

MANY GATHER TO SAY FAREWELL TO KRAXBERGER

Mackaburg, Farmer - Capitalist, Will Visit Europe to Ascertain Financial Conditions There.

Canby, Aug. 7.—A big company of relatives gathered at the Franz Kraxberger home in the Mackaburg district for a family reunion previous to the departure of Mr. Kraxberger for a three months' trip to his old home in Austria, and to Germany, Belgium and England. There were present some 82 relatives, besides a number of close friends, so that the entire gathering numbered close to 100. The day, which recorded the thirtieth anniversary of the arrival in Oregon of Franz and Charles Kraxberger, was spent in the various forms of entertainment and the big picnic dinner eaten in the orchard.

Franz and Charles Kraxberger came to the United States some 31 years ago, locating first in Missouri, where they remained but a short time and then came to Oregon. They lived for two and one-half years in Portland, when the call to the farm brought them to the Mackaburg country, where they own two of the finest farm properties to be seen. Since then they have been followed to this country by other brothers and sisters until all are now residing hereabouts, and with one exception were at the family gathering. In 1891 the father and mother of the Kraxbergers came to America and made their home with their children until Mother Kraxberger passed away six years ago and was buried in the Canby cemetery. Father Kraxberger returned to Austria for a visit where he died in December, 1918. Mother Kraxberger bore the distinction of having had audience on the subject of "Occasions with Emperor Joseph of Austria."

ACTIVE IN AFFAIRS
Franz Kraxberger is known as one of the most substantial and successful farmers of Clackamas county, and has long been identified with every movement that tended to its progress and prosperity. He aided in the establishment of the Aurora State bank and served several years as a director of the same, retiring a few years ago, when he was succeeded by his brother, Charles. He is president of the federal farm loan bureau for the Mackaburg district, which comprises Clackamas and Marion counties, and which is situated among the farmers of this district something over $150,000 in long time loans.

Kraxberger served his neighbors as rural free mail carrier for several years, having been instrumental in the establishment of the rural route through the Mackaburg district, and was president of the state organization, as well as being delegate to the national convention, where he was one of the prime movers in the introduction of a resolution that brought about the establishment of post roads by the government. He is also president of the Canby opera-tive Cheese & Produce Company, which recently disposed of its machinery and after settling its financial obligations finds itself with a surplus of $10,000 and will continue its organization, although not actively engaged in business.

MANY ATTEND REUNION
Those attending the family reunion were: Mrs. Henry Kummer, husband and three children; Ferdinand Kraxberger and family; Adolph Kraxberger and family; Franz and Charles Kraxberger and their families; Rev. W. R. Kraxberger and family of Oregon City; Otto Kraxberger and family, together with numerous grandchildren. Kraxberger, who was accompanied by Rev. Frederick T. Lewis of Central, Wash., former pastor of the Lutheran church at Mackaburg, left August 6 for New York, from where they expected to take passage on the ocean liner Imperator and land at Cherbourg, France. Their passports were taken there, where it will be necessary for them to secure passports to Austria and Germany. Mr. Kraxberger's trip is made primarily to study financial and crop conditions abroad for American people, who plan investments.

Baby Is Killed In Auto Accident

Pocatello, Idaho, Aug. 7.—The six-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Sterling was instantly killed on Thursday morning when an automobile driven by the father of the child turned over on the state highway between Aberdeen and Sterling. The father, with his wife and baby and another woman and her child, were in the automobile at the time of the accident. The machine turned over after the front axle had sprung and caused the steering gear to lock. The mother suffered a severe compound fracture to her right arm. The other occupants of the machine escaped with minor injuries.

Caught on a rolling platform between a heavy truck of soap and the brick wall of the building, Harold Gill, 14 years old, was fatally injured Thursday morning at the warehouse of Reilly Akinson & Co., Boise. Gill's chest was crushed and he died a few hours after the accident.

Informal Exercises Attend the Disposition of Beautiful Emblem of Silk.

Salem, Aug. 7.—Attended by only informal exercises, the beautiful silk department banner of the Oregon W. R. C., which was formally presented to the Salem chapter at an annual convention of the department in this city just 29 years ago to the day, was placed in the hall of representatives of the state capitol today. Mrs. Cora McBride of Portland, department president of the Woman's Relief corps for Oregon; Mrs. Norma Terwilliger of Salem, patriotic instructor of the Salem W. R. C.; and Sam A. Koser, secretary of state and custodian of the capitol building, were present at the informal exercises attending the disposition of the emblem.

The banner, which has been carried at the head of the Oregon delegation at many of the national encampments of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. during its lifetime of more than a quarter of a century, now occupies a place of honor in the legislative hall, being flanked on either side by oil paintings of Oregon's former governors. The exposed side of the banner, which will be permanently preserved in the legislative hall, bears the inscription on a crimson background, "Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary of the G. A. R., Department of Oregon," the words encircling the state seal in colors.

Four of the 524 accidents in Oregon industries, as reported to the industrial accident commission for the week ending August 5, were fatal, according to a summary issued by the commission. Workmen losing their lives during the week were: George Bowman, truck driver, Sheridan; N. H. Fennell, lumberman, Algona; J. Houston, miller, Klamath Falls; J. A. Blair, logger, Klamath.

The public service commission will hold hearings at Hillsboro on August 12 and at St. Helens on August 13 on the petition of the Portland, Astoria & Pacific railroad for permission to construct grade crossings over public highways in Columbia and Washington counties. Some 15 to 20 crossings are involved in these hearings. A hearing will be held at St. Helens August 13 on the application of the Miller Creek Logging company for permission to cross certain roads in Columbia county.

Application for permission to appropriate water from the Wilson creek reservoir for power purposes for the operation of a proposed pulp mill has been filed with the public service commission by Frank Rearden of Bay City. Another $1,500,000 block of the $10,000,000 bond issue of the Oregon Power & Light Co. was sold today.
