

2 MEN PAY DEATH PENALTY ON SAME CHICAGO SCAFFOLD

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(I. N. S.)—The "quality of mercy" that Shakespeare wrote about spalled the hangman's festival here today. Necks of eight men who were to hang wriggled out of the noose and instead of 10, but two men went to the scaffold in the grim, gray yard of the county jail this morning.

Of three men who were to be hanged tomorrow two have won reprieve and only one will expire his crime.

In all, 16 men of 13 who little more than a week ago were waiting to pay the forfeit of "a life for a life" that judges and juries had imposed upon them, have been given another chance. One has won commutation of sentence to life imprisonment; several have been granted the boon of a new trial and for others the evidence that first found them guilty will be reviewed. All but one, however, still lurk in the shadow of the gallows.

22-YEAR-OLD SWINGS

But for Frank Campione, a 22-year-old "gangster" and for John Henry Reese, whose skin is black, there came no reprieve and early today they walked to the scaffold and paid the penalty for murder. Throughout the death watch both Campione and Reese clung to the hope of a reprieve, but none came. Dramatic scenes in the grim old jail attended the last hours of Campione and Reese.

Nicholas Viana, Campione's companion, was to have gone to his death today. In the death cell he sang, in a clear tenor voice, his goodbye to the world. "Miserere" he chanted and the "Tower Song" from "Il Trovatore." But for the quirk of fate that made him a slayer, Viana might have been an opera star.

SONG—REPRIEVE

As he sang the other prisoners huddled in their cells in awesome silence. While he sang the reprieve came that granted him a stay of sentence to November 18. Crouched in the corner of the cell with Viana, Campione heard the song and heard that his "pal" was not to die today and wept bitterly.

Campione, a member of the famous Cardinelli gang of "gunners" against which six murders have been charged, was hanged for the slaying of Andrew P. Bowman, owner of a saloon. Reese paid the penalty for slaying his wife in a fit of jealousy. Reese was the first to go to the scaffold, Campione following.

At Springfield today Attorney Eugene Moran is making a final attempt to save Frank Zager, charged with the murder of two Greeks, from the gallows. Unless his appeal to Governor Lowden is successful, Zager will hang tomorrow.

Poland Can't Kick Zeligowski Out of Vilna; Regrets It

Warsaw, Oct. 14.—(U. P.)—Vilna, an ancient city 225 miles northeast of here, seems likely to become a new sore spot in Europe, more painful even than Fiume. The city is patrolled by Polish soldiers, who took the place under leadership of General Zeligowski.

The Lithuanians, who wanted the town as their capital, are much incensed, and the allies—Britain and France—want Zeligowski to get out so that peace may be preserved. They have asked Poland to make him vacate.

From an authoritative source today it was learned Poland is preparing a note to the allies expressing regret for Zeligowski's occupation of Vilna, but saying this government cannot promise to get him out. The Polish army would mutiny, this note points out, if the soldiers were ordered to attack their fellow Poles in Vilna.

Wilson Passes Rail Payment Problem to Attorney General

Washington, Oct. 14.—(I. N. S.)—President Wilson has referred to Attorney General Palmer the protest of the railroads against the ruling of Comptroller of the Treasury Warlick that no payments can be made to the railroads of the government guarantee, until the railroads have rendered a final accounting for the period of government control. It was learned today that the president has asked the attorney general for a decision on the matter.

The railroads contend that unless payments of the government guarantee are made shortly many railroads will be financially embarrassed.

Soul 'Saying' Easier In Men Than Women, Preacher's Opinion

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(U. P.)—Women are better churchgoers than men.

But men are easier to reason with when it comes to saving their souls.

These were the opinions expressed here today by Miss Ruth Grimes, reputed to be the youngest woman preacher in the country. Miss Grimes, 23, has just been made pastor of a Methodist church at Blue Island, Ill. Women, according to Miss Grimes, will invade the pulpit in great numbers within a few years, and she believes they will prove just as efficient at soul-saving as men preachers.

Girl Found Beaten To Death by Stone

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Beaten unconscious by an unknown assailant, who used a rough stone for a weapon, Dorothy Bowers, 17-year-old Minneapolis girl, died in the General hospital early today, a few hours after she was discovered in a pile of brush within a block of her home. She had never regained consciousness to tell the story of the attack or give the police a description of her murderer.

Singers, Musicians At Paris on Strike

Paris, Oct. 14.—A strike was declared last night by the singers and musicians of the Paris opera. The directors of the national opera are frantically searching for strike breakers from the ranks of the retired prima donnas and musicians.

BERLIN IS SILENT REGARDING CHARGE MADE BY PREMIER

By Frank Mason

Berlin, Oct. 14.—(I. N. S.)—The German government is carefully guarding the secret of her war time relations with Ireland, if there were any. Following the sensational charge made by Premier Lloyd George last Saturday that Ireland gave assistance to the German submarine campaign an effort was made here to secure official confirmation or denial.

But it is officially stated that it is not known whether or not there were submarine bases on the Irish coast or whether the Irish were assisted to organize an anti-English army.

It was expected that Germany would refute the British premier's charge by pointing out the obvious technical difficulties which would make Irish aid impracticable or impossible. Instead the correspondent encountered a mass of mysterious evasion and ambiguous denials. Reticence in some quarters indicated that a very tender spot had been touched.
