

MULTNOMAH GRAND JURY REPORTS; 30 BILLS FOUND TRUE

County Institutions Commended; More Room Advised for Frazier Detention Home Outside City.

The Multnomah county grand jury for October completed its work Saturday and filed its report with Presiding Judge Tarwell, after which it was discharged. It acted on 50 cases and found 30 true bills and 19 not true bills, while one case is continued.

The final report commends the management of the county farm, county jail, Kelly Butte rock quarry, The Cedars and Frazier detention home, but in the case of the latter institution the report says that more room is needed and recommends that additional grounds be purchased outside of the city of Portland.

In the completion of its work the grand jury reported five not true and nine true bills, of which seven were secret. John Hazelwood was indicted on a charge of having stolen personal property to the value of $69.50 from George S. Cole, September 22, and John Dewey Smith was indicted on the charge of larceny by bailee, September 1, when it is alleged he disposed of goods valued at $265, the property of Calif Brothers.

Blacksmith Faints In Bathroom; Head Fractured by Fall

Jack Mayes, 35, 326 1/2 Stark street, blacksmith, was found in his bathroom Saturday afternoon in an unconscious condition, with a fractured skull. The position he was in, with his head against the tub, indicates he had fainted or collapsed. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where authorities report they can find no injuries except the fracture. They are unable to discover any cause for the collapse, they say, for his heart is apparently in good condition.

Secret Indictments Based on Dry Law

One of the secret indictments returned last Thursday by the federal grand jury involved George Wilkinson, Nettie Connett and Everett Lowther, according to information given by United States Marshal Alexander Saturday. Friday afternoon the marshal served bench warrants on the three. The indictment charges violation of the prohibition law by operating a still near Bull Run. The three posted $500 bonds each with United States Commissioner Fraser and were released.

His Teeth Fell Out and Spoiled His Oration

This accident happened to a well known politician.

In the middle of a very eloquent arraignment of the opposition the gentleman stopped short, wildly grabbing at something in the air.

A member of his audience picked up the plate and restored it to the orator, who resumed his speech only to go through the same gymnastics later. The plate had fallen out again and the orator retired amidst loud guffaws.

If his plates had been made at this office the orator would have been saved the humiliation, as all of my plates fit perfectly and won't fall down or out.
