

ILLINOIS WOMAN TO MAKE TALK TO REPUBLICAN CLUB

Mrs. Taylor Marshall Is Engaged For Eastern Multnomah County Meeting; Stanfield, McArthur.

Mrs. Taylor Marshall, prominent Republican speaker of Belvedere, Ill., will speak at a meeting of the Eastern Multnomah County Republican club to be held in Carlson's hall at Gresham, Monday at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Taylor, who will assist Oregon Republicans until after the election, was chairman of the women's division of Boone county, Illinois. She points with pride to the fact that the women of her county averaged far above the men in voting the Republican ticket straight at the election four years ago.

DAY TO EXPLAIN

John L. Day, chairman of the Multnomah county central committee, will make a brief talk on organization. Another prominent speaker will attend the Gresham meeting. The Oregon Republican club will sing some of the new campaign songs written by Oregon people. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 have been offered by the county committee for the three best songs written to popular airs and submitted to Republican headquarters on or before September 1. Judges of the songs have not yet been appointed, but Joe Dunne, chairman of the finance committee, and Day are practicing the songs as they arrive, assisted by a chorus of volunteer Republicans who happen in to Republican headquarters.

LEADERS TO SPEAK

Robert N. Stanfield, Republican nominee for senator, and C. N. McArthur, Republican nominee for congress from the third congressional district, will speak before the Multnomah county central committee Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly hall of Central library. The Glee club will sing a number of new songs which have written possible prize winners are: C. R. Moore, Portland; H. C. Gregg, Hillsboro; A. W. Eotkin, M. D., Crater Lake; Emerol Stacy, Portland; Habala Mestro, Astoria; Arthur K. Mickey, Portland; Joe Dunne, F. A. Winter, Portland; Bill Perkins, Portland.

The Oregon Glee club will meet for an early session at 635 Morgan building tomorrow night, before going to Gresham.

Doctor in Auto Is Injured in Crash With Vancouver Car

While driving to the home of a sick patient at 9 o'clock Saturday night, Dr. C. E. Powell, 739 Gilliam street, was struck by a Vancouver train at Union avenue and Mason street, his automobile being demolished and his hip badly bruised.

The doctor was taken to St. Vincent's hospital and later to his home, when it was determined that his injuries were not serious.

According to the version told the police by an eye-witness who refused to give his name, Powell was driving south along Union avenue, and turned east at Mason, which is a regular stop for the Vancouver trains. Evidently expecting the train to stop at the corner, he turned in ahead and was struck broadside. The impact carried the automobile 70 feet, the informant said.

Registration for Spirit Lake Camp To Begin Thursday

The Y. M. C. A. high school boys' trip to Spirit Lake camp, at the base of Mount St. Helens, will begin next Thursday, for which registration is now under way with Secretary Rouse, Main 8709. The boys will return Saturday, September 4.

The Spirit Lake camp is located 48 miles from Castle Rock, the "Y" truck making the round trip between the two points. The place is ideal for swimming and hiking. The camp has been devoted to the use of the younger boys, but during this period it will be reserved exclusively for the boys of high school age.

Auckland Visitor in Portland Occupies Positions at Home

George Fowlds of Auckland, New Zealand, who is a Portland visitor, is a leading resident of that country, serving as minister of education and health for six years and in parliament for many more. He has always been a progressive liberal, and has supported most of the advanced legislation in that "experiment station" of the world since 1891.

Fowlds is in Portland in connection with the marriage of his daughter Tuesday in this city. He will tour the United States and Canada and expects to return to Portland in October.

In his activities Fowlds is chairman of the board of regents of the University of New Zealand, chairman of the board of the Y. M. C. A. for New Zealand and active in temperance and prohibition societies, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Masonic organizations of his commonwealth. It is likely that on his return to Oregon he will speak at Eugene and at Salem on the economic development of New Zealand, and in Portland before some of the civic organizations.

GERMANY SIMMERS WITH REBELLION

Communist Riots Break Out in Westphalia; Soviet Proclaimed in One of Towns.

By Carl D. Great. (United Press Staff Correspondent) Berlin, Aug. 21.—(U. P.)—The political situation in Germany is fast assuming a serious aspect. All the various political factions, despite their mutual distrust, have begun to align themselves in two bodies, right and left. These two groups are narrowly watching each other, fearing a "putsche" (revolt) that would put the opposition in sole control of the government.

The radicals, inflamed by continued official refusal to aid the Bolsheviks in their war with the Poles, seemingly have taken the initiative. Communist riots have broken out in various parts of Westphalia. A soviet republic was proclaimed in the town of Velbert, near Essen, yesterday, and the workers of Essen and Remscheid were expected to participate in the revolution. A general rebellion of the miners in that district is feared.

A soviet republic has been declared in Cothen, between Halle and Magdeburg. It was learned here tonight. Traffic between the two latter cities has been suspended. Government troops are reported to be on their way to suppress the uprising. (Cothen is 80 miles southwest of Berlin.)

At the same time it was announced that the senate regarding the Upper Silesia affair, denying any support of the uprising and demanding that the allies show no preference to the Poles in the plebiscite area.

Senate Committee on Funds for Campaign Will Meet Monday

Chicago, Aug. 21.—(U. P.)—The senate committee, investigating presidential campaign expenditures, will meet here Monday, according to a statement today given by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the committee.

"I am not able to say what will be done," said Kenyon. "The committee will have a full discussion of plans and decide what to do. No witnesses have been called at this time."

Cold Weather and Flood in Colorado

Denver, Colo., Aug. 21.—(U. P.)—Heavy rains throughout the mountain region the last 24 hours have caused flood and cold warnings to be issued. The temperature has been hovering around the 50 mark. Lowland ranchers were prepared to move hurriedly in case the Arkansas river goes out of its banks.

MAKING BUREAU IN THE PUBLIC TO CRATER LAKE

Excursion Will Be Run for Purpose of Studying Conditions; Highway in Good Condition.

An invitation has been extended to the public to participate in an excursion to Crater Lake on September 4, 5 and 6, conducted by the Oregon Bureau of mines and geology in cooperation with the American Association of Engineers, the Northwestern highway section of the western, and the Portland Press club.

The bureau is making a geologic survey of Crater lake and vicinity for the purpose of preparing material which will make this great scenic wonder more attractive to the tourist. The bureau geologists will take members of the excursion party on a 35-mile auto trip around the rim of the lake, stopping at various points to study the geology of the crater can be best seen and explained.

START SEPTEMBER 4. The auto party will start from the Oregon building Friday morning, September 4, stopping over at Roseburg and arriving at Crater lake Saturday morning. The state highway engineer states that the Pacific highway is in good condition and has promised a car to pilot the party over all available new grades, some of which are not yet open to daily traffic.

The tour of the lake will be made Sunday, September 5. Accommodations at the lake are limited and it will be necessary for all who desire to participate in this excursion to notify the bureau of mines and geology, 417 Oregon building, phone Broadway 1809, not later than September 1. Tents will be furnished at the lake, but excursionists will be required to bring their own blankets.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS. Those going by rail will leave Portland Friday evening, September 3, at 8 o'clock, arriving at Medford 9:30 a. m. Saturday. From there autos will be provided for the 80-mile drive to the lake. Fare from Portland to Medford and return is $1.50. Pullman fare, $2.10; drawing room, $19.44. Fare by auto from Medford to Crater lake and return is $16.50.

Arrangements for the excursion will be made with the Bend-Crater lake stage at Bend, fare for the trip being $17. Rail fare from Portland to Medford is $1.50. Transportation should be arranged through the office of the bureau of mines and geology.

Travelers Express Their Gratitude for Portland Reception

An agreeable memento of the national convention of the Travelers' Protective association, held here in June, was received Friday by Clyde Evans, secretary-treasurer of the Oregon-Washington division of the association, from the office of the national body at St. Louis, Mo. The executive committee of the travelers' association expressed their appreciation of Portland hospitality in resolutions adopted at a meeting on July 9 and a copy of the resolutions, engrossed on parchment, was forwarded to Evans.

The parchment is 17 by 22 inches in size and bears the signatures of J. R. White of Milwaukee, Wis., president, and T. S. Logan of St. Louis, secretary of the association. It will be suitably framed and hung in Evans' office, 230 Morgan building.

The Travelers' Protective association has a membership of nearly 100,000 traveling salesmen and business men in the United States. There are 1450 members of the organization in Portland and according to Evans and several thousand in the Pacific coast states. The association has been successful in J. W. Evans and Evans and several thousand in the Pacific coast states. The association has been successful in J. W. Evans and Evans and several thousand in the Pacific coast states.

The convention held here in June was attended by about 3000 members of the travelers' association from all parts of the country, together with members of their families. The July issue of the "P. A." Magazine, published at St. Louis, contains a glowing editorial tribute to the city of Portland and the hospitality of its citizens.

Stern Guardians Of Law Interfere In Record Making

Salem, Aug. 21.—Only the untimely arrival of a couple of unappreciative "cops" prevented the lowering of a number of world's speed and fancy driving records on the dirt oval at the state fair grounds here Friday night, according to witnesses to the death-defying stunts.

Impelled by the spirit that makes daring, John Pickens and J. O. Hagerty, both of Salem, were hitting the high places on the state fair track in a "blitzer bug," staging an exhibition such as even Barney Oldfield or Ralph De Palma would hesitate to attempt before attempting, when the cold, stern hand of the law interfered with their program.

Trails Club Elects H. W. Erren to Take Place of Sam Fries

The Trails club has elected H. W. Erren first vice president to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Sam Fries. Ida Marie Alsbjorn was elected second vice president for the remainder of the year.

Fred H. Kiser, past president, and Charles E. Warner, director of the Trails club, together with Ed Jorgensen of the Hotel Lenox, and a few other members, will leave Sunday morning for Belly river, Montana, one of the northern streams of Glacier park, which they will explore, spending some time on and about Mount Cleveland. Kiser led the Maxam ascent up Mount Baker in 1906, and Warner has a record of three winter ascents of Mount Hood.

Eastern Surgeons To Give Addresses At Oregon Session

Dr. Franklin Martin of Chicago, general secretary of the American College of Surgeons, has announced that Dr. John G. Bowman, director, and Dr. William G. Haggard of Nashville, will attend the Oregon meeting, which will be held at the Multnomah hotel, September 19 and 21. Clinical demonstrations will be given at the various local hospitals by the Oregon members of the college. Dr. Haggard, who is a surgeon of international reputation, and a relative of Rider Haggard, the novelist, will deliver the oration on surgery.

The American College of Surgeons numbers now about 5000 surgeons of note in the United States, Canada, and South America. There are at present 27 members in Oregon, but a number of other fellows have been elected for membership, and will be received into the college at the next meeting in October at Montreal.

The Oregon meeting will follow the same general lines of the national meeting in October at Montreal. The Oregon meeting will follow the same general lines of the national meeting in October at Montreal.

American Legion in Fight to Preserve Lands in Klamath

Members of the Portland post, American Legion, are backing the movement to head off what they term is the desolation of lands in the Klamath Falls country by the diversion of the natural waters by the Link river power dam leaving unwatered some 30,000 acres subject to settlement under the Baker bill and 75,000 acres in the Tule lake district.

On receipt of a telegram from J. H. Carnahan of the Klamath Falls post of the American Legion, Lane Goodell, vice commander of Portland post, sent a wire to settlement under the Baker bill and 75,000 acres in the Tule lake district. Cox Will Come to Portland First of Northwest Cities

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 21.—The itinerary of James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, through the Northwest in September will be from California to Portland, and thence to Pullman and Walla Walla, across the state of Washington to Bellingham, Seattle, Tacoma and other Sound points, and finally to Spokane on the way back to the East, according to information received here from the Democratic state committee.

REED PROSPECTS FOR COMING YEAR REGARDED BRIGHT

Two Noteworthy Additions Are Made to Faculty From East; Others to Be Made Later On.

Prospects for the coming year at Reed college are brightening daily, according to Professor Frank Griffin, who is administering at Reed in the absence of Professor A. A. Knowlton. Dr. Knowlton is securing new faculty timber in the East, and Friday two new appointments were announced, just too late to appear in the 1920-21 catalogue, which made its appearance recently.

Dr. Thomas Whitfield Baldwin, since 1918 head of the English department of the South Dakota State college, has been elected professor of English, and acting head of the department. Dr. Baldwin received his M. A. and Ph.D. from Princeton, specializing in English, and has since had several years' English teaching in the department. He comes to Reed with a reputation as a scholarly investigator and stimulating teacher.

MISS SHORT ELECTED. Miss Jessie M. Short, M. A., Ph.D., has been elected to the mathematics department as instructor, and her record as scholar and teacher point to her position at Reed as a marked asset. She spent a year as observer in the Yerkes observatory, as did Professor Griffin, head of the mathematics department, and has published an edition of "math" courses, the department is planning a year's course in descriptive astronomy. Dr. Short's appointment as instructor in the department, her election having followed a decision of the regents to enlarge the scope of several departments.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS. Other faculty appointments announced in the catalogue are Clement Akerman, formerly of the University of Washington, assistant professor of economics; Gardner Cheney Basset of Stanford University, professor of psychology; Imo Pearl Baughman of Stanford, instructor in chemistry; George Williams Clark of the University of California, instructor in chemistry, and Harold Sumner Turner of the University of California, instructor in romance languages.

BUILDINGS TO EXPAND. In addition to bright faculty prospects, building operations on the campus indicate an era of expansion and accommodations for more students and faculty members. The Anna Mann cottage, designed to cost $25,000, is being built just south and west of the dormitory, and it will house six members of the faculty and provide social rooms for the women of the college. Four faculty homes, two of them double apartments, are to be built in the holly grove and completed by Christmas. Several suites of rooms in the dormitory will be freed for students when the faculty homes are ready for occupancy.

France has built up an extensive industry of making artificial ivory, tortoise shell and celluloid from casein extracted from milk.

E. B. Sellers of California Here to See Fruit Growers

E. B. Sellers, who for several years has been associated with the California state market commission, is visiting Oregon to inspect the various fruit growers' cooperative associations of this state. Sellers directed the organization of the California Pear Growers' association, one of the most successful farmers' cooperative marketing associations of the golden state. He was also associated with the organization of the California Alfalfa Growers' association, the Prune Growers and other organizations.

Sellers will visit the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association, the Dairymen's Cooperative association, the Fruit Growers and other organizations of Oregon, which have been organized on the Sapiro California plan. He is accompanied by Mrs. Sellers and his son.

Pastor to Address Kiwanis Luncheon On Saxon Alliance

The Rev. R. H. Sawyer of the East Side Christian church will speak at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Benson Tuesday on "The Coming Anglo-Saxon Alliance." Dr. Sawyer has just returned from attending the British-Israel world federation in London and has given his address 14 times in England.

A. E. Peaseley will give the attendance prize, a framed photograph of the convention group taken June 18 in front of the Auditorium.

PLAYGROUND BOYS AND GIRLS WILL GIVE BIG CIRCUS

Columbia Park Wednesday Will Be Scene of Activity That Will Dim Memory of P. T. Barnum.

The twentieth century circus is coming to Portland. It will be a personally staged, personally conducted, personally presented affair under the direction of the playground department of the bureau of city parks at Columbia park Wednesday.

The big event, staged by children of the district, will start with a parade at 10 a. m. The circus opens at 2 p. m. with dancers, rope walkers, trained animals, Tom Thumb wedding, clowns and everything else that goes to make up a complete and thrilling circus.

SIDE SHOW FEATURES. There's even to be a side show, "greatest galaxy of world champion stars ever gathered in one spot." The side shows will include fortune tellers, Fat Lady Nellie; Veima, the two-faced girl, and everything—even Rain-in-the-Face, the famous Indian. The whole interesting child parent will be under the direction of Miss Ruth Ferguson, Miss Dorothy McKee and Carlyle Cunningham. At Seaside park on Thursday afternoon the playground workers will direct a girls' swimming exhibition and playground pageant entitled "The Seasons," and heralded as thoroughly delightful diversion. A number of interesting swimming races will feature the program under the direction of Anna F. Nilson, E. N. Southwick, Elsie C. Centro and Gwendolen Jane.

SWIM TO BE CARD. On Friday afternoon, starting at 3 p. m., a swimming exhibition will be staged at Peninsula park under the direction of Elsie Centro and Miss Jane. The exhibition will include fancy swimming, diving, life saving and "clowning stunts" in the water.

The story of "The Seasons," the parent at Seaside park Thursday is Persephone, the goddess of Sunshine, is stolen from her mother, Ceres, the goddess of summer, by Pluto, the king of hades. With the disappearance of Persephone comes dark, cold weather. Sorrows falls upon the earth. Finally Ceres decides to ask Pluto to give back her daughter. He consents to let her stay on earth six months of the year. With her comes Spring and everything is happy. When Pluto takes her away again, Winter returns.

Miners in Indiana Ordered to Return

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 21.—(U. P.)—Striking coal miners who have tied up the Indiana field for two days were ordered today to return to work by Ed Stewart, district president of the United Mine Workers.

Wellington, cannot be told from new, only $325

Economy Is Paying the Smallest Price and Getting the Best for Your Money

The pianos in this sale are of high character. Our Guarantee, as broad as we can make it, is back of every one. We know they are the best instruments, very much the best instruments, that may be bought anywhere for so little prices. We know that every one of them will give satisfaction. We know that the remainder of the week will bring the best chances to buy pianos that have ever been offered in this city.

Crown, full size, excellent condition, only $365

The Long Winter Evenings Will Soon Be Here

Think how much fun it will be to have your friends in for an evening of music, how much easier it will be to keep the young folks at home, think of the prestige and air of prosperity it gives you. Here are slightly used pianos which have come to us in exchange and hardly to be told from new, all at offerings that are rare, decisive, commanding.

The Season and Conditions Make Piano Buying Easy

The last few months have seen a shortage of pianos. Dealers have struggled to keep their stocks up. The demand has been greater than the manufacturers could supply, but there are many people out of the city at present and business has quieted down accordingly. This sale is to stimulate quick turnover. This is the best economy time of the year. Especially with the pending increase in freight rates which will in all probability materially increase the price of all pianos in the near future.
