

DORIS McCLEAVE ACCLAIMED QUEEN OF HORSE SHOW

Riding into the hearts of her audience, Miss Doris Oxley McCleave of Victoria, B. C., was acclaimed the queen of the horse show Friday night by popular accord. Her appearance in the arena mounted on horses from her father's stables was the signal for enthusiastic applause. She proved herself again a splendid horsewoman in all the events she took part in. Competing against older and more experienced riders, in years, this little 15-year-old girl captured two first and two third prizes. No matter whether it was harness, ordinary saddle work or jumping, Miss McCleave showed thorough understanding of horses and kept perfect control over the animals she rode. Indian Maid, one of the horses she rode in the free for all jumping, took first place, the marks being judged on performance only. Taking all the hurdles clean and making the jump in and out of the pig-pen, a jump most horses balked at, Miss McCleave brought the spectators to their feet in a burst of applause. Miss McCleave took first place in light weight hunters and jumpers class, riding Indian Princess. She was awarded third in the runabout class and free-for-all jumping. In the latter class she rode two horses, Indian Maid taking the blue ribbon and Victoria taking third. Despite her ability to ride larger horses, Miss McCleave prefers to ride and drive a small Shetland. She has been riding since she was six years old and this is her second appearance at the stock show, her first being last year.

Early Completion Of Columbia Span At Pasco Indorsed

Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 19.—Delegates to the Washington district of the Yellowstone Trail association, at the annual meeting of that association here Friday, unanimously indorsed the move for early completion of a bridge across the Columbia river at Pasco and Kennewick. It was also decided that Seattle is to remain the Western terminus of the trail. Spokane was chosen as the place for the 1921 meeting of the association. The delegates were enthusiastically behind a movement to close up the matter of financing the Columbia river bridge within the next few weeks and to get this matter in shape for presentation to the next session of the state legislature with the expectation that it will have the effect of determining the paving of the Inland Empire highway as the first trans-state highway from Spokane to the Sound. The building of the bridge under the present plan is to be done by a stock company, capitalized at $500,000 by contributors from Yakima, Renton, Franklin and Walla Walla counties. Under this plan it is to be operated as a toll bridge until the state can take it over. The state highway commission has already approved the plans for the bridge and the necessary steps for its construction, as soon as the remainder of the stock has been subscribed for, have been taken.

Dobbin, to prepare a declaration of the situation and appeal to congress for legislation to check the inroads now being made by Australian and South American wool on the market.

Burial Grounds at Big Eddy Surrender More Unique Relics

The Dalles, Nov. 20.—Work of excavating in the supposed Indian graves at Big Eddy, on the government's Cello canal reservation, has concluded yesterday. Hundreds of articles have been found since the excavation was started on a systematic scale by the state highway commission at the request of the Oregon historical society. This work has been going on for the past ten days. These are being stacked in the highway commission's office in the Wasco county courthouse, and the place looks like a museum. All of it is to be shipped to Portland in a few days. Scores of interesting things have been unearthed this week, including a number of stone war clubs and bows more intricately carved than any located heretofore. Laborers employed in the work have dug criss-cross ditches about six feet deep for a distance of 200 feet, and hardly a square yard of the ground, supposed to harbor the graves, remains intact.

STATE CONCLUDES MURDER EVIDENCE

Bend, Nov. 19.—The state rested its case in circuit court here this afternoon against J. Weston, charged with the murder of Robert Krug of Sisters, alleged to have been committed on the night of March 24, 1919. T. J. Sanders, the last state witness, declared that he had seen Weston in jail on the day of the arrest, and had been informed by the prisoner that he intended to plead self defense. District Attorney A. J. Moore took the stand this afternoon in behalf of the defendant, his father-in-law, Moore read from shorthand notes the testimony of Charles Hindman, deceased, given at the inquest held over Krug's body. This tended to show that Krug was aged and infirm, subject to spells of unconsciousness, that his bed was of highly inflammable material and that Krug used a kerosene lamp, usually kept on a stand near his bed.

Pioneer of Wasco County Drops Dead

The Dalles, Nov. 20.—Alfred P. Ferguson, one of the earliest pioneers of Wasco county, dropped dead at his home in the eight mile district, south of The Dalles, early Friday morning. Ferguson had been ill, and was overtaken by death as he stepped from his bed. He had resided in Wasco county more than 50 years, and was one of the first members of the local Masonic lodge. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Moore, daughter of the defendant, Moore's half-sister, Laura Stillson of Troutdale, James Pink of Fort Rock, and Mrs. Myra Helm, sister of Mrs. Weston, were called to impeach the testimony of George Stillwell and Joe Wilson, the state's star witnesses, who had previously said that Weston had admitted the crime in confessions to them. All agreed that Weston was not in the habit of wearing a vest, this being stated in impeachment of the testimony of Wilson given this morning in his declaration that he had found in Weston's vest shortly after the tragedy, a note made payable to Krug and signed by W. H. Fullerton. William Coombs, former husband of Mrs. Weston, the last witness of the afternoon, told of the interior arrangement of the Krug cabin. In order to speed up the trial, the first night session of court started at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Salmon Canneries May Have to Close

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 20.—(I. N. S.)—H. O. Bell Irving, leading packer here, said the market for pinks and chums is so congested that British Columbia packers may have to shut down on canning these varieties of salmon, while Alaska canneries, which can pinks and chums, may have to close down altogether for the season as the only practical solution. For the last three years the Alaska production has been steadily in excess of preceding years, with the European market closed to shipments from this coast.

AN ANCIENT SERMON Concerning Modern Days

By Dr. JAMES E. TALMAGE
Of the Council of the Twelve Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mankind today presents a spectacle of unprecedented activity, progression and achievement in material things, coupled with apathy on the part of some and acrimonious dissension among many, respecting matters religious and spiritual. Worldly affairs engross the attention of men, and few there are who hear above the rattle and roar of earthly turmoil, the voice of warning and commandment calling the race to repentance, while yet there is time.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Truly, there are churches and so-called religious societies unnumbered; and of these many are of worthy motive and commendable service. Never before has organized benevolence been practiced on so broad a scale nor with greater efficiency; and none who thus serve the interests of their needy fellows shall fail of reward. Good deeds shall not go unnoticed because they were wrought without the auspices of sect or church. Nevertheless, more is required for salvation than charity or benevolence, more than even a conscientious observance of the moral code alone.

Salvation of the soul is conditioned upon compliance with the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, within which, charity, benevolence and personal morality are included. The fundamental principles and ordinances are: (1) Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Redeemer of mankind; (2) Genuine and whole-souled repentance; (3) Baptism by immersion in water by authority of the Holy Priesthood; (4) Reception of the Holy Ghost by the authorized laying on of hands.

Many are the doctrines, dogmas, precepts and theories of men, whereby salvation is promised on other ritual and theological systems, evolved from human learning, are substituted for the plain and simple means prescribed by the Lord. Man's wisdom denies the existence of a living, personal God, and flouts the personality of the Holy Priesthood.

Here follows part of a forceful sermon, preached by a Hebrew prophet nearly six centuries before Christ was born. It relates to this current time: "For it shall come to pass in that day, that the churches which are built up, and not unto the Lord, when the one shall say unto the other, Behold, I am the Lord's; and the others shall say, I am the Lord's, and thus shall every one say that hath built up churches, and not unto the Lord.

"And they shall contend one with another; and their priests shall contend one with another, and they shall teach with their learning, and deny the Holy Ghost, which giveth utterance.

"And they deny the power of God, the Holy One of Israel; and they say unto the people, Harken unto us, and hear ye our precept; for behold there is no God today, for the Lord and the Redeemer hath done his work, and he hath given his power unto men.

"Behold, hearken ye unto my precept; if they shall say, There is a miracle wrought, by the hand of the Lord, believe it not; for this day he is not a God of miracles; he hath done his work.

"And there shall also be many which shall say, Eat, drink, and be merry; nevertheless, in committing a little sin; yes, lie a little, take the advantage of one because of his words, dig a pit for thy neighbor; there is no harm in this. And do all these things, for tomorrow we die; and if it so be that we are guilty, God will heat us with a few stripes, and at last we shall be saved in the kingdom of God.

"O the wise, and the learned, and the rich, that are puffed up in the pride of their hearts, and all those who preach false doctrines, and all those who commit whoredoms, and pervert the right way of the Lord; woe, woe, woe be unto them, saith the Lord God Almighty, for they shall be thrust down to hell.

"For the kingdom of the devil must shake, and they which belong to it must needs be stirred up unto repentance, or the devil will grasp them with his everlasting chains, and they shall be stirred up to anger, and perish.

"For behold, at that day shall he raise in the hearts of the children of men, and stir them up to anger against that which is good.

"And others will he raise, and hurl them away into carnal security, that they will say, All is well in Zion; yes, Zion prospereth, all is well; and thus the devil catcheth their souls, and leadeth them away carefully down to hell. And behold, others he flattereth away, and telleth them there is no hell, perchance in their ears, until he grasps them with his awful chains, from whence there is no deliverance.

"Yea, woe be unto him that hearkeneth unto the precepts of men, and denieth the power of God, and the gift of the Holy Ghost.

"Cursed is he that putteth his trust in man, or maketh flesh his arm, or shall hearken unto the precepts of men, save their precepts shall be given by the power of the Holy Ghost." (Book of Mormon, 2 Nephi 23.)

126 DEAD, INJURED 538 IN 2 YEARS AT CROSSINGS OF S. P.

Salem, Nov. 20.—A total of 126 people have lost their lives and 538 others have been injured in grade crossing accidents on the line of the Southern Pacific in the period from January 1, 1918, to September 1, 1920, according to statistics compiled by the road, a copy of which has reached the public service commission here. The statistics, which also show that 1616 automobiles were damaged or destroyed in crossing accidents in this period, are embodied in a letter which is being sent to all automobile owners, reported to the company by trainmen as parties to near accidents at grade crossings on the Southern Pacific lines. Judge Seeks Jury To Cut Board Bill

The Dalles, Nov. 20.—Rather than let eight prisoners remain in the county jail and run up a board bill for the county of $300 Circuit Judge Fred Wilson Friday ordered the empanelling of a grand jury for special sessions. The regular grand jury does not meet again until February, and county officials declare expense of keeping the prisoners three months longer would amount to at least $500. The grand jury will meet November 28. Among the accused awaiting hearing are the six cowboys who are charged with robbing an Indian on the Warm Springs reservation last week.
