp Lewis for efficiency, attendance, sanitation and general appearance. Whenever Captain Leroy Hewlett names the date the major will go to Salem and present it. Company D of Portland, won second prize which has been presented in the shape of a silver cup not quite so valuable.

Target practice Sunday at Clackamas is ordered. Major J. Francis Drake is range officer and it is expected that between 50 and 100 men will report. The riflemen will go by train and will be furnished dinner at noon.

During the absence of Captain Harry Hanson of company E with the rifle team at the national shoot in Camp Perry, Ohio, Lieutenants John T. Hieley and F. J. Eivers of the company are doing their best to keep up interest. They will have a few more recruits and will hold open the doors every Monday night.

ing six months and the "cops" won, 5 to 1. Of course the civilians point out that every cop had a gun and—well, the civilians put up the supper. North Portland lodge is to entertain Star lodge Monday night and confer the third degree on a large class of candidates from both lodges. Noble Grand C. E. Brothers has appointed a pep committee consisting of Ira W. Carl, H. Head, Eugene Palmer, Harvey and Wright. The first thing the committee did was to add Brothers to it.

D. E. Frost of Oregon City, elected great senior sagamore of the great council of Oregon, Improved Order of Red Men, at the session of July 26 and 27 held in Portland, is a member of Wacheno tribe No. 13, joining it 20 years ago. He now occupies the second highest office in the reservation of Oregon, and in accordance with long established custom is expected next year to be elevated to the position of great sachem. Frost has held office in his tribal council since his adoption and has twice held the highest office in its power to give, that of sachem and great representative.

The home for aged members of the Neighbors of Woodcraft at Riverdale, Cal., is being prepared for reception of its guests in the fall. Mrs. C. C. Van Orsdall, grand guardian, is there to look after the work. It is expected that between 20 and 25 guests will be admitted within a few weeks after its formal opening.

Wednesday evening Portland Star lodge installed its new officers at 206 Ashby building and go to the Oaks to make merry for the evening.

Marguerite camp, Royal Neighbors of America, during August will have a vacation, only meeting on the last Tuesday of the month.
