Whales Prove Attraction for Beach Resorters

TWIN ROCKS, Or., Aug. 7.—Bathers and beach strollers have been much interested the last few days in watching several schools of whales which have appeared just off shore. Their spouting is usually the first thing to attract attention, but the sight of a tail-flip or of a broad, glistening back, as often reveals their presence to an observer of the waters.

At the Goodfellow cottage last week were Mrs. Smith and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Jamison of Portland. Miss Dorothy Smith of the Portland library joined them over the week-end.

Spalding cottage will be occupied until September by Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Spalding and James Lee, all of Portland.

For the remainder of the season Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McMullen and daughters Virginia and Mildred of Portland will occupy apartments in Rock View Villa.

At the Caldwell cottage for all of August are Mrs. Harley Drake and Miss Helen Patton of Portland. Miss Edith Costello, also of Portland, is spending a few days as the guest of Mrs. Drake.

Mrs. S. B. Huston and Mrs. Anna Calendar and Miss Hazel Calendar were honor guests at a dinner party given Friday by Mrs. Mary D. Sampson.

Kelms Kote Kamp was established on the ridge last week by an auto party composed of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Kallems, Mrs. Vivian Marcus and David Kellems of Eugene, and Miss Margaret Bounds of Myrtle Creek. With them until Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson and children, Lucile, Carol and Muriel of Salem. The remainder of the party will proceed from here to Yellowstone park.

C. A. Kressman of the United States National bank, Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday with his family here.

Rockaway

Rockaway, Or., Aug. 7.—The past week has witnessed a noticeable shifting in the crowds of vacationists at this beach. The number of visitors is probably greater than before, but the return to the city of those whose vacations occur in July and the coming in of the August crowds has resulted in a changed personnel.

The Rockaway Amusement club was entertained with a dancing party on Tuesday evening at the Saltair dance hall. Mrs. Carl Neth, Mrs. J. G. Jasmann and Miss Beatrice Quackenbush were hostesses of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. White and daughter, Frances, motored in from Cornelius to spend a week camping here. With them are Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kenton and two sons, George and Eldon, and Miss Carlys Miller, also of Cornelius.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Schedler and daughter Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Parcell and daughter, Ada, of Portland, are guests at the Ocean Crest apartments.

A farewell bonfire was given on Tuesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Johnston and their daughter, Marjorie, of Walla Walla, who returned home Wednesday. After a picnic supper, during which weinies were roasted and marshmallows were browned over the coals, the merrymakers spent the evening singing old-time songs.

Manzanita

Manzanita, Or., Aug. 7.—The quiet weather and lack of wind which have characterized the summer season so far have made picnicking on the beach particularly enjoyable this year and appetizing luncheons, dinners, and even breakfasts, spread on the sands are frequently to be seen. One of these events of the past week was a dinner party held Thursday at the sunset hour at which the following persons were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dwyer, Miss Ina Winkelman, Miss Lillian Hendrickson, Miss Ada Warner and Miss Mina Dwyer.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emil G. Kardell at their cottage over the week-end were George and Elmer Kardell of Eugene.

Making a brief stay at this resort are Miss Hazel Christiansen and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brandt, all of Portland.
