

Portland Baseball Club Has Number of Young Pitchers Signed for Spring Delivery

Portland Is Picking Up Men for '21

Seven Young Pitchers and Two Receivers to Join Beavers; Reserve List Is Filled.

SIX young pitchers and a catcher have signed 1921 contracts and another pair of young batters have accepted terms for next year with the Portland club, according to the annual reserve report filed with President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast league by Judge McCredie, president of the Beavers.

The young pitchers signed are: Fred Connell of Modesto, Cal.; John Brogan of Ontario, Cal.; L. S. Cole, Oregon City, Or.; J. C. Nofsinger, J. L. Reynolds and D. J. Taitt, all of Portland. The phenom who has accepted terms is Beams, the Albany, Or., high school boy, who is rated as a strikework wizard.

Herbie McMullen, the young catcher, who was with Portland for a short time this season, has signed for next year, and Jim Lawson, catcher of the Long Beach, Cal., high school team, is the catcher who is willing to break in under Walter McCredie.

REPORTED TO BE "WIZ"
Manager Mac has heard glowing reports about Connell, who has been pitching around Modesto this season against the two Portland jumpers—Frank Juney and "Lefty" Schroeder, who, by the way, are the only ineligible players on the Beaver reserve list this season. Connell was signed for the Beavers by a traveling salesman.

Bill Goodman, the former Victoria manager, signed Lawson for Portland. Goodman recommends Lawson very highly to McCredie.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT
Portland still retains a string on A. V. King, the catcher, and A. Michael, the pitcher, who refused to report last season. King is catching for one of the semi-pro clubs in Ohio and is doing great work.

Harold Brooks, the young Portland pitcher, says that Michael is a comer. Brooks pitched several games against him last year in a bush league in Minnesota and claims that Michael has a lot of stuff.

Nineteen players have been reserved by the Portland club. This does not mean that all of them will be back next year, as "Biff" Schaller intends to retire at the end of the present season and there is a likelihood of others being dropped before the time comes to make out transportation next spring. There are two big league clubs who want the services of George Maisei, centerfielder.

THE RESERVE LIST
Low Blue, the Beaver first sacker, who goes to the club, Blue ought to make good in the big league if he changes his disposition and thinks a little more baseball. He has all the natural ability and speed that a first sacker needs and can swing a wicked bat.

The players reserved by Portland are: Catchers—Baker, Koehler and Tobin; Pitchers—Kellio, Winters, Sutherland, Johnson, Brooks, Polson, Winters, infielders—Paddy Siglin, W. W. Kingdon, Art Bourg, Wistral, Spranger, Grantham.

Outfielders—Maisei, Schaller, Cox, Wilson, Barnabe.
Pitcher Glazier has been placed on the involuntarily retired list.

Soccer Association To Draw Schedule For Season Monday

Six teams are sure to line up in the first games of the season in the Portland Soccer Football association and efforts are being made to secure three or four more. Peninsula, last year's champion, eleven, Waverley, Athletic club, Canadian Veterans, Kerns, Mount Scott and Multnomah Guard are the squads who make up the league to date.

The next meeting of the association is set for Monday night in the Multnomah Guard club rooms, second floor of the Chamber of Commerce building, starting at 7:45 o'clock, and all teams desiring to enter the league should have a representative there at that time.

St. Johns and Arleta districts are thinking very seriously of forming aggregations and it may be that Woodstock and Sellwood will be seen in the circuit. All applications for membership must be in the hands of Secretary-Treasurer J. C. Smith Monday not later than 7:30 p. m. The directors will meet to draw up the 1920 schedule at this meeting and play will commence within two weeks thereafter, according to present plans.

All soccer players who as yet have not become acquainted with the members of the organization and who desire to play this winter especially are requested to communicate with Secretary Smith by telephoning Automatic 310-80.

He Sure Is Big Enough
Adair Lawrence, a 230-pound tackle who stands 6 feet 7 inches, is among the candidates for the Washington and Jefferson football eleven.

HUSKY SQUAD OF GRIDIRONERS WEARING THE COLORS OF MULTNOMAH CLUB THIS YEAR

Prospects are bright for a stronger team than the "Winged M" club has had in the past; couple of years, according to Harry Dorman, former Washington player, who is the head of this year's squad. Reading from the left, the players are: Back row—Layton, Day, York, Hemphill, Markell, St. Marie, Ratcliffe, Stroubinger, Anderson, Cook, Horton, Barry, Miller and Manager Dorman. Middle row—Price, Joe Brown, Kearns, Field G. Jones, Clarvoe and Tannanssee. Front row—De Cicco, Boyle, Welch, Nelson, Hughes, Brown, Rolly Jones, Hiatt, Wright and Barry. There are a number of other players out for positions on the team, which will open the season against the Oregon Aggies Saturday, October 9.

Aggie Coach Shifts Men In Practice

Rutherford Building Orange and Black Team From the Ground; Prospects Are Bright.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 25.—Having gained the confidence of the 75 players who turned out for the Oregon Aggie varsity eleven this season, Coach R. B. Rutherford is putting the men through some stiff workouts in order to put them in condition before he starts trimming the squad.

Rutherford is building the Orange and Black machine from the ground. In the daily practice session of this week, he has shifted the men continually in the backfield and on the wing positions.

LOSS OF VETS FELT
With the return of George Powell, Joe Kaaberger and "Babe" McCart, all of last year's letter men who are expected back have done their uniforms. The loss of "Coke" Hubbard, Osburn Walker, "Butts" Reardon and Carl Ladd will be felt this season. Three stars of last year's team—Hixon, Campbell and Walters—who were being counted on for the varsity eleven this season, have failed to turn out.

There is a big fight on for every position in the lineup. Powell, the plunging fullback, is assured of a berth. Holder and Kaaberger are playing half-back positions, each taking a turn at calling signals along with Hughie McKenna, former Multnomah club player, Parkinson and Summers.

Captain Rose is being tried out in the right half, end and tackle, but it is believed he will be stationed at end regularly.

THREE PORTLANDERS VIE
Three former Portland Intercollegiate league players—Hayden, Stewart and McKenna, are vying for the center berth. Hayden and Stewart played on the varsity last year, while Gieblsch held down the job on the freshman eleven.

The guards will be selected from Daigh, Christensen, Clark and McCart, with Hayden and Stewart as possibilities. Among the players trying out for tackle positions are Swan, Crowell, Clark, Courtney and Stanstrom. Hayden and McCart also are being worked in the tackle positions.

McKenna, Johnson, Reynolds, Harold McKenna and Dyer are working at the ends with Captain Rose.

The backfield material consists of Summers, Holder, Parkinson, Hughie McKenna, Seelie, Masterson, Wood, Powell and Kaaberger.

McPadden, Crowell and Seelie are said to be very promising varsity players.

Oregon Aggies to Have Polo Teams In R. O. T. C. Unit

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Sept. 25.—Polo is the newest sport to be adopted on the campus at O. A. C. Complete polo equipment for two teams has been requisitioned by Major William F. Sharp, head of the field artillery unit, and Major Chasman Hartwell of the cavalry unit, from the government base of supplies. This material is expected to arrive soon and practice will begin at once.

Twenty-six new artillery and cavalry horses of the type suitable for polo have been added to the army equipment furnished the college. It is planned to organize a polo team in the artillery and cavalry R. O. T. C. units.

Stanford university has been playing the game for some time and it is hoped that a match can be arranged for with the southern school next spring.

WILLAMETTE TO PLAY GRID GAME WITH C. P. S. TEAM

Four Games Are Arranged for Bearcats Team This Season; Play Whitman Thanksgiving.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Sept. 25.—By closing for a football game with the College of Puget Sound, to be played in Tacoma on November 13, a quartet of contests are now definitely arranged for the 1920 season and several tentative contests are under consideration. October 16 the Bearcats will meet the Chenawia Indians on their field, and will play Pacific university on November 6 at Forest Grove. The conditions for the Thanksgiving game with Whitman, to be played in Salem, were agreed upon last spring.

With 30 men on the field every night, prospects for Coach Mathews' turning out a strong team are very bright. Paul Wapato is again in molestation, after a short absence in Cheban, Wash., where he was called to testify in a civil suit. Waldo Zeller, the fast back of last year's aggregation, will be in school next week and will add materially to the strength of the back field.

With three men from last year's squad, the varsity football squad will probably be arranged for to complete the 1920 schedule.

Rathbun to Coach Aggie Wrestlers

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Sept. 25.—G. L. Rathbun, assistant director of athletics in the University of Indiana before his arrival at O. A. C., will succeed "Jim" Arbutnot as coach of the college wrestling teams. Rathbun is at present acting as assistant coach to R. B. Rutherford, head coach of the varsity football squad.

Coach Arbutnot, whose teams at O. A. C. have never been defeated in intercollegiate matches, has severed his connections with the college staff. Captain "Eli" Palmer, last year's grappler, is back and ready to lead the team against all comers. Other stars who are back are Armstrong, Gloseop, Patchin, Coyner and several other men with experience on varsity and rock teams.

Plans Long Hike To Get in Shape

Joe Morrison, a Cornell student and aspirant for the cross country team, intends to walk from Kingston, Ont., where he spent the summer, to the Ithaca, N. Y., campus as a preliminary. It is a 140 mile trek. He will be made to December to compete against an Oxford-Cambridge team has aroused unusual activity among the students and a big turn out is anticipated.

Real Sportsmanship Is Shown In Grand American Handicap

BY TRAPSHOOTERS
By Peter P. Carney (Editor National Sports Syndicate)
SPORTSMANSHIP
That's a vital word to those deeply interested in sports.

Like sympathy, you will more likely find the definition in the dictionary, but if you want to know the real meaning of the word it would be well to mix with trapshooters.

The men and women who shoot at clay targets are the highest type of sportsmen and sportswomen, and those who overlook this fact are soon shunned. Occasionally someone breaks into the sport who acquires a reputation as a target-claimer, and this shooter soon finds himself in a class by himself and he soon changes his methods of procedure or retires.

WRIGHT REFUSES TARGETS
The average trapshooter only wants what is coming to him—no more, no less. All this leads up to something we noticed at the Grand American handicap trapshooting tournament, and the incident recalls one of a similar type which occurred in the same spot last year.

Frank S. Wright of Buffalo, the amateur champion of the United States and Canada, the only shooter who has ever won the title two years in succession, is the central figure in this latest incident.

It occurred in the 18 yards championship race. Wright and George Lorimer, who won the Grand American handicap last year, were shooting in the same squad. At the conclusion of one of the 25 target events Wright took a glance at the score sheet as the boy was tearing it from the board and noticed that he was credited with an unbroken string—25 straight. He had missed three targets. Wright informed the score boy that there was an error and that the score was confused with Wednesday, due to the fact that sufficient men had not yet returned to hold practice previously, as at other institutions.

Much promising material has returned, besides the second team and the prospect for a strong eleven at Whitman this year are good. Over 40 men drew suits but rain prevented much of a workout.

With two weeks before the eleven will leave Walla Walla for the opening game with the University of Washington, Coach R. V. Borleske has called for morning and afternoon workouts. He believes in drilling the men hard and will doubtless bring out the ghost ball for evening work.

Much promising material has presented itself. Indications point toward a heavier, stronger and more experienced eleven than last year's. Borleske has eight or nine letter men to draw upon, besides the second team and the incoming freshman class. The conference ruling barring freshmen from intercollegiate games not applying to institutions with less than a thousand enrollment. Captain "Dutch" Garver, who had announced that he would not return because of work, donned a suit, sending Whitman's stock higher. He is a heavy man and for two seasons has held down the fullback position.

Winged "O" Soccer Team Out
San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The first practice of the Olympic club's soccer football team brought out some lively looking candidates. Edgar Pomeroy, manager and coach of the squad, is desirous of obtaining outside competition. If the local eleven shows to advantage, effort will be made to bring the champions of the Portland Soccer Football association to the Golden Gate stadium here.

The Old Boy Is There
In England a short (five oz) Thomas Inch, the 40-year-old veteran weight-lifter, set up a world's record by raising in the single-handed arm press a weight of 390 pounds. The feat was believed to be impossible and exceeds the weight raised by any other man by 40 pounds. Inch also beat the British heavyweight record on the one hand military press by raising 112 pounds. These feats followed his previous record of raising 356 1/2 pounds overhead.

THIRTY MEN ON REED COLLEGE'S FOOTBALL TEAM

Preliminary Practice Will Be Handled by Athletic Director Clark—3 Lettermen Back.

FOOTBALL practice at Reed college started Monday with a turnout of 30 men. The squad worked without a leader, pending the election of a captain to succeed Paul Workman, who has entered the U. of O. medical school.

Gene Murphy, who played on the Notre Dame freshman team three seasons ago, will turn out with the club eleven Sunday. Murphy is a good football man and his appearance will make other backfield men hustle if they expect to make the "marriage."

Among the other newcomers are Anderson and Stroubinger of the University of Oregon to pick his first squad within the next week so that he will have about five or six workouts to perfect his plays. Under the Dobbie system, Dorman will use only a few plays, but wants to have them perfected in the former Washington coach's style.

SCHEDULE IN AIR
Efforts to arrange a game with the University of Washington failed again this fall. Dorman is now communicating with Gonzaga college of Spokane and St. Mary's college of Oakland in hope of arranging local dates. The Olympic club game, originally billed for November 9, is up in the air and it is played all it will likely take place November 6. The San Francisco clubmen want to come north to play this season's game. Nothing definite has been decided regarding the Santa Clara college contest during the middle of November.

The Camp Lewis eleven will likely be the opponent of the clubmen the latter part of next month.

Washington Women Plan Golf Tourney

Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 25.—Preliminary plans for the organization of a Washington State Women's Golf association, the holding of a state tournament and selecting a state team from the ranks of women players of various clubs of the state were talked over this week in Seattle at a dinner given the Grays Harbor women players by the Seattle club following a contest between the two clubs at Seattle in which Grays Harbor women lost.

Canada Wants to Build the Yacht

Canada wants Sir Thomas Lipton to withdraw in their favor in challenging for 1921 American cup. Commodore Ross plans to run a publicity train from Halifax to Vancouver in launching his subscription campaign. The challenge schooner, plans for which will be submitted shortly, will be designed, built, manned and skippered by Canadians. It will be named the "Maple Leaf." It will be about 130 feet long, 30-foot water line and about 37-foot beam.

Age Limit for War Veterans May Change

Coaches of Local League Suggest Play Whereby "Vets" May Play Some More.

By Earl R. Goodwin
WHEN the board of directors of the Portland Intercollegiate league meets this week to complete the plans for the 1920 football season a very important recommendation from the coaches will come up for consideration.

The directors were scheduled to meet Friday afternoon in the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, but C. E. Cleveland, president of the league, is confined to his home through illness and the meeting was postponed until Tuesday at 4 p. m. President Cleveland's health permitting.

The coaches of the various institutions met Thursday and drew up a tentative schedule for the coming campaign and from the present age of eligibility rules along with selection of officials. They agreed that something should be done for the students whose age was less than 21 years, it was pointed out that he should be allowed to compete in a league ruling.

The suggestion was made that every effort be made to see to it that such students who have not already played their college football be permitted to appear on the gridiron during the 1920 season. It was suggested that the number of months of military or naval service be subtracted from the present age of the athlete affected and if after that the age was less than 21 years, it was pointed out that he should be allowed to compete in a league ruling.

Although the coaches have the majority, they returned to their studies, for they are entitled to some consideration. It is not likely that there will be many students affected by the ruling, should it be adopted. Furthermore, it is pointed out that the 1920-21 campaign will be the only one under which a ruling would hold away.

George G. Dewey, coach of the Baker, Or., high school football team, would like to see an aggregation to Portland and if this can be done he sees to it that a Rose City squad journey to Eastern Oregon during the Thanksgiving holidays. Dewey, who coached the University eleven eleven years ago, has been out for a little more than a week and he has been spending most of his time in preliminary practices.

Grover Francis, who has been suggested for the official referee's job during the 1920 season, has done the games of the local circuit three or four years ago. It is likely that he will officiate in quite a number of intercollegiate games this fall and winter but they will not interfere with his work here, for the Portland Intercollegiate league directors.

The opening game of the year is set for a week from Tuesday and from then the gridiron field will be a busy place every afternoon of a school day from October 5 until November 23. High School of Commerce and Washington high school are slated to appear in the first game.

Arnett May Land Steady Position

Stanford University, Palo Alto, Cal., Sept. 25.—Bob Arnett is the new backfield star which has bobbed up around the Multnomah club and he is figured on to battle some of the letter men for a position on the varsity. Coach Powell announced his first shift as a result of the work of Arnett, sending Paul Campbell, the Portland youth, to quarterback, and now Arnett will battle for the fullback position. Captain Pret Holt, another Oregonian, will not don a uniform this winter, it is said, and Campbell will have to do duty as quarterback, says the report. Arnett tips the beam around 200 pounds and has a kick on the lines of Dink Tompkins.

Efforts to arrange a game with the University of Washington failed again this fall. Dorman is now communicating with Gonzaga college of Spokane and St. Mary's college of Oakland in hope of arranging local dates. The Olympic club game, originally billed for November 9, is up in the air and it is played all it will likely take place November 6. The San Francisco clubmen want to come north to play this season's game. Nothing definite has been decided regarding the Santa Clara college contest during the middle of November.

The Camp Lewis eleven will likely be the opponent of the clubmen the latter part of next month.

You get more genuine chewing satisfaction from the Real Tobacco Chew than you ever got from the ordinary kind.
