

HOMING PIGEON TO FLY BACK HOME FROM LOS ANGELES

Distance of 1400 Miles Expected to Be Covered in 3 Days by Bird From R. G. Hamill's Cote.

Seeking the long distance carrier pigeon flight record of the Pacific coast, a sleek bird will be released at Los Angeles today or Tuesday and will head, according to the predictions of its owners, for the home loft in Portland.

The distance is 1400 miles, through several varieties of climate and over every type of country, but the bird is expected to be coming about the R. G. Hamill cotes near Kelly Butte within three days after its release. The bird is owned by Hamill and is of a strain famous for long-distance flying, though this particular bird has flown no greater distance than from Seattle to Portland.

Judge George W. Masterson of Los Angeles, in Portland last week, took the bird from George L. Routledge, and when it has rested after the trip south, Masterson, a prominent Southern California poultry expert, will wire to Routledge.

Late in the week the bird was checked and photographed by The Journal. At Los Angeles a message will be attached to its leg, its home address will be printed on its feathers and it will be checked out of the office of the Los Angeles Times. Its arrival here will be checked, too.

On the coast homing pigeon fanciers have never attempted to release their birds for such extended flights, although elsewhere ancestors of this same bird have records of from 1500 to 2000 miles of flying. One of its kind has flown from Mexico to Chicago.

In view of the fact that it is a misdeed to shoot homing pigeons, the flight of the Portland bird is expected to be largely protected by law. The instinct of the Hamill bird was proved some time ago, when, without previous tests of its instinct for returning to the home loft, it was taken to Seattle and released. It returned without delay to the home loft.

Sunday Afternoon Concert Attracts Audience of 1000

More than 1000 persons attended the concert given at The Auditorium Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the city. The program, furnished by Charles Dimond, Hawaiian guitar player; a chorus from the Portland Oratorio Society, Joseph A. Finley, conductor, and Lucien E. Becker, organist, was much enjoyed. The guitar solos proved an unusual feature and made a great hit. Dimond understands the art of producing an appealing voice from the instrument.

The chorus sang five numbers, one of these in response to the demand for an encore. Becker's organ solos were much appreciated.

Next Sunday afternoon the Schubert club chorus will take part.

Ganong Chairman Of Fund Drive in Episcopal Church

The Rev. Thomas Jenkins, rector of St. David's Episcopal church, announced Sunday that J. W. Ganong, junior warden, had consented to act as chairman for the resumption of the nation-wide campaign of the church to complete and conserve the results of the drive made a year ago.

Team captains appointed by Ganong, who met and planned a preliminary canvass to be held next Sunday, leading up to an effort to close up financial pledges a month hence, are:

R. W. Hastings, S. Claire Morris, D. B. Mackie, A. W. Wiltshire, Frank Morris, John C. Gibson, James G. Burness, E. E. Miller, Matt Greenstead and Gerald Stevens.

There will be seven members to a team and it is proposed to call on every member of St. David's and familiarize them with the service the big east side church stands ready to render in central East Portland.

During Thanksgiving week the 70 team workers will canvass the members to round out the church budget and complete the national quota.

"WOMEN FOR COX" RALLY TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Anne Shannon Monroe

A "Women for Cox" rally is scheduled for Wednesday evening, October 27, at Library hall, Tenth and Taylor streets. Anne Shannon Monroe, magazine writer, who has attended both conventions, and studied both presidential candidates, their platforms, records and promises at first hand, will give her impressions and conclusions, and the points that lead her to come out for Governor Cox, though in her only other campaign fight she was for a Republican.

M. E. Quigley will sing a rousing campaign song, and Mark W. Hearn, a lawyer recently from Ohio will tell something about the candidates from an intimate hometown point of view.

89 years. Josselyn was born at Highgate, Vt., December 25, 1830. He was married in 1857 to Miss Kate Wadsworth of Buffalo, N. Y. Josselyn was a railroad station agent and telegrapher before coming to Portland in 1907 to enter the employ of the Portland company, in which he remained until last May.

He is survived by his wife; one sister, Mrs. Laura Wiltse of Akron, N. Y.; two sons, Benage S. Josselyn and Theron W. Josselyn; two daughters, Mrs. C. O. Fitch and Mrs. John W. Wilson of Ripon, Wis.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Funeral services will be held at the Portland crematorium Tuesday at 10 a. m.

So far this season 724 cars of pears and 44 cars of apples have been shipped out of Meador.

Isn't this ridiculous! People, who buy common tea with its weak vegetable taste and harsh tannin taste, pay just about as much to bring it over here from the tea-plant as they would pay for fine tea like Schilling's.

You wouldn't do such a thing, would you?

When you pay all those costs for picking, curing, transportation, etc. (which are a big part of the price of tea) you want real tea, with its full flavor and restful invigoration.
