

TRIAL HARKS TO THE GERMAN 'PURCHASE' OF EVENING MAIL

New York, Nov. 9.—(I. N. S.)—At the opening of the trial of Dr. Edward A. Rumely, former owner and editor of the New York Evening Mail, S. Walter Kaufmann and Norman R. Lindheim, United States Attorney Harold Harper announced that the government would prove that the new defunct imperial German government spent $1,154,700 to get control of the Evening Mail.

Of this sum, Harper asserted $750,000 was turned over to Dr. Rumely by German agents on June 1, 1915, and $701,000 in small denominations through Kaufmann and Lindheim, the attorneys for Rumely.

Senator McNary to Call Committee to Act on Irrigation

Washington, Nov. 9.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Senator McNary, back in Washington, has announced he is preparing to call on the senate irrigation committee as soon as a quorum reaches the city, which he expects will be next week. His purpose is to have the bill ready for action early in the session, probably in the shape of a new measure, but framed on the lines of the Fletcher-Smith plan for placing federal resources back of irrigation district bonds. "I hope for action during the coming session," he said.

Give Yourself the "Once Over!"

—Pardon our using that almost decadent slang expression whose demise none will mourn, but it lends force to that which we are desirous of emphasizing —The need of every individual to bring himself up short and take stock of his own efficiency every so often.

—There is a personality about a store just as there is about an individual. To carry out the parallel further, both store and individual have friends. This Store has long enjoyed a good reputation among its customers and year after year it has held its old friends and added new ones.

—As the individual should at intervals ask himself if he is doing his best by his friends, so should a store, such as ours, give itself a thorough examination.

—Are we, as a store, serving the community which has made our present success possible, to the limit of our ability? We are trying harder each day.
