

THE ANNUAL THEATRE season opens with the advent of September. The Journal's stage and screen department, daily and Sunday, will follow the season's activities closely and impartially, in news and reviews.

Stage, Screen; Woman's Realm

THE POLITICAL SITUATION is growing in interest and intensity with the passing days. The Journal, by virtue of its unsurpassed wire service and staff of special correspondents, is equipped to give the news first.

Big Reception Is Held For Pastor

Members of the East Side Christian church and congregation joined in tendering a reception Thursday evening to the pastor, Rev. R. H. Sawyer, and Mrs. Sawyer, Miss Jessie Lynne Sawyer and Miss Joyce Sawyer and to two prominent members of the church who were recently married, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ganoce (Violet Baker).

WHO? WHAT? WHERE?

ORPHEUM—Broadway at Taylor. Big time vaudeville. Emma Hale, headliner. 7:30, 9:30.
PANTAGES—Broadway at Alder. High class vaudeville and photographic features. Affection and devotion. Program changes Monday afternoon.

Orpheum Opens; All's Well on First Bill

By S. R. Jr. It seemed just as natural as ever to be sitting in the Orpheum again Sunday afternoon and the capacity audience that celebrated the opening of the 1920-21 season with Manager Frank McGettigan was well entertained from the moment George E. Jeffers, director, and his concert orchestra played the opening overture until their exit number.

THE Strangler notices

THAT the rain Saturday night made an error of judgment on the Fifth street side of the big department stores. That, judging from the streaks it left, the rain must have been very dirty.

Turpin Film at The Liberty Kills Gloom

BEN TURPIN, he of the "bewitching" eyes, is the hero in Mack Bennett's new super-comedy, "Married Life," showing at the Liberty this week. Turpin is seen first as a football player and hero in a big college game and later as Rodney St. Clair, dashing leading man in an amateur drama, full of kisses and blood-curdling situations.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Judith is sometimes confused with Edith because of its similarity of ending, but this is an erroneous contention. It really has its origin in the difficult northern name of Gyda or Gytia, which because it sounds like Gith, the contraction of Eadgyth, are believed to have some connection. But Judith is purely northern, having belonged to the proud dame of Hordaland, who refused to marry Harald Harfagre unless he was sole king of all Norway.

Portland Asked to Give Old Clothes

By Yella Winner. UNLESS Portland people are more liberal with their donations of used clothing, old shoes and other salable articles, the American Red Cross shop at 69 Third street will not be able to continue, as it has during the past year, the principal source of revenue for the American Red Cross chapter in Portland.

AMUSEMENTS

TICKET OFFICE SALE Opens Today HEILIG Broadway at Taylor Phone Main 1. THIS WEEK ROYAL ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY CELEBRATED COMEDIAN JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS

During the social hour refreshments were served, the following committee being in charge: Mrs. Amphus, Mrs. Wyatt, Miss Pearl Turnidge, Miss Sadie Jones and Clifford Reed. The rooms were lastingly decorated in autumn flowers of yellow and brown, this part of the affair being in charge of Mrs. Emma Palmer, vice president, Mrs. Ada Wells; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Wray; secretary, Mrs. May E. King.

Mrs. Josephine Othus entertained on Thursday afternoon at tea in honor of her sister, Mrs. Mary M. Monroe, of Louisville, Ky., at her home in East Hoyt street. Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Alexander Thompson are former schoolmates in Louisville. The guests were entertained with spirited talks on the topics of the day by Mrs. Alexander Thompson and Miss Lillian Hackleman.

Mrs. Walter M. Daly has returned from a summer visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stack, at Eganabab, Mich. She was accompanied by her three children, Nancy, Walter Jr. and Leah. Miss Helen Stack returned with her and will remain until fall.

Mrs. Harry Stopp and daughter, Adelaide, have gone to New York to make an extended visit with Mrs. Stopp's father. Before returning home, they will go to Paris on another important citizen of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bryant and son, Stanley, have returned from a motor trip through the Sound cities and Rainier National park. They report having a very pleasant trip and found the roads better than they expected. Mrs. E. L. Larimore accompanied them on the trip.

Miss Ina C. Powers and Fred R. Chapman were united in marriage Saturday evening at the First Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. W. T. McElveen, officiating. The attendants were Miss Lillian Hayer and Ira C. Chapman.

Among recent arrivals in the city are David K. Brace and Mrs. Brace (Dorothy Walton) of Peiking, China. Mr. Brace is head of the department of physical education at Tsing-Hua college, better known to us as Divinity college, at Peiking. Both are Reed graduates.

A wedding of unusual interest to many Portland people is that of Miss Susan Green, daughter of Mrs. Charles Green, of Aberdeen, and Helene Schmidt, which will be solemnized Sunday, September 6, at 2 o'clock. A number of Portland people will witness the ceremony. The bride-elect, who is a niece of Mrs. Fred Green and Mrs. Henry Wessinger, is a St. Helens high girl, a former resident of Portland, and since her departure from here has been a frequent visitor. Mr. Schmidt is a Worcester Tech man and is now in business in Aberdeen. He is among the prominent golf experts of the Pacific Northwest.

Mrs. Max Friedenthal and her daughters, Miss Hanita Friedenthal and Miss Mitchell, will be at home to their friends this afternoon and evening at the Grace apartments, corner Twenty-fifth and Lovejoy streets. Monday they will leave for California. Mrs. Friedenthal and Miss Maxine to stay all winter. Miss Hanita will return within a few weeks and resume her duties as executive secretary of the Portland chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mitchell of Joseph will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary September 25. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are probably the best known of Willamette county's pioneer couples. Mrs. Mitchell, who managed a hotel at Joseph for a score or more years, their many friends there plan to assist in the anniversary celebration with a reception.

Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Whiting, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Gates of Seattle, left the first of the week for New York, contemplating sailing on the Imperator for Europe, September 9. While away, Dr. Whiting will attend surgical clinics in the East and Europe.

Mrs. R. R. Giltner of Irvington entertained with a small and informal dinner party at the Hotel Portland Wednesday evening. Places were arranged for six guests.

Louis Serra of Portland is again in New York city after passing a fortnight at Newport, R. I.

Interesting visitors in Portland the last week were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lane of San Francisco and Morgan Hill, Cal. They were house guests of Miss Halg follows Bob Nelson and Frank Cronin, an entertaining and original pair of comedians, and there will be no pretense of elaborate wardrobe, but they don't need it in order to get over big. A duo and themselves would furnish a whole afternoon's fun and there would still be scores for them.

"Help," the skit on the program, is a little out of the ordinary and somewhat better than the ordinary, too, having to do with stenographers of a number of sorts and a gay old business man who engages them. The playlet is very well presented. Jack Trainor, as the business man, giving an especially clever characterization. He is assisted in the playlet by Jerry E. Farrell, Miss Dixie Loftin, Miss Patricia Abel, Arthur McComas and Miss Anabel Neilson.

Toots Davis and Bert Chadwick, a pair of colored lads, billed as "the tall house boys," open the bill in lively fashion and prove able entertainers. They dance and sing and do both well.

Edward Marabito, entertainer with a "chalk talk," in which fun is featured, and Challen and Keke do a tightwire number out of the ordinary.

The playlet, "The Reception of Charles Kenna, the street-corner fakir, whose monologue and style completely won the audience, and the "Topics of the Day," will close the program.

The engagement ends with the Wednesday matinee performance.

Judge and Mrs. W. B. Gilbert and were entertained with motor drives and other socials. On Tuesday evening they were with Mr. and Mrs. J. Thorburn Ross, who are old friends of the couple. Mrs. Gilbert, a former resident of Portland, has been a most charming Portland visitor several times before her marriage. She is an artist of note who has twice studied abroad and Mr. Lane is a prominent San Francisco attorney and a brother of Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior.

H. Chandler Egan, the well known golf champion, accompanied by Mrs. Egan, is at the Hotel Portland from Medford.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ellis of Portland were dinner hosts at the Hotel Portland Wednesday evening. They entertained seven congenial friends.

The officers of the Marcha Washington chapter of the Order of the Star will be entertained with a luncheon and five hundred party to be given Wednesday in the blue room of the Hotel Portland, the host being C. J. Carpenter, nation of the chapter. Covers will be placed for 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutchins (Evalyn Shea) left last week for their home in St. Louis. They were accompanied as far as San Francisco by Mrs. Kutchins' mother and sister, Mrs. John F. Shea and Miss Dorothy Shea, who are en route south for several weeks, the guests of Franklin Shea.

Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman and Mrs. Fred Green have returned from a week's stay in British Columbia.

That those in the front rows at a Broadway motion picture theater Saturday afternoon noticed that the young man who sings in the prologue had forgotten the words of the chorus.

That he had learned them before the evening performance.

That the old man in the yard of the postoffice building, on the Yamhill street side, is neither useful nor ornamental.

That the postmaster might start out right by having it removed.

That he'll probably have to get permission from the postoffice department at Washington and unwind some yards of red tape in order to do so.

That when we started we had no idea we were going to fill the column today.

That where there's a will there's a way.

That the rain Saturday night made an error of judgment on the Fifth street side of the big department stores.

That, judging from the streaks it left, the rain must have been very dirty.

That the drops as they came down probably collected a quantity of forest fire ashes and smoke.

That the result rather marred the effectiveness of the window dresser's art.

That the glasses as being all shined up again this morning.

That persons who put off buying their theater tickets until the last moment are often disappointed.

That the kiddies have to put on wraps now when they go out to play in the yard after dinner.

That some people do not believe that there are any such things as "no-stone" cars until they have been carried past their corners once or twice.

That most conductors haven't the heart to refuse a woman's request to be left off even when she knows very well that she boarded a "no-stop" car.

That once in awhile the motormen refuse to obey the conductor's stop signal.

That sometimes we don't blame them.

That tomorrow is the last day of the straw hat season.

That those in the front rows at a Broadway motion picture theater Saturday afternoon noticed that the young man who sings in the prologue had forgotten the words of the chorus.

That he had learned them before the evening performance.

That the old man in the yard of the postoffice building, on the Yamhill street side, is neither useful nor ornamental.

That the postmaster might start out right by having it removed.

That he'll probably have to get permission from the postoffice department at Washington and unwind some yards of red tape in order to do so.

That when we started we had no idea we were going to fill the column today.

That where there's a will there's a way.

That the rain Saturday night made an error of judgment on the Fifth street side of the big department stores.

That, judging from the streaks it left, the rain must have been very dirty.

That the drops as they came down probably collected a quantity of forest fire ashes and smoke.

That the result rather marred the effectiveness of the window dresser's art.

That the glasses as being all shined up again this morning.

That persons who put off buying their theater tickets until the last moment are often disappointed.

That the kiddies have to put on wraps now when they go out to play in the yard after dinner.

That some people do not believe that there are any such things as "no-stone" cars until they have been carried past their corners once or twice.

That most conductors haven't the heart to refuse a woman's request to be left off even when she knows very well that she boarded a "no-stop" car.

That once in awhile the motormen refuse to obey the conductor's stop signal.

That sometimes we don't blame them.

That tomorrow is the last day of the straw hat season.

That those in the front rows at a Broadway motion picture theater Saturday afternoon noticed that the young man who sings in the prologue had forgotten the words of the chorus.

That he had learned them before the evening performance.

That the old man in the yard of the postoffice building, on the Yamhill street side, is neither useful nor ornamental.

That the postmaster might start out right by having it removed.

That he'll probably have to get permission from the postoffice department at Washington and unwind some yards of red tape in order to do so.

That when we started we had no idea we were going to fill the column today.

That where there's a will there's a way.

That the rain Saturday night made an error of judgment on the Fifth street side of the big department stores.

That, judging from the streaks it left, the rain must have been very dirty.

That the drops as they came down probably collected a quantity of forest fire ashes and smoke.

That the result rather marred the effectiveness of the window dresser's art.

That the glasses as being all shined up again this morning.

That persons who put off buying their theater tickets until the last moment are often disappointed.

That the kiddies have to put on wraps now when they go out to play in the yard after dinner.

That some people do not believe that there are any such things as "no-stone" cars until they have been carried past their corners once or twice.

That most conductors haven't the heart to refuse a woman's request to be left off even when she knows very well that she boarded a "no-stop" car.

That once in awhile the motormen refuse to obey the conductor's stop signal.

That sometimes we don't blame them.

That tomorrow is the last day of the straw hat season.

That those in the front rows at a Broadway motion picture theater Saturday afternoon noticed that the young man who sings in the prologue had forgotten the words of the chorus.

That he had learned them before the evening performance.

That the old man in the yard of the postoffice building, on the Yamhill street side, is neither useful nor ornamental.

That the postmaster might start out right by having it removed.

That he'll probably have to get permission from the postoffice department at Washington and unwind some yards of red tape in order to do so.

That when we started we had no idea we were going to fill the column today.

That where there's a will there's a way.

That the rain Saturday night made an error of judgment on the Fifth street side of the big department stores.

That, judging from the streaks it left, the rain must have been very dirty.

That the drops as they came down probably collected a quantity of forest fire ashes and smoke.

H. Liebes & Co. ESTABLISHED FURS 189-191 BROADWAY. Last Day All New Fall and Winter Models Included. A deposit will secure the fur you want. Tomorrow Ends This Much Appreciated August Fur Sale. It has been a big saving to many and let it be one to you while you still have another day to save 15% to 50%

Portland Writer Does Story for Fairbanks

Supporting players for Douglas Fairbanks are rapidly being selected, indicating that within a week considerable headway will have been made with the next United Artists production from this plant. "The Curse of Capistrano," by Johnston McCully, former Portland newspaper man, a story of love and adventure having to do with the early settlers of Southern California, has been selected as the next vehicle for Fairbanks, the screen adaptation of which has already been prepared by Eugene Mullin.

Redtail the Hawk and O' Mistah Buzzard

Honest folks, deal slack! Are of mistahed for wearing black. STRIPED Chipmunk is always frisky and unusually happy. Now he was trickier and happier than ever. It was all because he had been so frightened by Shadow the Hawk and O' Mistah Buzzard. For a few minutes Peter Rabbit's little son kept his tongue still. He sat there, studying an studying that black speck high up in the blue, blue sky. "How do you do it?" he asked, quite suddenly. "How do I do what?" demanded Striped Chipmunk, looking very much puzzled. You see, he had quite forgotten what they had been talking about. "How do I do what?" demanded Striped Chipmunk, looking very much puzzled. You see, he had quite forgotten what they had been talking about. "That isn't Red Tail," said he, "that is O' Mistah Buzzard."

Railroad Men to Meet Winlock, Wash., Aug. 30.—One hundred railroad men are expected to attend the next meeting of railroad agents in Winlock, September 23. On the reception committee are J. H. Marcotte, chairman; C. P. Fulton, Chehalis agent; and J. Y. Blumstrom of Napavine.

There is no substitute for imported Pompeian Olive Oil

ASK FOR and GET Horlick's The Original Malted Milk for Infants and Invalids Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

CAN MEATS! USE KERR JARS

NOTICE Home Owners and Buyers Why buy until you have seen "The Globe" FURNACE COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF Get our prices this week ALDER SHEET METAL WORKS 454 Wash. St. Broadway 2635

Playlet Tops New Bill at 'Hip'

"THE CONDUCTOR," a cleverly constructed little playlet dealing with the woes of a pair of elopers, an irate parent and a philosophical conductor of a transcendental limited, leads a bill of exceptional merit at the Hippodrome this week. The stage setting presents the observation platform of a Pullman train and a panorama of outdoor scenery passing in the background add to the effectiveness of the act. Peggy Van Wort and Clifford Mack are the runaways, George Seany appearing as the angry father of the girl and George S. Frederick is the conductor.

A decidedly jazzy act is put on by the five Avallons, tight wire performers de luxe. The agile men and shapely women who make up the company deftly dance and play and skip about over the tiny wires with as much assurance as if on solid ground.

Farl and Edwards peddle their songs and stringed instrument music through the audience and the orchestra. A fine and amusing chatter while passing along the aisles.

Root and White sing popular melodies and do some intricate dancing. A fine Swede dialect by Clifton and Kramer tells of the difficulties of one Larsen in conducting a general merchandise establishment.

PUROLA AID TO HEALTH AND BEAUTY. Sparkling eyes, brilliant color, glowing, young skin—the result of good health! Even if Nature has endowed you with health and beauty—you must preserve them. You must retain your youth—of spirit—of action—of beauty! Healthy, young skin creates the impression of beauty more quickly than any other asset. And there are Purola Creams for every Summer time—to protect your skin from strong sunshine or wind—to cleanse the skin—to build tissue—to keep your skin clean and young. PUROLA PEROXO CREAM—is a greaseless, fragrant, vanishing cream which cleanses and softens the skin, making an excellent base for powder. It is particularly fine for skins inclined to be oily. At all druggists. Try it.

Boy Singers Are Heard in Concert

The Whitney boys' chorus won an audience at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon, and the concert will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock at the same place. Rev. H. E. K. Whitney is the spirited leader of the organization, which is on its way home to Seattle after a vacation singing trip through California. There is no charge made as admission to the concert, a collection being taken to defray the expense of the company. Besides the chorus numbers, there are a number of solos on the program. Floyd Murphy, baritone; Leon Mundy, soprano, and Edward Carey, cornet, being well received as soloists at the Sunday concert.

FRATERNAL

Anchor council, Security Benefit association, has arranged for a picnic at the next Sunday, September 5, and will have one of the most attractive outings ever given at that place.

Gul Reaseo Grotto invites all Master Masons Monday evening to accept its hospitality and good fellowship at Pacific States hall, 409 Alder street. There will be a lively program and refreshments. Visiting prophets welcome every time.

Ivanhoe homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Wednesday evening in to elect officers and receive refreshments at Neighbors of Woodcraft hall, Tenth and Taylor streets.

Rose City camp, Modern Woodmen of America, will meet Monday evening at their hall on Eleventh near Stark street and announcements will be made of the

Cullin's Famous Dog and Pony Show

AMUSEMENTS—CONCESSIONS Admission to Park Free to 5 P. M. Daily Except Sundays and Holidays. Cars at First and Alder. Fare 6 Cents

Orpheum. EMMA HAIG & CO. CHARLES KENNA DAVIS and CHADWICK NELSON and CRONIN CHALLEN and KEKE JACK TRAINOR & CO.

COUNCIL CREST PARK. Dancing Every Evening Except Sunday

PANTAGES. Europe Presents Her Favorites. THE DE MICHELE BROS. In Original Creation of Comedy and Burlesque. SIX OTHER BIG ACTS

LOEW'S HIPPODROME. TODAY-TONIGHT—Tom Moore in "Cladarella" and "The Double Life of an Actor"

CIRCLE. ANITA STEWART. "The Juggernaut"

dance. Portland's Palatial Picture Palace and Grand Leaves W. Morrison Dock at 9 P. M.—Nov. 12. LARK IN A REAL SCHOOL of professional dancers. Phone Main 7666. Private lessons all hours.

tonight. Cotillion Hall Will Open Sept. 6.

DANCING TAUGHT. ALL NEW STEPS AND POPULAR DANCES. 250 and Washington. Beginners' class starts Monday and Tuesday evening. Advanced class Tuesday evening 8 to 11:30. Plenty of delectable refreshments and dancing entertainment. You can never learn dancing in private lessons from inferior teachers who must have practice. LARK IN A REAL SCHOOL of professional dancers. Phone Main 7666. Private lessons all hours.

On With the Dance. NEW BROADWAY HALL. PORTLAND'S LATEST DANCE FAVIOR

Every Week Night. Fleming's 16-Piece Orchestra De Luxe. LEARN TO DANCE—LESSONS DAILY

LEARN TO DANCE! Dancing taught quickly and correctly at Walker's Dancing School, Alaska Building, Third and Morrison streets. Beginners' class Monday and Thursday evening. Advanced class Tuesday and Friday. Ladies $5, Gentlemen $5, for eight lessons. Professional teachers. Private lessons daily. Stage dancing and classes for children in singing and dancing.