Beaver Clan Drops Fifth Game, 5 to 3

Seattle Takes Lead in Series by Nosing Out Victory; Beavers Grab One Dozen Hits.

By R. A. Cronin SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 14.—Seattle moved into a tie for fifth place with Los Angeles by virtue of the 5 to 3 victory today over the Portland Beavers, which incidentally gave the Rainiers the lead on the present series, three games to two. The Rainiers defeated McCredie's ace, "Suds" Sutherland, who started the game against Ware's veteran right-hander, Harry Gardner, who received credit for the victory, although he retired when his arm tired on him in the sixth frame, letting Bob Geary finish up the game.

Red Baldwin, who one season visited Judge McCredie's office on "the first and fifteenth" provided the feature hitting of the day with a double, a triple and two singles, driving in three of the seven runs. Fitterer struck out four hits in five trips to the plate, after having gone hitless for four games, but they did not do much damage to the locals.

Sammy Bohne's base running had considerable to do with the defeat of the Beavers. Bohne started his base stealing in the first inning when the Rainiers made their first tally. Middleton was safe on Spranger's fumble, but was forced by Bohne, who immediately stole ahead of Kauter's good throw. Schaller made a nice catch of Murphy's line fly, but Eldred's liner fell safe in Biff's front yard and Sammy tumbled. Kenworthy walked but Cox capped under Cunningham's fly.

Bill Stump's three base drive to the foot of the scoreboard and Baldwin's Texas leaguer that fell between Signin and Maisei brought Baltimore William home. Rod Murphy's recovery of a wild ball cut off a Portland run in the third which would have tied the count. Two were down from a double play when Paddy Signin hit a flier served by Handsome Harry for two bases down the third base line. Wisterall walked and Maisei also hit a double just inside third, bringing Paddy across the plate. Cunningham let the ball slip out of his hand and it headed back of the fence. Wisterall walked and made a perfect peg to Baldwin, who touched Wisterall out as he came sliding into home.

GARDNER LEAVES GAME Bohne's double to right in the third, his steal of the bases and Kenworthy walked with two out and then his theft of home in a double play with Kenworthy gave the Rainiers their third tally. Each club scored in the sixth, which saw the retirement of Harry Gardner who, having won a game Friday, concluded to remain over and take another whirl at the Mackmen before proceeding to the Canby later patch for the week-end. Harry's arm lost its zip after he had two of the visitors in storage. He walked Cox and Koehler and Spranger, who had twice fanned, singled to right, scoring Cox. Geary then came on and caused Ross to ground to Kenworthy.

Sutherland had to throw to Ross after a nice stop of Cunningham's grounder put Bill on second, with one out. He moved to third on Stump's cut and came home on Baldwin's corking triple which rolled to the center field fence. Red was marooned when Geary was thrown out by Sutherland. The visitors made their last run in the ninth frame when Kibby Spranger singled to left and took second when Geary threw badly to first to pick him off. "Baby" Blue was sent out to hit for Ross and the Beavers' star batter in gloriously fanned. Sutherland was thrown out by Bohne, which was followed by Paddy Signin's fourth hit, a single to center, scoring Kibby. Wisterall hit a long fly to Cunningham and the game was over.

Major Leaguers Plan to Strike Before Next Year Major league players who have been noting the great crowds at championship games are laboring under the delusion that they are overworked and underpaid. In spite of the fact that salaries are higher than ever this season, certain members of the playing profession are said to be organizing a union for the purpose of making a concerted demand for more money next winter. It is understood that former directors of the defunct Players' Fraternity are at the head of this movement, and that they have been working secretly to perfect the new organization for the past two months. The magnates are wise to the situation and are preparing for a struggle that may take the form of a general strike when new contracts are sent out. The players who are the leaders in this movement have seen their best days.

Portlanders Enter Gehlshaus Shoot A number of Portland shooters will attend a merchandise shoot tournament to be held today at Chehalis, Wash. The shooters will leave early today and this evening. Harry Quick, former baseball star, is in charge of the tournament.

Yankee Athletes Are Keyed To Highest Pitch for Games

By James E. (Ted) Meredith Special Correspondent Vancouver Service. Special Cable Dispatch. ANTWERP, Aug. 14.—With a crowd representing every nation in the world and every station in life looking on, the ablest athletes of 27 countries paraded before the king of Belgium today in the official opening of the Olympic committee.

The Australian athletes by virtue of the fact that their country's name begins with "A" were first in line. The Belgians, as hosts, were to the rear. The 299 men and women who represent the United States were ninth. Harry Hoerner, who is competing for the third time in the Olympic games, carried the American flag, and the giant Pat McDonald bore the standard of the American committee. King Albert made a brief address to the athletes and officially presented the stadium to Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic committee. Cardinal Mercier bestowed a blessing on the entrants and the games.

J. McGraw Tells Of Happenings At Lambs' Club

New York, Aug. 14.—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, today broke silence concerning the row which last Sunday morning has kept the Lambs club in a state of demoralization and which resulted in John C. Slavin spending the week in St. Lukes hospital with a fractured skull. After apologizing for having declined to admit representatives of the district attorney's office to his apartment yesterday, he told a delegation from that office and the police department that his mind has been a blank from the time of the fracas on Saturday night last, till he woke up in St. Sunday morning. He exhibited a star-shaped wound on the left side of his head and a discolored right eye. He said: "I was sitting with a party of friends, drinking at the club. A member came along and tried to peddle me some life insurance. I was irritated and told him to get away. An actor named Boyd (William H. Boyd) butted in and called me down and I told him to shut up. One word led to another and first I knew he hit me over the eye. I hit out at him. I saw him grab up a water carafe and that is all I remember."

Motorboats Will Race at Vancouver

Speedy Crafts to Take Part in Washington Elks' Convention This Week-End.

NEXT Saturday afternoon at Vancouver, Wash., the fastest boats of the Portland Motorboat club will compete for the beautiful trophies put up by the Washington State Elks' association during the annual convention. Members of the local organization have been busily engaged the last two or three weeks getting ready for the affair and some exciting races are apparent.

The runabouts also will be given a chance to seek more honors and the cruiser handicap contests will be featured numbers on the day's program. Through the Portland Motorboat club, Portland is heralded as having the distinction of possessing the largest fleet of 16 foot racing boats west of the Mississippi river, particularly the boats with 35 cubic inch displacement. The last time the racers were seen in action was during the Fourth of July celebration at St. Helena, but since then the owners have been tuning up for just such occasions as next Saturday promises to be.

SHOW GREAT SPEED Compared with the international team, Miss America, 26 foot liberty hydroplane, with 400 horsepower Liberty motors, and Miss Detroit, 32 foot hydroplane, with the same horsepower as Miss America, the Portland boats do not loom up very big as to size of motor and hull, but at that the smaller craft are showing the same ratio of speed. Miss America was officially timed at 80 miles an hour while Miss Detroit is credited with 76 miles per hour. It was only last week that Miss America took two straight heats in the international motorboat races in England and a third win is necessary to secure the handsome cup for world's supremacy. As yet no one boat of the Portland fleet has been able to secure two first places during regattas this year and this goes to show the well balanced ability of the entire outfit. Races were held at Newberg prior to the St. Helena regatta and all the events were close and exciting.

ENTRIES NAMED Among the entries for the free-for-all at Vancouver next Saturday afternoon are Henderson and Gades' "Tina," Farham and Roblin's "Slippery," Love's "Baby Love," Prior's "Doc Yak" and E. H. Allen's "Miss Tack." There is much rivalry between the various boat owners and each is anxious to score a victory on the Columbia river course. The Elks committee at Vancouver has secured the judges' barge and the course has been surveyed. All that is necessary now is to have the boats steamed to the mark for the first race starting at 3 o'clock p. m.

The doubles tennis tourney at Longwood, C. C. Boston, August 16, assumes more importance than heretofore because the event is open to the world. It is no longer necessary to qualify for play by winning a sectional title. Huntington hopes to plug up a few of the holes with material of last year's freshman aggregation. Brown and Shields, who played on the line in the Multnomah game, have earmarks of developing into stars.

Oregon Grid Mentor Has Task Ahead

Loss of Stars Means Hard Practice for Lemon-Yellow Aggregation This Fall.

COACH "SHY" HUNTINGTON of the University of Oregon team faces quite a problem this season, filling up the holes on the Lemon-Yellow varsity. The Oregon coach, who passed through Portland last week to visit his parents at The Dalles and incidentally chat with Captain Bill Steers, whom it is reported will not return to Oregon this fall, is not downcast over the outlook, but believes that he will be able to turn out a strong eleven.

Seven members of last year's aggregation will not be out with the squad this year. Hollis Huntington, whose great playing gave Oregon many yards last season, will coach the Anacosta (Mont.) high school eleven this season. Callison, sub center on the varsity, has accepted a position with a banking firm in San Francisco, and Bartlett, Williams and Anderson have graduated. Strawberry is ineligible and Campbell and Brandenburg of the 1919 team will be unable to play on account of a sprained ankle, which has been giving him a lot of trouble this summer.

Huntington hopes to plug up a few of the holes with material of last year's freshman aggregation. Brown and Shields, who played on the line in the Multnomah game, have earmarks of developing into stars.

MOTOCYCLISTS TO STRIVE FOR HONORS TODAY

New Program Outlined for Final Day's Show at Rose City Speedway.

ASHTON GIRL, with Jockey Frank Wilson, took the feature running race yesterday afternoon at the Rose City speedway from a field of five starters. It was the Olympic derby, to which the Portland Flouring mills had added $200. The winner collected the purse at the mile. The time was 1:50 flat for the mile. Debora, with Jesse Farrow up, crossed the tape second, after getting away to a bad start. Dr. Machett was third. In the 2:18 pace, Royal Express showed class in taking all three heats. The cowboy pony race was won by Otto Christenson; Charlie Reed won the relay race, and Kenneth Kennedy the pony express race. Miss America again won the girls' relay for the third time. Officials announce an entire change of program for this afternoon. The performance will get under way at 2:30. Motorcycle races will replace the horse races and the Wild West stunts, such as bulldozing, steer roping and bucking contests, will be taken off the bill to be replaced by exhibitions of trick and fancy riding, rope spinning and the like. The musical ride will be continued. As will Bob Hall's "drunken ride" and the chariot rides. Officials of the Oregon Humane society called a halt to the steer roping yesterday, when one of the animals suffered a broken leg and was immediately dispatched. The list of motorcycle events for this afternoon is as follows: Ten-mile race (stock machines), 5-mile race, 10-mile race (stripped stock), 3-mile sidecar race.

NEWMAN TO RACE

Among the riders listed to appear are: Bob Newman, Far Western champ; Butch Wolfstetter, Northwest champion; Ed Barrett, Red Cogburn, Walt Hatfield, Harry Reed, Frank McMoran, Fritz Gilbert, Otto Walker, Merrill Bacon, J. L. Vall, Joe Rindard, Shorly Spencer, Zeb Epsteinstein, Joe Schantlin, Ted Gilbert, E. Jones, Tony Nelco and others. Ground Broken for Stadium Ground was broken last week for the $1,000,000 Elco stadium and athletic field at Pelham Bay park, New York. When completed it will be one of the finest, largest and most modern play centers in this country. Bill Ring hasn't had many of the breaks since he joined the Central Door and Lumber Company. The big right hander has been unfortunate to run into games when his teammates were on a batting slump or else the opposition was primed strong enough to beat the "champions of the world."
