Atmospheric Coil of Seattle Boy Viewed Rather Suspiciously

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 23.—(I. N. S.)—Two more tests have been made of the mysterious "atmospheric generator," invented by Alfred M. Hubbard of this city. These recent trials were with generators operating an automobile. A 60-pound generator was used in one test and in another a generator used a few weeks ago in a motorboat. Hubbard claims for his invention that it obtains no power from outside sources.

So far electric engineers in this part of the country have viewed the coil with suspicion, as the inventor has carefully kept his secret, if he has one, away from the public. The coil has the appearance of a large spool of white wound wire on base a foot square. The spool is about 12 inches in height. Generator and motor occupied less space than the gasoline engine of the automobile which had been removed for the tests. No one has been allowed to examine the coil before it has been attached to an automobile or motorboat. It propelled the automobile in which the test was held yesterday at a speed of 25 miles an hour, according to reports.

Fraternity House Is Under Ban Until It Reforms Customs

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 23.—(U. P.)—The Berkeley chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity must "cease to exist as a household until such time as the university is satisfied it can lead a wholesome and orderly life," President Barrows of the University of California has announced. President Barrows' announcement came as a result of his investigation of charges that last May men and women had staged an all night party at the fraternity house at which, according to a complaint made by persons living in adjoining houses, wine flowed and life was overjoyous. The announcement created a sensation on the university campus. Barrows said that while it was not shown that more than two members of the fraternity actually engaged in the party, all of the members were responsible for the conduct of the fraternity house. For withdrawing splinters, an Englishman has invented tweezers so formed that they press down the flesh on each side of the jaws.

Why is it that a cup of fine tea, with all its rare fragrance and richness of flavor, actually costs less than a cup of common tea? That's easy! The costs of getting tea from the teaplat to you are heavy—have to be. They are a large part of the price of tea; and about the same for common as for fine tea.

You see, now, don't you? It really isn't worth while to bring over that common tea, with its weak flavor and vegetable taste. Schilling Tea is the finest practical economical tea of this country.

Effects of Prohibition Law, Splendid, Is Report of Olcott

Salem, Or., Aug. 23.—The Anti-Prohibition campaign council of Scotland found little encouragement for its cause when it looked to Oregon's executive for an expression on the effect of the "dry" movement in this state. Declaring that "the most extravagant claims are being made by the Teetotal party here as to the great blessing of prohibition in America," the request for an expression from Oregon's governor states that "we are asked to believe that drunkenness is now unknown, and crime, poverty and insanity are fast disappearing, and that jails and hospitals are being shut up, etc.—in short, that the millennium is in sight." All of which claims of the Teetotal party are indorsed in the reply by Governor Olcott, who adds that "this state was never so prosperous, merchants are universally in excellent financial condition, bills are paid regularly and the people of Oregon would never consent to the return of licensed saloons."

AT one time or another in your experience, you have no doubt felt the influences that are at work, setting the small car owner apart from other motorists.

The time that you felt it most, perhaps, was when it came to a question of tires for your car.

What every tire dealer hasn't yet found out is that you can't judge a motorist's intelligence by the length of his car's wheel base.

Some of the most critical and experienced motorists in the country are found among the owners of small cars.

Men and women who could afford to own any type of car made, but who were led to the small car for logical reasons.

These are the men and women whom the indifferent type of tire dealer has left out of his calculations.

Intent as he is on looking merely at the cars that drive up to his store, instead of at the men and women who own them.

The United States Rubber Company has never assumed that the best was too good for the owner of any small car—whether Ford, Dort, Chevrolet, Maxwell or any other.

United States Tire Company

TIRE DIVISION OF UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY

111-115 North Sixth Street

It has never built a high grade of tire for the large car and then cheapened it for the small car.

All of its unlimited facilities—greater and more widespread than those of any other rubber manufacturer—have been devoted from the beginning to building tires of standard and uniform quality.

The same quality in the 30 x 3 1/2 inch size as in the largest size tire it builds.

And nothing less.

U.S. 30 x 3 1/2 inch tires come in four treads—Nobby, Chain, Usco and Plain—a tread for every road.

They are built by experienced workmen in a factory devoted exclusively to the manufacture of small size clincher tires.

A factory which has produced more tires every year for the last three years—and still is unable to produce them fast enough.

The good tire dealer—the man who treats all car owners alike—never even suggests that you be satisfied with anything less than U. S. Tire quality.

He encourages and aids his customers in their search for the best.

Until you have met him, you will never know what it is to get the utmost economy out of your car.
