Lady Burglar Passes Shoes; Feet Too Big

Police are looking for a lady burglar of size and proportions to find the clothes of Mrs. A. P. Smith of 110 Floral avenue, but who has larger feet.
The reason for this quest is the fact that while the Smiths were away on a six-weeks' vacation, thieves entered the house and stole several of Mrs. Smith's dresses. Scattered about the boudoir were evidences of an elaborate seance of trying on, and fitting. Mrs. Smith's shoes had been tried on also, but were found too small, as evidenced by much powder put inside to make them slip on more easily.
Among the articles stolen by the lady burglar, who had entered by means of a pass key and was evidently accompanied by a man, were a set of furs, 10 pairs of silk hose, several dresses, a man's suit of clothes and an Elk pin and charm.
On a dresser was found a forged check for $25 which the intruders had evidently dropped there and forgotten.
W. W. Yager, 410 Fifth street, told the police he had called the Smith home by telephone August 9 and that he was answered by the voice of a strange man. He thought nothing of it at the time, as he was told it was "Smith's brother."
The robbery was discovered Thursday night.

MEXICANS SEIZE RIFLE CARTRIDGES

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Fifty thousand 22-caliber rifle cartridges were confiscated today by Mexican customs officers when an attempt was made to smuggle them across the border into Mexico in a push cart. A Mexican was placed under arrest at Nogales, Sonora.
One hundred and fifty thousand rounds additional were smuggled out of the express office through one door while a United States customs inspector and the other door, it is reported. One hundred thousand rounds are still under surveillance of government agents at the express office.
It is expected that the smuggling was intended for men planning a revolt against the De La Huerta government in Sonora. The authorities refuse to discuss the case.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—Joseph Chaper today planned to secure a reprieve for the body of his wife and the surrender of his son, held by a hospital here in defiance of a $750 bill. Hospital authorities have notified Chaper that they will not release his 6-week-old son or permit the burial of his wife until the bill is paid. Chaper protested he had not sufficient funds to pay the hospital bill.

Senator Chamberlain Rescued His Tin Lizzie Given Lift

By Ralph Watson (Journal Staff Correspondent)
Lakeview.—Jeff Riddle came roaring up the grades and around the turns on the mountain road across the Klamath reservation between Beatty and Bonanza in the night of Friday, August 20. He drove the steepest grade in the state faster than did his Modoc mother-in-law the dead years gone by, when she rode her flying Cayuse from Eureka to the lava beds and on to Fort Klamath and his rebellious warriors, to lay down their arms before the advancing soldiers of Uncle Sam.
BONDS ARE BROKEN
Winema (for those who have forgotten the characters of the Modoc war), was a young Indian woman, strong and vigorous in those days, when Captain Jack and his homesick tribesmen broke their bonds to leave Fort Klamath for their tribal hunting grounds to the south. She was at Eureka when the army messenger reached that place with his secret

JAPANESE IN MEXICO TO MUST YANKEE

Seoul, Korea, via Shanghai, Aug. 25.—(Delayed)—(U. P.)—Korean police (Japanese), who stopped Congressman Hersman as he was addressing a gathering of Koreans here today, were hustling him out of the building when the Californian resisted, refusing to budge a foot farther.
Hersman demanded that prominent Koreans who had been arrested because they attended the meeting be released. An argument resulted.
At this point American Consul Miller intervened. He persuaded the Japanese to cease their interference with Hersman and to release the Koreans.
Hersman addressed the meeting not knowing that the Japanese had withdrawn permission. The Koreans had assembled to greet the party of American congressmen who are traveling through the Orient.
The official meeting of welcome had been transferred by the Japanese, who gave the excuse that the crowd was so large the police would be unable to protect the Americans from alleged bomb plotters who had threatened their lives.
After Miller had intervened, the charge that the meeting was unlicensed was dropped.
About Korea the charge that Koreans had plotted to bomb the Americans is generally attributed to Japanese propaganda against Korea.
An earlier cable from Seoul via Tokyo did not give credence to interference of the police. It also failed to state that the Japanese police had laid hands on Congressman Hersman, stating Hirsman was "asked to leave."
All Korean stores have been closed as a silent protest against Japanese rule.

HERSMAN IS BANKER AND ACTIVE AS PRUNE GROWER

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—Hugh S. Hersman, whom Japanese police in Korea sought to force to leave for the Republicans to collect much more, though the latter have admitted collecting $900,000 this far.
Hersman is father of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' association and a member of the Hiram copper bill. Hersman is given credit for the action exempting farmers cooperative associations from classifications as trusts.

Police Requirements Made Less Severe

Applicants for positions on the police force are no longer required to take examinations in arithmetic, spelling and penmanship, according to an announcement made by the municipal civil service board at a meeting Thursday afternoon. The age limit of 35 years has also been abolished, and the board is expected to result in a large number of applications, and will open the way to permanent employment for seven men between 35 and 47 years now serving as temporary members of the force.

Girls Give Blood to Save Soldier's Life

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—Two Los Angeles girls are vying for the honor of supplying Edward C. Armstrong, soldier patient in a military hospital, with one pint of blood. Physicians said the operation will be necessary to save the life of the girl, Maud Davis and Vivian Butler.

O-W-I Plane Burns On Marshfield Field

Marshfield, Aug. 27.—A Curtis airplane, owned by the Oregon, Washington and Idaho company, caught fire and destroyed on the aviation field here Friday. Aviators Briggs and Case were starting on a trip to Myrtle Point. The carburetor backfired, igniting the gasoline and the machine was in flames in a moment. The fire department was called but the plane could not be saved. The loss is about $200.

"Boys, Get the Money," Cry of G. O. P. Leader

In offering proof of his charge that the Republicans are raising a huge slush fund with which to purchase the presidency, Governor Cox quoted the following from the official bulletin issued from the office of Republican National Treasurer Fred W. Upham:
Carding and Coolidge have the confidence of the people. BUT, BOYS, GET THE MONEY. The platform is sound enough to hold the weight of the nation. BUT, BOYS, GET THE MONEY. It takes time to organize, but we haven't any more time left: BOYS, GET THE MONEY. The weather is hot, the men are on vacations, meetings are hard to get, BUT, BOYS, GET THE MONEY. There are hills to climb, but if you want to make a hill at same speed you have been running where the road was level, you have to give it more power. Give her the gas. Step on it."

FUND CHARGE NOT NEW, SAYS WRITER

By David Lawrence (Copyright, 1920, by The Journal)
Pittsburg, Aug. 27.—Plainly the whole case of Governor Cox rests upon the charge that Republicans planned a fund of $15,000,000 for the whole campaign and that the national organization set for the individual states huge figures only a part of which would be certified to as having been spent for the national ticket.
Of course, all these sums are estimates and very little money has actually been received by either the Democratic or the Republican national committee thus far, most of it being in pledges. The Democrats have collected less than $50,000 and their charges to the Republicans for the Republicans to collect much more, though the latter have admitted collecting $900,000 this far.

DEAN IN PORTLAND FOR SHIP BOARD

Gathering data on shipping of the Pacific and traffic and facilities of ports of the west coast for the United States shipping board, R. A. Dean, special assistant to Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the board, arrived Friday morning.
Dean has been engaged for several weeks in gathering first hand information for the use of the board. He has already visited Seattle and San Francisco and will remain in Portland probably until Monday as the guest of the Chamber of Commerce.
Recently relieved from the position of counsel for the board to undertake work of a larger scope, Dean is mentioned strongly as the probable appointee to the new shipping board from the North Atlantic section. He is considered one of the best informed authorities in the country on the affairs of the board.
In addition to the vast store of information which Dean possesses on marine affairs, he is said to be friendly to independent shipping interests and therefore in sympathy with the contentions of Portland in shipping matters. The visit of Dean to Portland is a part of his duties and his activities as a port through W. D. B. Dodson, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, at the national capital.
Information that Dean was making this trip for the board was sent to the chamber two weeks ago and invitations were sent to him by H. E. Van Duzer, president of the chamber, and H. L. Hudson, manager of the traffic bureau of the port and dock commissions.
Upon arrival Friday morning Dean was taken to the Arlington club for breakfast and then made a tour of Portland's municipal docks with Hudson, E. B. Hegardt, engineer of the dock commission; James Polhemus, manager of the Port of Portland commission; Frank I. Randall of the dock commission; and P. Hetherington of the Chamber of Commerce.
Dean said this is his first trip to the Pacific coast and was delighted with the hospitality shown by the various cities and citizens. He has been away from Washington so long that he declared he was unable to discuss any of the shipping board affairs.

Father of Seven Stabbed to Death In Feud Over Hogs

Eugene, Aug. 27.—Following a long feud, Vivian L. Dunten and William R. Elliott, farmers residing on Camp creek, 18 miles east of Eugene, engaged in a street duel over some hogs early Friday morning, came to blows and, in the course of the fray, Elliott drew a knife and stabbed Dunten to the heart. He bled to death a few minutes later. Dunten, it is said, was the aggressor.
The dead man leaves a wife and seven children. Elliott saved himself un-

$2,000,000 IS PAID FOR BIG TIMBER AREA

Negotiations were closed Friday for the transfer of 14,000 acres of timber land in Lincoln county, known as the Blodgett tract, together with a sawmill at Toledo and 2 1/2 miles of railroad, from the Spruce Production corporation to Fentress Hill of San Francisco, and a group of Eastern capitalists. The price paid for the property was $2,000,000.
Announcement of the sale came from Hill, who is a member of the firm of Hill & Scribner of San Francisco, and was confirmed here by officials of the Spruce Production corporation, who announced that the government has recovered in the sale a considerable percentage of the working cost of these projects.

PORTLAND COUNTY REFRESHED BY RAIN

Portland and vicinity were refreshed by a gentle, unceasing rain all Friday morning. It began at 7 o'clock and at 1 o'clock was still dripping from the heavens, some times fast, some times as mist. It was sufficient in its steadiness to quell forest fires, lay the heavy dust of country roads and refresh man, beast and all green things.
So far the weather bureau has no report indicating that the rainfall was general, but it is believed to have covered the state along the coast high winds and greater precipitation than in Portland were reported.
The precipitation will keep up Friday night and Saturday, says the weather bureau. Farther than that no prediction was ventured, even as to whether or not it would be suitable to take the automobile out Sunday.
There is nothing so efficacious in fighting forest fires as a steady, gentle rain. It is believed that the forest fires, and if the rain is general, the fires will soon be panting their last dying gasp.
That the annual forest fire loss has been less in the Northwest this season than for many years is the declaration of E. J. Kelly, forest service inspector from Washington, D. C., who has returned to the Portland office after several weeks in Idaho, Montana and Washington from the scene of the biggest fires.
"This has been due largely to the dispatch in detection, reaching and beginning work upon the fires," said Kelly.

Polish Reply Will Not Be Bared 'Till Points Are Cleared

Washington, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Poland's note to the United States in reply to the request of this nation that Poland should extend beyond its ethnological boundaries in warring against Russia will not be given out for the present, Secretary Colby announced today, although it had been planned to do so.
The note is still the subject of correspondence, Secretary Colby stated. It is understood that the state department has asked that some of the points in the note which are not entirely clear, either through phraseology or through garbling, be explained.

Polish Reply Will Not Be Bared 'Till Points Are Cleared

Washington, Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—Twelve hundred longshoremen employed on the piers of the White Star line here went on strike this afternoon as a protest against imprisonment of Terence MacSwiney in an English prison and the refusal of the British government to permit Archbishop Mannix of Australia to visit Ireland.
The strike was joined by about 800 longshoremen from the Cunard line, another British concern, and 130 firemen from the White Star liner Baltic.
The White Star longshoremen after 10 women, bearing placards and shouting, marched down to the White Star piers. These women circulated among the men, who soon returned to work until the entire British crew of that ship had been replaced, on the ground that the crew permitted officers from a British destroyer to remove Mannix, who was bound for Ireland, and take him to England.

"COO'S" MILK HIGHER THAN "WAGON" KIND

Differentiation in quality between what the term "wagon milk" or that sold by the big distributing plants, and what he called "cow's milk" or that sold by the producing-distributor is the reason that the latter gets a higher price for his product, according to the testimony of Alma D. Katz, president of the Oregon Dairymen's Cooperative league, who resumed the stand this morning before Circuit Judge John McCourt in the milk injunction suit against the Nestle Food Products company and the Portland milk distributors.
According to Katz, the milk retailed by the producing distributor is not subject to storage and which is recorded milk handled through distributing plants and for this reason contains a larger amount of butter fat and is consequently worth more money.
Katz testified that he paid 18 cents a quart to a producing distributor for milk for his household when it was being retailed by the large distributors for 15 cents and that he considered the unstandardized product well worth the difference.
The answers of the witness were in response to a query from Judge McCourt as to why the producing distributors received more per quart for milk than did the large distributors.

PRICE JUSTIFIED

Katz testified that he paid 18 cents a quart to a producing distributor for milk for his household when it was being retailed by the large distributors for 15 cents and that he considered the unstandardized product well worth the difference.
The answers of the witness were in response to a query from Judge McCourt as to why the producing distributors received more per quart for milk than did the large distributors.
Katz admitted under cross-examination by Chris Bell, attorney for the Portland-Damascus company, that an increase in the distributors necessarily meant an increase to the ultimate consumer. He charged, however, that the large distributors in increasing their price 1 cent a quart on July 1, should not have confined the increase solely to the bottled milk sold to housewives, but should have extended it to cover milk sold wholesale to restaurants and hotels.
Katz stated that he heard you admit that the kettle is black," retorted Dan J. Malarkey, league attorney, answering for the witness.
Katz stated that he did not believe the league should control all the milk supply in the city of Portland. He said the enactment of legislation toward the appointment of a milk commission which should regulate prices because of what he considered the intangible nature of the milk business.
Thursday afternoon Katz explained the organization of the dairymen into a cooperative marketing association. He stated that the organization had been organized because of the illness of W. W. Cotton, who was first elected to become head of it.

BETTER PRICES AIM

He said the dairymen organized to get better prices for the milk, and that only through their organization did he believe that the organizing industry had been able to get the state.
Fred O'Donnell, who had charge of handling the fund raised by the distributors to fight the league, appeared on the stand Friday morning and was questioned by Malarkey as to the amount of money that had been raised for the campaign. O'Donnell stated that the amount was $150,000 and that the league had been organized to induce collective bargaining and get more nearly cost of production for the farmer.
Shrock admitted that the league was trying to get a 100 per cent membership among the dairymen in Coos and Curry counties.

DOCKMEN STRIKE IN MANIX BEHALF

New York, Aug. 27.—(U. Huge Profits Laid To Chicago Stores

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—Charges that big State street department stores are making enormous profits, and suits of clothes are selling $60 above cost and shoes at $9 above the wholesale price, were made today by a statement by United States Attorney Charles F. Clyne.
The police had warned the king to go to work or leave town. He persisted in doing neither, so Lieutenant Robson and a patrolman arrested him. The queen and her 15-year-old daughter had previously been arrested for reading papers without license and they were prevailed upon to discontinue the south-siding profession.

NOMINEE IS DEAD WITH DOUBLE ROOF

By Herbert W. Walker
New York, Aug. 27.—(En route with Governor Cox to New Haven)—Any attempts of Republican leaders to deny the figures quoted at Pittsburg last night in support of his charge that the G. O. P. campaign fund goal is $15,000,000 will be met by "additional revelations," Governor Cox said today.
He indicated his next move would be to give the names of the heaviest contributors to the Republican fund, and to attempt to prove his assertions that the $1000 limit announced by Senator Harding is being evaded.
"Therere have been charges that the Democratic fund also needed looking into," it was suggested to Cox.
Cox found deficit
Cox officially boarded the Democratic campaign ship from the Democratic headquarters, July 7. What happened before that time I know nothing of. What has happened and will happen since that date, I will know all about it, may say, however, that when I did board the ship I found a deficit—not any money.
Cox declared he predicted a year ago that Indiana was the Republican party would go back to the days of Mark Hanna in the matter of financing its campaign this year.
In a conversation with the newspaper correspondents here that he feels that the "slush fund" fight already has reached the stage where it is very necessary for the Republicans to start explaining things. Meantime, he added, "I will continue to furnish more lead that may follow. The charges, of course, are considerable development," he said with a smile.
WANTS SENATE ACTION
The crux of the situation, however, he said, was simply this: "The Republican party is the only party investigating committee the leads. They can call the Republican national chairmen to account."

LET HAYS DENY IT, SAYS HARDING

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 27.—Senator Harding today declined to comment in any way on the charges regarding Republican campaign contributions. He said it would be more "becoming" to allow National Chairman Hays to discuss it.
New York, Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—"Of course, Candidate Cox falls to prove, as he has failed and will fail to prove his charges," said Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, said in a statement today. "This is simply because his charges are false."
Boston, Mass., Aug. 27.—Governor Coolidge, Republican vice presidential candidate, commenting on the figures given out last night by Governor Cox in Pittsburg in support of his charge that the Republicans are raising a campaign fund of $15,000,000, said today: "I know of nothing to warrant those charges. No such plan as he outlined, and no such plan as a busy perusal of the charges, has been made."

Two Companies of Infantry to Take Part in Battle

Two companies of infantry recruited from overseas men of the Ninety-first division and of the old Third Oregon will be utilized in providing the thrills in the staging of the "Battle of the Argonne" at the Twenty-fourth and Vaughn street baseball grounds the night of September 8. The performance will be given under the auspices of Portland post No. 1 of the American Legion and all funds derived will go toward the new clubrooms of the organization.
It was through the courtesy of Judge William W. McCredie and Manager Walter H. McCredie of the Portland Pacific Coast league baseball team that the grounds were secured for the occasion. Hand grenades, staves, bombs and all that went with them will be depicted in a fireworks display which will consume the greater part of two hours.
The same program was given in the Tacoma stadium and more than 30,000 spectators were highly entertained.
Lewis White, a veteran of the Argonne and a member of Elmer J. Noble post of Seattle, will superintend the production of the play. White, a member of the Portland post No. 1, has been named as a committee to handle the local details.

Gypsy King Lands In Jail Because He Refuses to Work

That, at least, is the declaration of the police following the arrest Thursday night of Zick Zick, monarch of the Portland Gypsy colony, who was listed on the blotter on the same line with the odious word "vagrancy."
Police Captain Moore was somewhat out of sympathy with the roma of the wild young life, out-of-doors, the wider gypsy programs of getting a livelihood.
So King Zick was escorted to the municipal jail and amid the walling of Mrs. May Stevens, reputed queen of the nomads, his majesty was held to $100 bail. Her majesty was likewise taken to post bail—$50 in her case—though this was later eliminated.
It was discovered that she had not been arrested, but had merely followed in his entourage.
The police had warned the king to go to work or leave town. He persisted in doing neither, so Lieutenant Robson and a patrolman arrested him. The queen and her 15-year-old daughter had previously been arrested for reading papers without license and they were prevailed upon to discontinue the south-siding profession.

Washington, Aug. 27.—(U. N. S.)—John W. Davis, American ambassador to Great Britain, who arrived in this country several days ago on leave, today held a long conference with the secretary of State Colby and rendered a report on conditions.
Secretary Colby would not discuss the conference.

Los Angeles County Population 936,438

Washington, Aug. 27.—(U. P.)—The census bureau today announced population of Los Angeles county, California, as 936,438.
