

COX VICTORY SIGN EMBLAZONS EAST, AS G. O. P. FUMBLES

The prospect of Cox' election increases so markedly every day in the East that the people of the Pacific coast can hardly be aware of the increasing probability of the election to the presidency of the Ohio governor.

This is the word reaching Portland friends in a letter from a correspondent close to professional and financial people of New York city.

"Do you realize out on the coast what a very good chance Cox has of being elected?" asks the writer. "The prospect brightens so markedly each day that I am fast growing confident of success."

SMITH VICTORY FORESEEN
"I'm positive that Governor Smith is going to sweep New York state on the Democratic ticket. The state may go Democratic with the Republicans handicapped by Senator Wadsworth's candidacy."

The writer states that Herbert Hoover in private conversation said that the prospect of Smith's election is "brighter than the sun."

"Harding's Des Moines speech may prove his Waterloo," continues the writer. "No one has any enthusiasm for him. His managers evidently do not intend letting him off the front porch again."

The correspondent believes that Cox will win if George Sylvester Lockwood will only boast a little more about his 6,000,000 German votes for Harding and Senator Johnson will endorse his stand on the League of Nations broadcast.

QUARREL AIDS COX
The writer continues that if the Illinois Republicans quarrel a little more briskly and Brandage goes on comparing himself to Lincoln it will aid materially in electing Cox.

"I am hoping great things from Cox' visit in the East during the latter part of the campaign. His personality interests me. He has made a plucky, up-hill fight and forced the League of Nations as the great issue which could have dangled opposite Harding's side-stepping. His handling of difficult situations shows that he is no unworthy successor of President Wilson. People don't know Cox' record as governor. But they are waking up."

CHAMBERLAIN DENOUNCES STANFIELD AS PROFITEER
Corvallis, Oct. 29.—United States senator George E. Chamberlain was warmly received and applauded at his meeting here Wednesday evening. He referred sarcastically to Montaville Flowers and other outside agitators who could have somebody's money in a great effort to defeat him.

Speaking of his opponent, Senator Chamberlain said that two years ago R. N. Stanfield was a partner of Swift. He denounced Stanfield as a profiteer, who made his money from wool that went into clothing for the soldiers.

Chamberlain carried his audience with him. He was warmly applauded when he spoke on the League of Nations. In discussing the tariff question he charged his opponents had now resurrected it just for campaign purposes, that hitherto both parties in congress had considered it a dead issue, laid on the shelf by the establishment of a tariff commission.

The senator very pointedly inquired if any of his audience had seen any Australian beef except the can of it furnished by the Swift Packing company, or any Chinese eggs or Canadian butter or wheat. He ridiculed the idea that any of the foreign farm products were coming into this country to compete with the products of the American farmer.

He effectively reviewed the action of the present administration in establishing the present banking system and also in giving the farmers relief by the establishment of the land bank system.

DR. LOVEJOY UNABLE TO MEET MANY CALLS MADE
Esther Pool Lovejoy, candidate for congress, will address a mass meeting of voters at 8 o'clock tonight at the Washington high school, East Fourteenth and Washington streets, on the issues of the campaign. Saturday night she will speak in the James John high school at St. Johns, closing her week-day schedule of speeches. Sunday night she will occupy the pulpit of the Unity Presbyterian church, East Seventy-second street and Sandy boulevard.

The Oregon Popular Government League, composed of the various labor unions and other progressive groups, will give a demonstration of loyalty to Mrs. Lovejoy in a parade around the downtown streets Monday night. The parade will start from the Plaza blocks by the courthouse soon after 7:30 o'clock.

Sunday there will be numerous meetings in churches in the interests of Dr. Lovejoy. Mrs. Ada Wallace Urunk, executive secretary of the allied dry forces, said today she has been unable to supply sufficient speakers to fill all the invitations sent in by pastors for Lovejoy features.

CHAMBERLAIN ACCORDED ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

Astoria, Oct. 29.—The Astoria theatre was taxed to capacity and many were turned away at the meeting Thursday night at which United States Senator George E. Chamberlain was the principal speaker. That Senator Chamberlain has lost none of his old popularity in Clatsop county was evidenced by the enthusiastic reception which he received.

The senator spoke upon many of the issues of the campaign, and various angles of his own fight for the senatorship. He called attention to the opposition that he is receiving from Swift & Co., and other meat packers, because of his efforts in the senate during the war to prevent profiteering by the meat dealers. He stated that his opponents had been asking for his defeat on the grounds that he had tried to "hobble" President Taft regarding the treaty with Japan, and that the result of explaining the invasion of the Pacific coast in recent years was evidence that he was right in this respect.

Senator Chamberlain made a strong appeal for a league of nations, quoting from the speech of Governor Cox, showing that Cox was willing to accept any reservation to the covenant that would meet with the approval of the leading statesmen in both parties. He paid a glowing tribute to the work of the American army in France, but appealed to the voters to use their influence in bringing about a league of nations to prevent a repetition of the horrors of war.

DOUGLAS COUNTY IS QUIET; CHAMBERLAIN STOCK RISES

Roseburg, Oct. 29.—Douglas county has experienced one of the quietest political campaigns in the history of the county, with but two political speeches made in the city, one solely by the League of Nations. Much interest is being manifested in the outcome of the election, however.

While Republicans have made considerable effort to campaign for Stanfield, there is but little doubt but what Chamberlain will pull a much better vote than the registration of the party shows. Stanfield's efforts to bring about a league of nations to prevent a repetition of the horrors of war.

The change for Cox in the last week has been noticeable. The League of Nations explanation by Richard W. Montague had a tendency to change many votes to the Cox side.

CHAMBERLAIN CHOICE OF O. A. C. STUDENT BALLOT

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oct. 29.—Senator George E. Chamberlain was the choice of the students of the college in a straw vote conducted at the college Wednesday in connection with a student body meeting. Chamberlain was given 558 votes to 484 given to Robert N. Stanfield. In the presidential straw vote the action was reversed, the Harding-Coolidge ticket gaining 746 against 333 for the Cox-Roosevelt ticket.

Printed ballots were used. A heavy majority of students voted viva voce in favor of opening the moving picture houses in Corvallis on Sunday. This measure will appear on the Corvallis municipal ballot.

ENGINEERS INDORSE 3-MILL RAP INTEREST MEASURE

At a largely attended meeting Wednesday of the American Association of Engineers, Oregon chapter, the ballot measure to be presented to the voters were reviewed with the result that the association indorsed the 3 mill tax levy and condemned the interest limitation measure as a handicap to the state's development. The bridge refund bill was condemned as an injustice to the people of Oregon and the people of Harney county in particular. O. M. Ash lectured on the "Crystal

HAIL FRUIT KING! APPLE WEEK WILL BE MADE FEATURE

"Keep well, eat an apple." This is the advice given by some doctors of national reputation and it is being emphasized by the coming of National Apple day.

For a week—next week—instead of a single day, the public will be asked to eat apples.

At least one apple for each person each day is the prescription given by health authorities. If you can't eat an apple, then drink one. The juice factories at your service.

Bell & Co., local wholesalers, have decided that the poor shall not be forgotten on Apple day. The firm will give at least one good apple to every charitable institution of Portland and last year's forgotten it is the request of the donors that all call by phone and give their address.

The railroads will feature Apple day by serving the king of fruits in as many styles as one can imagine. The hotels of the country will do likewise.

Club Leader Insists Market Commission Necessary to State

Mrs. C. B. Simmons, past president of the Portland Women's club and regional director of the National League of Women Voters, has issued a strong call to the women of Oregon to vote for the market commission bill.

In a letter to Robert E. Smith, secretary of the State Taxpayers' league, Mrs. Simmons says: "I consider the market commission bill one of the most constructive pieces of legislation ever offered in this state, and I know that every thinking woman will vote for it. Whoever is market dictator must be one of the big men of Oregon, who will view his duties from the standpoint of the consumer as well as the producer. In my opinion, there would be considerably less force to the bill if the office of market director were elective. I know that the cooperative marketing movement tends to reduce speculation, and I am not surprised that food speculators are against the bill. I trust that every woman voter in Oregon will give the measure her support November 2."

Two telegraphic money order receipts were the only means found to identify W. H. Hanley, who collapsed on a bench in the park blocks at Park and Burnside streets just before midnight Thursday, dying of interstict hemorrhage a few minutes later after being taken to St. Vincent's hospital in an ambulance. Both receipts were made out in the name of Mrs. Anita Galbreath, indicating that Hanley was in Youngstown, the home city of E. D. Moore, his pre-convention manager, where there is a large industrial population which he believes is very friendly to his candidacy. This afternoon he speaks in Kent and then motors to Akron for a night meeting.

Last night's enthusiastic demonstration in Indianapolis was accepted by the governor as final evidence of the swing to the Democratic side in that state. In a highly optimistic frame of mind Thursday, he declared Indiana has been put down among the certain Cox states.

The governor today announced the receipt of a contribution of $25 from Henry C. Brier, an executive man from Dayton, Ohio, the candidate's home city, to be used in distribution of the covenant of the League of Nations. Acknowledging the donation, Governor Cox wrote:

"It is a sad commentary on human nature that the boys who offered their lives to end war for all times must still carry on the fight to see that our pledge is kept."

"I have known all the time where we would find in this campaign those whose homes were desolated by it. Tomorrow afternoon Governor Cox will speak in Gary, Ind., and tomorrow night in Chicago. He will return to Dayton for Sunday and go to Toledo to wind up his campaign Monday night."

REACTION AND BOSS RULE SEEN IF HARDING'S ELECTED
(By United News.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Governor James M. Cahill, in his final effort to win Indiana, before a huge audience here Thursday night declared that the Republican attempt "to deceive the country" into believing that it wanted a change has failed.

"The Democrats will have two congressional districts in the state," he asserted, "I estimate that Miller will be returned a winner over Congressman Summers in the Fourth district."

ASHLAND CROWDS APPLAUD MONTAGUE'S LEAGUE TALK
Ashland, Or., Oct. 29.—An enthusiastic crowd greeted Richard W. Montague Thursday evening at a Democratic rally at which Montague discussed the League of Nations. O. P. Coshov was on the program. The meeting was in charge of the local Democratic club, with E. E. Phlips as chairman. County candidates of both parties have been actively campaigning in Ashland and vicinity this week.

Dry Officer Speaks
Johnson S. Smith, federal prohibition officer, will address the meeting in Lentz school Saturday evening at 8 o'clock on the issues of the campaign. William D. Bennett and Norman S. Richards will also deliver addresses at the school.

Dr. Lovejoy to Speak
Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy will speak Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the James John high school. The last St. Johns ferry will leave St. Johns at 10:20 instead of 9:30, that residents of Linton who desire to attend may return to their homes after its conclusion.

Chairmen of Two Big Parties Give Out Formal Forecasts

New York, Oct. 29.—(U. P.)—Below are the formal election forecasts of the chairmen of the national committees of the two big parties.

By George White
Chairman Democratic National Committee
"The general political situation at the close of the last week of the campaign of 1930 is full of signs which point unmistakably to a Democratic success."
Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt will carry the border states of Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma in addition to the Southern states. They will carry Ohio and Indiana. On the Atlantic seaboard in New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, due to an eleventh hour shift, the situation is improving every minute and we feel certain that they will carry New Jersey, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

"In the West, reports from Montana, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, Washington, Nevada, South Dakota and Utah are that they are certainly Democratic and we believe we will carry Nebraska, California and North Dakota. In Minnesota, Oregon and Wisconsin our prospects are hourly improving and a great swing toward us is on in Kansas, Illinois and even in Iowa. The Republicans are spirited in from the Canadian border to the gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Their forces are in full retreat everywhere."

By Will Hays
Chairman Republican National Committee
Harding and Coolidge will be elected overwhelmingly by the largest popular majority ever cast and by an electoral majority that will exceed the unprecedented Roosevelt electoral majority in 1904.
We are approaching the conclusion of this campaign. On the part of the Republican party it has been predicated upon the necessity of the revival of patriotism in this country.
It has for a main purpose the re-establishment of an economical and efficient administration of the country's government.

DESPERATION CHARGED
The Democratic strategy in this campaign has desperately sought to escape just and due responsibility for Democratic extravagance, autocracy and the failure of any of the domestic problems. The Democratic management has attempted to hide behind a "peace" smoke screen, while its counterparty in the 1918 pledge that Wilson would "keep us out of war."
But America is uppermost in the American conscience today and that means that the American voter is intent upon making America safe at home as well as abroad and that the Democratic party cannot avoid responsibility for eight years of maladministration.

The electorate is determined that the accumulated work in Washington will not longer be denied attention, that all the domestic problems shall be met and solved immediately, before which problems the Democratic party for eight years has stood impotent and in confessed bankruptcy.

CLEANLINESS CLAIMED
The Republicans have succeeded in the earnest effort to keep their campaign on the very highest plane. In this course they will continue to the end, unaffected in any way by the depths to which the opposition is plunging in the concluding days of the campaign.

I have complete, 100 per cent faith in complete Republican victory for the president. I have 100 per cent confidence in American common sense, and because I have 100 per cent evidence that this dependable American intelligence will certainly express itself at the November polls.

Thirty-two states are surely Republican, seven additional most probably Republican and only nine at the most safely Democratic. The minimum number of certain Republican electoral votes is 368. There is much better than an even chance for 24 more Republican electoral votes, with a very probable additional 25.

PLANS SPIRITED REPLY
In the wake of Senator Harding, who spoke at Akron last night, the governor planned an spirited reply from the city tonight to the Republican nominee's declaration that he believed he was "the freest man that ever was nominated for the presidency" and that he was "unpledged, unowned and unbiased."
Democratic candidate was determined to renew his charge that his opponent was nominated by the "senatorial oligarchy" in a hotel room and that every woman voter in Oregon will give the measure her support November 2."

LABOR OFFERS AID IN FARMER STRIKE

Washington, Oct. 29.—(I. N. S.)—Frank Morrison, secretary of the A. F. of L., and William H. Johnston, head of the International Machinery union, today notified farmers in session here that labor will join with agricultural interests in a movement to obtain extension of credit for producers and to map out a political program.

KANSAS FARMERS PICKET ROADS IN WHEAT STRIKE
Chicago, Oct. 29.—(U. P.)—Farmers in Kansas are picketing roads and urging other farmers to join in their "strike" against declining prices in grains, according to reports received here today by Chicago brokers.

Near Wichita, Kan., according to reports by farmers who insisted on taking grain to warehouses were jeered and hooded. At Hutchinson, Kan., advices here said, elevators turned away cars because they did not have grain to load.

SWIFT'S GRIP WOULD REACH INTO SENATE

exercised over the United States senate is Swift & Co.'s control.

CONTROLS HIDE INDUSTRY
Swift & Co. controls the hide market of the vast territory in this country that is secured by the hide industry. It takes from the stock it slaughters the hides it buys from other sources. Through this control of the hide market it secures an underhold on the leather market and a grip on the cost of leather. It is reputed to have a controlling grip on the shoemaking machinery of the country. Control of green hides, of leather and of shoemaking machinery means the control of the cost of the shoes worn by the people of Oregon and of America.

Swift & Co., through its subsidiary wool warehouse scattered over the country—of which the Swift-Stanfield Columbia Basin Wool Warehouse company is one—controls the cost of wool. Control of the cost of wool means partial control of the cost of cloth, and of the clothes worn by the men and women of the United States.

SWIFT'S CANNED CONTROL
Swift & Co., through its subsidiary food warehouse scattered over the country, controls the manufacture and cost of oleomargarine, put out by it as a substitute for butter upon the bread of Oregon people. Swift & Co. had a dominating hand in the referendum put upon the oleomargarine bill, fostered by the dairymen of Oregon as a protection against the competition of Swift & Co.'s oleomargarine with Oregon butter, and Swift & Co. is now bitterly fighting the passage of that by the voters of Oregon Tuesday next.

Swift & Co., in Oregon, controls the Livestock State bank, the Portland Cattle Loan company and the Portland Feeder company. This concerns control the price of livestock on the one hand, and the cost of money needed by the livestock men to finance their industry on the other. Swift & Co. controls them when they buy, when they feed and when they sell.

REACHES TO ARGENTINA
Swift International, which is Swift & Co. operating outside the United States, has far flung ranges in Argentina from which it brings its slaughtered meat to break the back of American prices when American growers hold them higher than Swift & Co. is willing to pay.

Swift & Co. plays one section against another to serve its selfish interests. When Oregon growers want high prices for their lambs Swift & Co. buys in

When the patrolman started to take a hand in the scrimmage, Cowell started on a five-block run for a goal. He met with sudden interference in the shape of a clothes line stretched across a back yard and was thrown for a loss.

This morning Municipal Judge Rossman penalized him $10.

Taking possession of the ball, he announced to the surprised team that he had a dominating hand in the referendum put upon the oleomargarine bill, fostered by the dairymen of Oregon as a protection against the competition of Swift & Co.'s oleomargarine with Oregon butter, and Swift & Co. is now bitterly fighting the passage of that by the voters of Oregon Tuesday next.

Swift & Co. is supposed to have a controlling hand on retail markets in the territory in which it operates and thus to be able to pyramid its profits from the sheep and cattle ranges to the tables of the consumer.

Congress has attempted in the past, and most likely will attempt in the future, to regulate Swift & Co. in the interest of the people of Oregon and of America. Swift & Co. wants Chamberlain driven out of the senate by the voters of Oregon.
Swift & Co. wants Robert N. Stanfield put in Chamberlain's place by the voters of Oregon.

Murderer Hanged at San Quentin Prison
San Quentin Penitentiary, Cal., Oct. 29.—(U. P.)—Arthur Collins of Denver, Colo., today paid with his life for the murder of Robert Hathaway, Los Angeles policeman. He was hanged at San Quentin state penitentiary shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The trap was sprung at 10:16 and at 10:25 he was pronounced dead. About 20 persons witnessed the execution.

Disguised Deer Sex, Fined
H. Brought of 23 East Eleventh street was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Game Wardens Mead and T. J. Craig for having disguised the sex of a deer which he had shipped to himself from southern Oregon, and was fined $25 following a hearing before Judge Hawkins, Tuesday afternoon.
