*Afternoon report of preceding day.

Red Cross Units Separated—Official notice has been received in Washington county of the divorce of that section's activities in the work of the American Red Cross from the Portland chapter, which has overseen the work in the past. A separate chapter has been recognized for Washington county by the Northwest division of the organization and the county will conduct an independent drive for new members between November 11 and 25. Officers of the new chapter in Washington county are: J. N. Garrett of Hillsboro, chairman; Dr. H. L. Bates of Forest Grove, vice chairman; Mrs. Ed L. Moore of Hillsboro, secretary; and W. V. Bergen of Hillsboro, treasurer.

To Discuss Measures—The Wednesday noon meeting of the Portland Ad club will become a battleground for four of the measures on the November ballot. William L. Finley and William Hanley will debate the Roosevelt bird refuge bill. J. B. Kerr and W. E. Ayer will debate the Swan Island project. The anti-vaccination bill and the four and five per cent interest measure will be discussed. John Lange, Gus Moore, L. C. Gilman, C. C. Chapman and Dr. Thomas W. Ross are also among the scheduled speakers. P. A. Tonhaaf will sing.

Labor Indorses Baker—Indorsement of the proposed three mill tax levy and of Mayor Baker's candidacy for reelection is given today by the Building Trades council. A resolution signed by F. B. Hobbs, president, and T. G. Lundy, secretary, formally presents this indorsement and urges members of the council to vote for the measure and Baker. It was adopted at a meeting of the council Monday night in Central Labor council hall.

Norway Likes American Goods—American goods are popular in the markets of Norway and other Scandinavian countries and clothing made in the United States is extensively worn in Norway, according to A. O. Bjeland, Norwegian vice consul, who returned Monday from a five month trip to his native land. Bjeland is a director of the Norwegian-American Steamship company and attended the annual meeting of the concern at Christiania. During his absence the local consulate was in charge of E. P. Slovar.

Dr. Pence Slightly Better—But slight improvement is reported in the condition of Dr. E. H. Pence, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, who is confined to his bed with illness. A complete recovery is anticipated, but it will probably be several weeks before Dr. Pence will be able to occupy his pulpit. In the meantime Dr. Pence's son-in-law, the Rev. John H. Gardner of Detroit, will assist in the services.

Largest Halibut on Display—"The largest halibut ever caught on the Pacific coast" reads a sign above a 250-pound fish displayed at the market of Emery E. Russell, 272 Yamhill street, near Fourth. A specially prepared table steady stiring of spectators congregated upon the various ways in which they thought the fish was caught and guessed its length.

Wilson Is Seized—A box of venison shipped from Bend by C. Nickell and consigned to F. P. Allen, 268 East Third street north, was seized at the American Express company office Saturday night by E. H. Clark and T. J. Craig, deputy game wardens. The venison is to be seized at Bend charging Nickell with failure to provide a shipping permit. An additional charge will likely be preferred because of disguised sex.

City Plans Bought—Columbus, Ga., is considering the adoption of a city plan, and Dr. C. Amory Dexter, chairman of the city planning commission, made application Monday to the county commissioners for such data as may be available here on Portland or Multnomah county plans for audit, cleanup, health, education, budget, exhibits, advertising, promotion, etc.
