

FEAST DAY CHEER
ABOUNDS IN CITY;
NEWSBOYS GUESTS

Holiday happiness marked the passing of 1920's Thanksgiving day. Portland was a city given over to celebration.

Whether expressed in word or in the exuberance of action, the spirit of thanksgiving was manifested on all sides for the bounties of the year. Thousands of people journeyed to union church services, where songs, prayers and testimonies of Thanksgiving were heard.

The usual Thursday traffic was suspended. Empty streets in the morning indicated that thousands of families enjoyed a weekday reunion, while surging masses of humanity in the afternoon and evening signified the urge and call of the pleasures and pastimes of theatre row. Playhouses were crowded all day, as were motion picture places.

JANITOR INHALES CHEER

In the town's best cellar, Edgar, colored janitor of the jail, was given the privilege of inhaling Thanksgiving cheer when he was assigned to mop up some home brew which had exploded on the fifth floor of the municipal hotel the prisoners were regaled with music. The Apostolic Faith orchestra of 23 pieces sang and played during the evening. A novel note was struck by a derelict several sheets in the wind who chimed in at the end of each song from his cell at the end of the corridor. Chief Jenkins entertained the baby girl in his charge during the day, making her at home in his office.

300 NEWSIES FED

One of the happiest persons in Portland today is Eric V. Hauser, owner of the Multnomah hotel, who feasted 300 newsies Thursday. No line was drawn by Hauser, boys, men, women, blind, lame, black, brown and white all enjoying the same privileges. The newsies sat at the tables in groups of eight in true democratic fashion, paying little attention to who was on the other side. Steward C. B. Nagle and Chef T. H. Sherman, said the boys enjoyed 300 pounds of turkey and 300 mince pies in addition to other trimmings. When Hauser entered the room after the newsies were seated cheers greeted him and a speech was called for, but the one-time Minneapolis newsboy remembered how well he liked speeches when a lad, so he declined and told the boys to enjoy their feast. Rev. A. B. Campbell and Assistant Manager A. J. Arroll assisted in welcoming the newsies.

MEN'S RESORT HOST

Sixty men, many of them homeless, were entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner at the Men's Resort, Fourth and Burnside streets. The Rev. L. E. Johnson presided and read the president's proclamation. Following the dinner a musical program was given. One of the features of the day was the feeding of thirty hungry newsies in the municipal pound at the suggestion of a wealthy Portland woman. Several persons contributed to the fund. Many individuals were seen carrying heavily laden baskets on streets as though they knew of a poor family needing a little Thanksgiving cheer.

Bullet Is Taken
From Shoulder of Policeman's Slayer

A successful operation was performed on the wounded shoulder of Husted A. Walters, indicted murderer of Patrolman Jerome Palmer, in the emergency hospital Thursday by Dr. Martin W. Rose. The bullet which Patrolman Thorpe fired at the deserter-highwayman was removed from the man's shoulder and is being held by the police as evidence.

Walters is recovering from his wounds and is now able to walk about the hospital. Authorities say he will be removed to the county jail as soon as possible. All doubt as to who fired the shot that lodged in Walters' shoulder was settled when the bullet was recovered. It was from a .38 calibre revolver, the type of gun carried by Thorpe, and not from the kind of revolver carried by Palmer.

JAPANESE WILL INJECT ISSUE OF RACIAL EQUALITY

Geneva, Nov. 26.—(U. P.)—Viscount Ishii of Japan will present the question of racial equality informally to the League of Nations assembly at this session, it was learned authoritatively today. It was said Ishii will bring the matter to the attention of the assembly in such a way as to avoid comment or debate.

Members of the Japanese delegation said today they were instructed by the government not to submit a racial equality measure or any other that would be apt to create friction. The matter will be put before the assembly, probably as a reminder that Japan has not forgotten her original demand.

DELEGATION MOST SILENT

The Japanese delegation, largest of those attending the sessions, has been the most silent. Not a member has participated in the debate. Attending every session the delegates, immaculately clad, take their seats at the opening of the meeting and sit quietly until adjournment.

No trace of interest or surprise or any other emotion crosses their faces. While the delegates apparently attend the sessions only as spectators, numerous secretaries are frantically following every word uttered, compiling voluminous reports of every happening. No subject is too trivial for the compilation of an exhaustive record.

The league assembly expected to conclude its week's work today with the hearing of reports by commissions. The program then called for adjournment until Tuesday.

DISARMAMENT IS TOPIC

Disarmament was the main topic in the assembly today. A commission to consider that question began its sessions yesterday, practically with instructions that recommendations for the present must be held within reasonable limits. Delegates declared the league must give proof of its sincerity by refraining from extreme demands until all large nations are members of the league.

It was expected the commission will recommend prohibition of private manufacture of war materials, regulation of traffic in arms and the exchange of military information.

The assembly was expected to take up today the demand of the Australian delegation that a reply be made to Germany's note. These will be the permanent organization of the league's working machinery, the inter-

ORDINANCE ASKED
FOR REGULATION
OF TREES IN CITY

L. A. McNary, representing the Northwestern Electric company and a joint pole committee, including the Portland Railway, Light & Power company and Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, has asked Commissioner Barbur to cooperate with him in preparing an ordinance regulating the planting and growth of trees within the city limits.

He would eliminate the interference of trees on city residence property with the stringing and repairing of electric wires throughout the city. McNary also solicits the aid of the commissioner in enlisting the offices of the county commissioners in including all of Multnomah county in the ordinance.

The proposed ordinance would compel all city and county property owners to get permits from a committee, which meets with the approval of the electric companies, before planting trees or shrubbery and would have them keep such trees and shrubbery trimmed as suggested by those companies to better enable linemen to work on the poles.

Commissioner Barbur said that while he would gladly confer with the attorney and consider his proposal, he was of the opinion that legislation toward putting all electric wires underground would be more to the point at this time. "There are some trees (of the brittle varieties) now grown so tall that high winds make them a menace to the public and I think the height of those trees should be decreased," he said, "but the proposal to limit the height of trees to 25 feet and to legislate toward meeting the suggestions of the electrical concerns in the city and throughout the county, I am not so sure about."

Commissioner Pier, in charge of parks, and Commissioner Barbur, in charge of streets, will meet with the representatives of the electric companies next Tuesday to consider their suggestion.

Cox of Illinois was 890,085, according to complete official figures announced today. Senator Harding's total vote in Illinois was 1,424,480 to 534,395 for Cox.

William B. McKinley was elected United States senator by 827,036 votes, the count standing 1,381,884 for McKinley and 554,848 for Peter A. Walker, Governor-elect Len Small received 1,213,073 votes and James Hamilton Lewis 728,231 votes, giving Small a plurality of 514,842.

Subtitles Deleted To Meet Views of Movie Censorship—The first discordant element to disturb the tranquility of Portland's board of motion picture censorship for many months came with the arrival of an alleged comedy film this week. While the film, entitled "Fixed by George!" was more or less tragic in its comedy and equally comic in its tragedy, the censors agreed there were certain more or less suggestive subtitles referring to twin beds and other indications of inharmonious marriage relations for which the heart was not prepared to assume entire responsibility. Following a meeting of the entire board the objectionable subtitles were deleted and the comedy was pronounced properly fixed—but not by George.

Sentence Deferred—George Landon, convicted of white slavery on four counts, who was to have been sentenced this morning in federal court, will await until next week, when he will have sufficiently recovered from the effects of the sheep dip with which he tried to poison himself Wednesday.

LOOK FOR WOMAN—A son resides in Chicago and had not arrived when the end came. Dr. Walter Hardy, head of the sanitarium where Hamon died, said that the dilation of the heart was first noticed at 8 p. m. Thursday. A few hours previous Hamon was believed to have passed the danger mark. Dr. Hardy said. However, when his heart started to fail, he suffered a relapse and little hope was held out for his recovery.

With Hamon's death, authorities doubted their efforts to locate Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, who disappeared immediately after the shooting. The woman was a clerk in a store at Lawton, Okla., when Hamon first met her. She was only 17—that was about eight years ago—according to Hamon's friends.

At that time Hamon's success had...

EDDIE O'DONNELL
DIES OF FRACTURE
RECEIVED IN RACE

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—(U. N. S.)—Eddie O'Donnell, the racing driver who was terribly injured yesterday at the Los Angeles speedway, when Gaston Chevrolet, famous driver, was killed instantly, and Lyle Jolles, a mechanic, was fatally hurt in a collision, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the California hospital here.

The race was won by Roscoe Saries in a Duesenberg, Edward Miller, also in a Duesenberg, was second. COMPOUND SKULL FRACTURE—O'Donnell suffered a compound fracture of the skull, a broken arm and internal injuries. Despite these he rallied at times and at one time some hope was held for his recovery.

It was but a slight deviation that brought the speeding cars together before the horrified eyes of 75,000 spectators. Chevrolet was on his one hundred forty-seventh lap and attempted to pass Joe Thomas, who was slightly ahead. O'Donnell was pursuing Chevrolet. As the three cars thundered past the pits and climbed the last bank, Chevrolet picked up speed, making a further effort to pass Thomas, below him. At the same time O'Donnell began to pass Chevrolet. Just as these cars were side by side, Chevrolet's automobile appeared to swerve a few inches and the crash came.

THOMAS IS UNHURT—Thomas was unhurt, but O'Donnell's car was catapulted in a semicircle ahead of Chevrolet, whose car hit it a second time head-on in the middle. Jolles, the mechanic, was thrown clear of the Speedway fence and dived 30 feet to the ground. He died on the way to the hospital. When Chevrolet's car was lifted, he was found to be dead.

At the same time O'Donnell began to pass Chevrolet. Just as these cars were side by side, Chevrolet's automobile appeared to swerve a few inches and the crash came.

If Chevrolet had finished the race, he would have been the 1920 American champion because of the number of points he had won during the season. Saries, by his victory, won $15,000. His time for the 250-mile contest was 2 hours 25 minutes 20 seconds. Miller received $6000 for second honors. Eddie Hearne, driving a Revere Special, got $3000, being third, and Jimmy Murphy, fourth, in a Duesenberg, received $2000.

GASTON CHEVROLET TO BE BURIED AT INDIANAPOLIS—Indianapolis, Nov. 26.—(U. N. S.)—The body of Gaston Chevrolet, winner of the 1920 International Sweepstakes race at the Motor Speedway here, who was killed in a crash near the close of the 250-mile race at the Los Angeles Speedway yesterday, will be brought to Indianapolis for burial. Arthur Chevrolet, his brother, said today.

Before running away the robber threatened to return another time.

Electric Company
Files Objection to Proposed Roseway

Protest against carrying out the proposed plan to decorate Sandy boulevard with roses and converting that thoroughfare into a roseway was received by Commissioner Barbur this morning from F. S. Gifford, superintendent of electrical distribution for the Northwestern Electric company.

Gifford charges that the growth of shrubbery and particularly rose vines would seriously handicap linemen in their work and would even endanger their lives. He referred to an accident to a lineman of another company some time ago due to rose vines entwining the poles. Barbur will present the communication to the council for its consideration.
