

BLARNEY STONE WINNER IN FINAL EVENT AT SHOW

Doris Oxley McCleave, 15-Year-Old Girl, Sends Champion Over Hurdles at 6 Feet, 8 Inches.

Taking Blarney Stone over the hurdles at 6 feet 8 inches, Doris Oxley McCleave won the grand champion horse jumping award of the Pacific International Livestock exposition Saturday night. Miss McCleave is but 15 years of age and won from all comers in the event. Popular with the crowds before this feat, which experts say was one of the highest jumps made by a horse. Miss McCleave was given the biggest ovation accorded any performer at the show.

J. D. Farrell's Old Glory, driven by the owner, took the ribbon for the heavy harness class in a very impressive manner. Mrs. Wayne W. Koyce's Hilldare, after winning consistently throughout the week, took the five-gaited saddle championship. Hilldare was shown by Louie Hayden of Kansas City. Miss Hilda McCormick made a wonderful showing on R. L. English's Coquette.

During the middle of the program Miss Harriet Leach came into the arena on a jaunty cart and sang two solos. The afternoon matinee featured the juvenile riders. Miss Prudence Talbot's Marquisa won three blue ribbons. The youngest rider in the ring was the 2-year-old daughter of ex-Governor West, Gene West.

Prune Acreage in Western Oregon Is Doubled in Few Years

Salem, Nov. 20.—The prune acreage of Western and Southern Oregon has increased from 10,000 to 40,000 acres within a few years, according to C. I. Lewis, of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association, who addressed a meeting of Marion county members of the association here Friday afternoon. Lewis predicted that the annual output of prunes in this state would exceed 100,000,000 pounds within three years. The crop this year, he stated, was reduced to 25,000,000 pounds because of excessive rains during the picking season.

Slashing of prices in both the loganberry and prune markets were blamed on independent growers by speakers at the meeting, who pointed out that until the organization had gained in strength to a point where it could control the bulk of the output such price cutting would be inevitable.

The meeting, attended by some 150 members of the association, was the first of what it is planned to make a series of monthly gatherings of Marion county producers.

Oregon City Men Are Convicted of Distilling Liquor

Brownell, attorney for the defense, has served notice of appeal to the circuit court.

The arrest of the three men was made a week ago by county officers in company with Portland revenue men. Forty pints of moonshine were found and several large vats for the manufacture of the stuff were found under course of construction.

The annual Red Cross Christmas roll call will commence here Monday, with Miss Barclay Pratt, home service secretary, and Mrs. F. W. Gardner in charge. The Clackamas county Red Cross organization recently become a separate chapter from Portland, and all money collected here will be used for local work. Five hundred families have been taken care of here within the past year, including the men who have been helped to vocational training, compensation, hospital care and government adjustments. The total amount spent for the home service work, including the aid extended ex-service men, was $2,085.95, according to figures compiled by Miss Pratt.
