CIVIL ENGINEERS OPEN NATIONAL CONVENTION HERE

The fiftleth annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers opened Monday morning at the Multnomah hotel with a meeting of the board of directors. The business session will be held Tuesday, while the remainder of the week will be devoted to various forms of entertainment and the visiting of local engineering projects.

About 300 engineers from all parts of the United States are in attendance. The meeting is being devoted largely to reorganization matters, 14 amendments to the constitution coming up for consideration. It will be decided also whether the society shall join with other engineering societies in the new engineering council recently organized in Washington.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK

The convention proper will open Tuesday, J. C. Stevens, president of the Portland section, presiding, Gov-ernor Olcott will give the address of welcome for the state and Mayor Baker for the city. A representative of the Oregon Technical council, a body com-posed of national engineering societies having a local section in Portland, will also speak. President Arthur P. Da-vis, chief engineer of the reclamation service from Washington, D. C., will respond on behalf of the American So-dety of Civil Engineers, after which the meeting will be turned over to the presi dent.

Numerous entertainment features have been planned for the visiting engineers The flower show composed of blossoms from Portland floral shops, homes Portland engineers and the gardens at Peninsula and Washington parks, will open in the Multnomah lobby Tuesday morning.

SOCIAL FEATURES ARRANGED Automobile rides have been arranged for the guests, both about the city and up the Columbia river highway. During the business session Tuesday the women guests will be taken shopping and sight-seeing in the morning and entertained nt a tea at the Waverley Country club in the afternoon. A dance will be given in the grand ballroom of the Multnomah Tuesday night.

Wednesday will be devoted to a trip creek, where luncheon will be served. Stops will be made at Crown Point, Wahkeenah fails and Multnomah fails. In the evening a smoker will be given in the grand ballroom at which Frank Branch Riley will give his illustrated the Northwest.

nspection of Portland port, a visit to the Oregon City paper mills and an in-spection of the P. R., L. & P. power plant at Cazadero. The Royal Rosarians will give a band concert in the evening.

ELTON COURT FIRE TRAGEDY CLAIMS ITS FOURTH LIFE

John Jenny, 28, an employs of the Wiley B. Allen company, died at 5:30 Sunday morning at St. Vincents hospital, another victim of the fire at pital, another victim of the fire at about by Mrs. Abercrombie's divorce the Elton Court hotel Saturday from the former Baron von Brincken morning. His is the fourth death caused by the conflagration.

Jenny was burned badly while escaping from the building over the roof and down electric light wires to an adjoining building. His brothers, Hardy and Medard Jenny, who were rooming with him and who also made their escape by the aerial route, were slightly burned. but their condition is not"serious. Their wounds were dressed at the Emergency hospital.

BURIAL PLANS MADE The body of John Jenny has been re moved to the Miller & Tracey undertak-ing parlors. It will be taken to Jenny's former home at Mount Angel for burial. Joseph Jenny, father of the fire vic tim, was in Portland Sunday, but returned to his home after the body of his son had been removed to the undertak-ing parlors. The two brothers, Hardy and Medard, have also returned to Mount Angel.

Those who saw the escape of the Jen-ny brothers from the burning building say it was spectacular. They were sleeping in a room which looked out on a portion of the roof. They knew nothing of the fire until the flames and smoke were entering their room. The roof was so hot that it burned their feet. Their escape was cut off toward the fire escape and they were forced to take the hazardous chance of the wires.

RELATIVES IN CHARGE Funeral arrangements for the first three victims of the hotel fire are being made.

made. A nephew, Rex Walsh, is here from California to plan the funeral of Mrs. Josephine Chaney, veteran Portland school teacher. Services will probably be held from Holman's parlors. The Buyers' week committee which is in charge of Nathan Strauss was delighted with the early showing made Monday. At least two, probably five, more states will be represented this week and a group of merchants from Alaska will be in the city Tuesday. More merchants are expected from other provinces of Canada. Most of the merchants brought their families with them and for every registrant there is at least one more visitor in Portland. Following registration the visitors were presented with programs and couoon tickets which will admit them to all functions planned during the week. A steady round of pleasure has been prepared for the merchants until Saturday afternoon.

SPECIALTIES LISTED

Yet pleasure has not been allowed to interfere with business, so plenty of time has been allowed for the visitors to in-spect manufacturing plants and jobbing General merchandising houses were largely represented in the list of early registrants. But there were a number of specialty houses listed.

It was thought at first that even foreign countries were represented when W. E. Lewellen of Norway appeared at headquarters with his guest badge. It was later discovered that this visitor was from the town of that name in Coos county, Oregon. Lewellen is accompa-nied by his wife and son James. VISITORS REGISTER

During the first few hours of registration Monday morning, Mrs. F. M. Jones of the Jones Millinery Co. of Independence, Kon., appeared at headquarters and affixed her name to the attendance records. Mrs. Jones came 2250 miles to attend, this being the longest trip yet recorded.

The number of merchants coming from California surpassed the highest expectations of the executive committee. Southern California is particularly well represented. In addition to a score of early registrants from Los Angeles, were merchants from San Diego, there Santa Monica, Petaluma, Santa Cruz, Atascadero and Vallejo, San Francisco and Oakland were also well represented. At noon Monday the registration records at headquarters showed 500 mer chants and buyers already signed up. Many were unable to get their names on record before noon because of the crowds around the registration booths.
