Golden Rule Needed To Keep World From Ruin, Says Rev. Dana

"The world war did not solve the world's problem. The nations of earth must come under the Golden Rule. The rules that govern men in justice, fair dealing and consideration each of the rights of others must govern governments. The world needs a Pentecost."

Rev. Mr. Dana is in his eighty-third year and for more than 40 years he has been active in championing national prohibition. He was long engaged in the ministry in Ohio and West Virginia.

COLUMBIA HIGHWAY NATIONAL FEATURE, STATES ENGINEER

New York and Spokane Engineer Sees Scenic Boulevard as an Asset Deserving National Pride

"Sometimes the Columbia river highway is spoken of as a Portland possession. The reference is incorrect. The Columbia river highway belongs to America and Portland is its gateway."

Thus J. C. Ralston, New York and Spokane engineer, defined the importance of the highway as a national feature after his ride over it Wednesday as one of the delegates to the engineer convention.

The great road through the gorge of the Columbia is not less important as a highway than Portland is as a city," he continued. Yet Portland as a city is gaining new reason for praise and optimistic forecast. The harbor expansion is beginning to reach the proportions where the interior may be confident of finding port accommodations on the Columbia equal to the great demand for increased means of water transportation which will come as an effort to escape from the increased burden of rail rates allowed by the interstate commerce commission.

Ralston is the engineer in whose mind, more than of any other one man was conceived the Columbia basin irrigation project of some 1,750,000 acres in the Big Bend country of Eastern Washington. "This," he said, "is by much the largest and most appealing single irrigation plan in the United States and its magnitude is not surpassed by any other in the world."

The food production of that 3000 square miles when reclaimed will reach a value of $300,000,000 a year. It will furnish homes for many thousands of people and become the scene of a prosperity greater than that of the famous Yakima valley. Its consummation demands the united efforts of all Northwest communities and the rigorous exclusion of every hint of exploitation, speculation and political manipulation. The project will fail if selfish schemers try to take advantage of the interest in it for their own purposes."
