ANNOUNCEMENT!

The LaSalle Extension University announces the opening of a Law Class, to meet Friday evening of each week in room 416 Conthouse, beginning Friday, October 15, at 7 p. m. It will offer supplementary work to the regular law course administered by the LaSalle Extension University—using American Law and Procedure as the text.

This class is suitable for men and women who desire complete legal equipment but are somewhat hampered as to time. It also offers opportunity for reading out legal training, or becoming strongly entrenched in the elements of the Law. Judge Hawkins of the District Court will be in charge of the class. For information come to Class, or phone E. C. BULLOCK, Registrar Main 3323, Labor 1785, 615 1/2 Chamber of Commerce

Roads Out of Sandy Impassable; Mill Is Compelled to Close

Candy, Oct. 15.—Henry Kamp, mail carrier from Sandy to Zigzag, notified Postmaster Purcell that he will accept only first and second class mail for the present, as his car was stuck in 2 1/2 feet of mud a mile east of Sandy. On his return trip a woman passenger had to walk and carry her suitcase into town through the heavy rain. Roads are now impassable as far as Brightwood. When the Cherryville road became bad, travel was diverted to the Marmot road. A truck tipped over on that road Wednesday on its way to the twin bridges with supplies for the government work.

There are three trucks still standing near Welches that were stalled last week. Kamp's truck was sent up to the Sandy Lumber company mill for lumber to repair roads, but the truck cannot get back. Some truckmen are almost "going broke," because they have been unable to haul for so long. Some mills are still running, but will soon have to shut down, as they cannot get gasoline until the roads are passable. The Bruns Lumber company shut down Wednesday on account of the roads. The Bluff road from Portland to Sandy is in fine shape.

Farmers' Week at O. A. C. Scheduled For Date in June

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oct. 15.—Farmers' and Homemakers' week, formerly held during the Christmas holiday season, will open June 13 next year, as a result of recommendations of the committee in charge of the last gathering.

The new date comes at the time of a slight lull in farm activities. Herds, flocks and experimental fields and orchards of the college will be in the best condition, road conditions will make automobile traveling possible and camping facilities will be one of the features of the event.

Purse Presented To Banker's Son

Eugene, Oct. 15.—W. W. Bristow, son of Darwin Bristow, banker, and his bride were held prisoners in the station park Friday, while a jolly little group of passengers from the train took up a collection for them. The passengers were members of the K. of P. returning from the Marshfield convention. Bristow married Miss Mary Mulready during the sessions. J. S. Van Winkle made a humorous speech in presenting the purse. Bristow is connected with a jewelry store in Eugene.

Pacific University President Appeals To Church Members

Pacific University, Forest Grove, Or., Oct. 15.—At the Oregon Congregational conference President Clark made a stirring appeal for Pacific university. He outlined the new program for the college, calling for the raising of $2,000,000 in four years, $1,250,000 for endowment, $750,000 for new buildings and $50,000 for beautifying the campus. The enrollment today is the largest in the history of the school. The college has been continuing heroically on inadequate resources. The emergencies facing the churches were frequently emphasized during the conference. The program as outlined by President Clark was endorsed by Dr. Frank M. Sheldon, secretary of the Congregational Education society; Dr. W. T. McElveen of the First Congregational church of Portland; Stephen G. Smith,

12 Machinists Join Nationwide Walkout

Twelve machinists in the west side plant of the American Can company are out on a strike in keeping with a call issued by the International Association of Machinists, according to a statement made Thursday by J. W. Marriott general secretary of the local union. The strike affects over 50 plants in the United States and Canada. The 24 men in the east side plant have not been called out as yet. The union is asking for an eight-hour day and 5 1/2-day week, with $1 an hour pay for experienced toolmakers and 60 cents an hour for helpers. Abolition of the bonus and piecework systems is included in the demands.

Drifting Sand Ends Coal Mine Operation

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 15.—The Superior Coal company mine here, closed for several weeks on account of drifting sand, will be abandoned by the Portland Light & Power company, due to the expense of keeping it open. Machinery left in the mine when the sand began to drift in will be abandoned. Manager Ewing will probably move to Portland. The capacity of the mine is about 300 tons daily, most of the output going to Portland. Chehalis obtained most of its supply from the mine. About 45 miners are thrown out of work. Big ham and bacon sale, 35c lb.; bacon backs, 30c lb.; 6-lb. cans, Rex corned beef, $1.80 can; picnic, 25c lb.; Magnolia and Green Valley butter, 63c lb.; $1.25 per roll; strictly fresh ranch eggs, 75c dozen; kipoin steaks, 20c lb.; pork chops, 30c lb.; prime rib roast (boneless), 25c lb.
