

STILL LOWER PRICE NAMED FOR FLOUR SPECULATION LACK

BUTTER TO RISE
A rise of 1c per pound will be made in butter Saturday morning, at 6c. Butter fat will rise 1c Monday to the same price.

Market for butter is thoroughly mixed at this time. There are firm and weak spots in the trade and there is some uncertainty regarding the immediate future of values.

It is true that, aside from the Puget Sound trade, most markets of the country are quoted higher prices for butter than Portland. San Francisco has recently shown a fair advance and there has been an improved tone in the Eastern trade.

The situation at both Seattle and Portland has been adversely affected to some extent by the condensation of the market for eggs. The market for eggs is not so strong as it was some time ago, and the price of eggs is not so high as it was some time ago.

Country dealers are offering more freely during the last 24 hours. There is a general feeling of confidence in the market for eggs, and the price of eggs is not so low as it was some time ago.

EGG TRADE IS DRIFTING HERE
Notwithstanding the somewhat firmer tone noted elsewhere the market for eggs is drifting here and there. The price of eggs is not so high as it was some time ago, and the price of eggs is not so low as it was some time ago.

POLTRY IS STILL PILING HERE
Supplies of poultry continue to pile up in the local market. The weakness is most severe in light weight hens and heavy weight and most of the sales are around the lower prices named.

MEAT SITUATION IS FAVORABLE
Situation in the meat market is favorable here. There is a good demand for hogs around 22¢ to 24¢, the latter in a limited way while the bulk of the best calves sell at a similar price.

CRANBERRY DEMAND IS ACTIVE
Active demand is showing for cranberries in the local trade. L. S. Martin, sales representative of the Northwest Cranberry Growers' Association, is liberal call from both the South and North. Quality of offerings is very good and prices are maintained.

POTATO BUYING OF SMALL SIZE
Small demand is showing for potatoes for sale outside points and most of this call is for seed. Growers are in demand, but prices are not so high as it was some time ago, and the price of potatoes is not so low as it was some time ago.
