

BASEBALL WAR IS EXPECTED TO END DURING THE WEEK

Minor Leagues to Support Judge Landis, Who Is in Control for Seven Years, It Is Reported.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(U. P.)—The last round in the fight for peace in baseball was expected here next week, when committees of the major and minor leagues attempt to draft a new working basis for leagues of organized baseball which would restore harmony in all branches, baseball leaders believed, following the termination of war by club owners of the American and National leagues.

The compromise worked out by which Judge Landis was unanimously appointed controller of affairs of the game for seven years will prevent possibilities of another major league conflict, it was believed.

Meetings of the committee from the National and American leagues and the National association will be held as soon as the majors appoint their representatives. Ben Johnson, president of the American league, and John Heydler, president of the National league, indicated these appointments would be made so the national agreement might be completed and presented to the National league meetings in New York next month.

Mrs. W. I. Northup, Phil Neer Head '20 Tennis Rank in g

The annual 1920 tennis rankings for Portland were announced yesterday by A. B. McAlpin, president of the Portland Tennis association, who had appointed T. B. Mudgett (chairman), Miss Irene Campbell and Dr. Eugene Steinmetz to make the selections among the men and women.

Phil Neer, the Portland boy, who is now a student at Stanford university, is listed as No. 1 among the men by virtue of his winning the men's singles in the annual Oregon state championship tournament held on the Irvington club courts last summer.

Following is the complete report of the rankings committee to President McAlpin:

The ranking committee has of necessity not ranked several players of well-known ability on account of the fact that they did not play in enough tournaments. Henry Stevens, without question, belongs among the first 10 in Portland, but he only participated in one tournament—namely, the state—losing to Phil Neer in the second round. We have followed the same procedure with Mrs. Maud Lowell Rogers, who won the city championship for women, defeating Mrs. W. I. Northup in the finals.

In the ranking of both men and women players we were guided solely by their tournament play this year, therefore we have ranked the men as follows:

No. 1—Phil Neer, winner Oregon state championship, British Columbia championship, defeated A. S. Frohman, Henry Stevens, Phil Neer, Catlin Wolfard and Carl Gardner.
No. 2—Catlin Wolfard, winner city championship, Katz tournament and Irvington handicap; defeated Walter A. Goss, A. D. Norrg, Irving Weinstein, A. Munger and Harry Gray.
No. 3—Walter A. Goss; defeated A. D. Norris, Ted Steffens.
No. 4—A. D. Norris; defeated Harry Gray, A. D. Wakeman, A. S. Frohman.
No. 5—Harry Gray; defeated A. D. Wakeman.
No. 6—Jackie Neer; defeated A. S. Frohman, D. Mallet, A. Munger.
No. 7—A. D. Wakeman; defeated McGunigle, Herbert Swett, Rogers MacVeagh.
No. 8—Kenneth Smith, winner Irvington championship; defeated Jackie Neer, Neer in the Irvington spring tournament, also James Shives and Dr. Eugene Steinmetz.
No. 10—A. S. Frohman; defeated Milton Frohman, 2-6, 8-6, 5-4.

The women players have been ranked as follows:
No. 1—Mrs. W. I. Northup, winner Irvington club championship, reached the finals in the Oregon state and city championships; defeated Miss Stella Fording, Miss Irene Campbell, Mrs. F. E. Harrigan and Miss Gertrude Schreiner.
No. 2—Miss Stella Fording, winner Irvington spring handicap; defeated Mrs. W. I. Northup and Miss Helen Hald; in the state she had a notable win in defeating Mrs. Cushing of California, also Miss Irene Campbell.
No. 3 and 4—The committee, from the data on hand, found it impossible to make a decision, so bracketed Miss Irene Campbell and Mrs. F. E. Harrigan. Miss Campbell defeated Mrs. Lee-Ann Wentworth, Miss Helen Hald and Mrs. John R. Norton, Mrs. Harrigan defeated Miss Helen Hald and Miss Madeline Steffen.
No. 5—Miss Helen Hald, who reached the finals in the Irvington spring handicap.
In mentioning various wins, the committee has used data from the five local tournaments held in Portland this year.

head of the longhorns are registered. In the milking Shorthorn division the state of California shows up strong, with three large exhibits of this breed.
Eastern Oregon has shown up strong with outstanding exhibits in heavy beef breeds, especially in the White Face division. Deschutes county has pooled its entries, and placed E. A. Ward in charge of its community exhibit.
A. C. Ruby, Portland's pioneer importer of thoroughbred draft horses, is on hand as usual, with the lion's share of the entire horse section. He has on display big, glossy Percherons, Belgians and Shires, and also an assortment of prize winning jacks and Jennets. A few of the famous riding and driving horses being shown this year are: Headmaster, owned by Earl English of Pasadena; Hildara, owned by Mrs. W. W. Keyes of Tacoma, and Joan Sawyer, owned by George E. Plummer of Seattle.
Music with plenty of jazz in it will be provided each afternoon and evening by Percy A. Campbell and his American band. Walter Jenkins has been annexed to the band this week as a "solo" feature.
Exhibitors of hogs, sheep and goats are equally as proud of their stock as the cattlemen. A perusal of the sheds will grant them their claim.

YOUTHFUL STOCK JUDGES TO BE CHAMBER GUESTS
Sixty-three youths ranging in age from 12 to 18 years, and representing the prize stock judging teams of the Pacific Northwest, will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. The young men will be in Portland to attend the Pacific International Livestock exposition.
At noon they will gather at the chamber for a luncheon in their honor. Following the luncheon the party will be taken by street car for a tour of the city, a visit to Benson Polytechnic high school and municipal terminal No. 4. The car will be the first to run over the new line recently extended to the terminal.

BOYS ATTENDING STOCK SHOW SEE FIRST RAILROAD TRAIN

The three boys are interested in cattle and will act as junior judges at the stock show in Whitcomb recently exhibited a Shorthorn cow at the Harney county fair and was awarded championship against all comers. The prize awarded was a trip to the stock show, all expenses by the Harney Cattle and Horse association. The two others earned the money for the trip by working in the hay fields.
The oldest boy is but 15 years of age and the two younger ones, Byard and Whiting, have never been out of Harney county before and saw their first railroad train at Bend.
The boys declare they are having the times of their life.

Multnomah Guards To Scrimmage Today

Manager-Coach Frederick J. McKeown has issued orders to the effect that all Multnomah Guard football players must be on hand at Multnomah field this morning at 9:30 o'clock. He has scheduled a scrimmage with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club squad and will give him an opportunity to look over the available athletes to make the trips to The Dalles, Salem, Gledendale, Hood River and Astoria. The guards are lining up a strong schedule with the various independent squads, and Thanksgiving day has been set aside for a journey to Astoria to meet the Columbia club. All players who expect to make the games must turn out for practice today, says Coach McKeown.

The University of Oregon, which is the only institute in the state to grant a doctor's degree, has an enrollment of 26 students in the graduate school.

Medford Wins at Last
Medford, Or., Nov. 13.—For the first time in four years the Medford high school football team won from the Ashland, Or., eleven by a score of 12 to 10, here this afternoon. It was one of those customary games which cause considerable rivalry among the townspeople and there is a lot of celebration going on here tonight.

Scoreless Tie Played
The Dalles, Or., Nov. 13.—A scoreless tie was played here Thursday between the independent football teams of The Dalles and the Columbia Park representatives of Portland. When the final whistle blew the locals were on the visitors' 10-yard line.

What Is the Ampico?

It is not a player piano.
It is a mechanism built within the piano that reproduces the playing of the artist perfectly. It is therefore a "reproducing piano." It is not mechanical in its operation. It is so perfect as to astonish the listener. Someone has said, "It is not an imitation of the artist, but the artist himself." The instrument seems vibrant with the personality of the artist who played when the roll was made.
