The steamship Bermuda will load a full cargo of grain at Portland for the United Kingdom. She will be dispatched by Kerr-Gifford. The Bermuda is a British steamship and measures 4463 tons net. Lloyds. She will carry about 9000 bushels of wheat from Portland to the continent and will be the second largest carrier out of Portland for the present cereal year. The Pilar de Larranaga, no loading, will take 9600 tons and proceed to Belfast direct.

The Nicota da Larranaga is in the harbor loading for Kerr-Gifford and the Minnie de Larranaga is due the latter part of the week. The quartet of carriers will help out the September shipments, foreign, by a good margin.

In the combination freight and passenger service from Portland to the Orient the steamship Selyo Maru is due to reach the river on Saturday from San Francisco. She is in the Oregon-Pacific Steamship company and is operated by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha.

The steamship Hawardin, Columbia-Pacific Shipping company, is northbound from San Francisco. She has cargo from Europe and was held up at San Francisco for repairs. She has on board rags, olive oil, canned goods and general cargo.
