

COX'S ELECTION WOULD CONFIRM TEAL ON BOARD

In Event of Victory by Harding Senate Might Hold Up and Deny Portlander's Appointment.

Washington, Oct. 30.—(WASH-INGTON BUREAU OF THE JOUR-NAL.)—Tuesday's election has direct bearing upon the future of the United States shipping board membership and Oregon's part in it.
Election of Cox will virtually confirm Joseph N. Teal as a member of that body. Election of Harding will mean the holding up of President Wilson's appointments and the great probability that Seattle interests will predominate and ultimately secure the place because of the influence of Senators Jones and Poindexter with Harding, particularly Jones, who is chairman of the senate commerce committee, of which Harding is likewise a member.

The Republican plan is to withhold confirmation of Wilson appointees to important offices during the coming short session of congress, if Harding is elected, so the new president may fill vacancies with men of his own choosing.
The shipping board is the biggest prize of all, and Harding's expressions have shown that he particularly desires to control its membership.

WOULD FILL VACANCIES

The present senate is Republican and leaders have already made their plans.
They are "down on Wilson" and they want the offices for men personally selected by a Republican president. They maintain that if they win they are entitled by the rules of the game to fill vacancies, and they will especially take care to secure a majority on boards like the shipping board, where by law only majority can be of one party. Appointments by Wilson will automatically die March 4, unless confirmed by the senate.
If Cox is elected the motive for withholding confirmation will disappear, and the Wilson appointments will doubtless be promptly confirmed. The political complexion of the next senate will not be important in this regard after the presidency is settled.

MIGHT BE NAMED, ANYWAY

The only chance for Teal's confirmation, in the event of Harding's election, would be that his conspicuous qualifications would make so strong an appeal that he would be finally selected as one of the three non-Republican members required by law. It may be found, however, that the very fact that Teal was named by Wilson will put him on the Harding blacklist, coupled with the fact that Senator Jones may be relied upon to urge the selection of a man from Puget Sound.

JONES MAY PREDOMINATE

Harding will naturally desire good teamwork with Jones as chairman of the commerce committee, and it requires little foresight to predict whose recommendation will prevail in such circumstances. The chance for any other appointment from Oregon as against this Seattle influence would be slim, indeed, so the position of Teal as a member of the board and Oregon's hope for representation on that body are bound up together as one of the incidental things the election will decide.

It is learned that the president expects to fill the shipping board appointments soon after the election, so they will await the action of the senate when it meets in December. He has been embarrassed by the fact that some of his selections have declined appointments, and organization of a new board is not expected for several days.

Valuable Horse Is Saved From Death

Ross Churchill, acting for the Oregon Humane society, rescued a valuable horse from smothering in a cesspool at Forty-second avenue and Sixth street Saturday afternoon. Churchill responded to an appeal for aid from the owner, who said that he had borrowed a team to plow his garden plot. The horse, which had broken through the earth covering an old cess pit, was pulled out with the assistance of Churchill's roadster. The animal was 7 years old and valued at $200. It suffered no injury, according to officials of the humane society.

Tuberculosis Workers
The Oregon Tuberculosis association, which is now in the midst of preparations for the annual sale of Christmas seals, is in great need of volunteer workers who will spend a few hours a day folding letters and pamphlets, filling envelopes and stamping them. Anyone who is willing to assist in this public health work will be cordially welcomed at the association office, 1010 Selling building.

Honor Will Be Paid MacSwiney Memory

A mass meeting to "protest against the continued British atrocities in Ireland" and to pay homage to the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney will be held this evening in Hibernia hall, 340 Russell street. John R. Murphy and Rev.
Michael Wallace and impromptu speakers will address the meeting. Thomas Mannix will be chairman. This meeting is held under the auspices of the United Irish societies. Pontifical requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's cathedral next Wednesday morning at 9:30 for MacSwiney.

TAXPAYERS TURN TO GORDON
Owing to his stand against the extra 3-mill levy, saddling approximately $900,000 onto them, the taxpayers throughout Portland are turning to Herbert Gordon as the only candidate who can lead them out of the financial wilderness. Reports from all points, excepting the north end, indicate this—
