

EVIDENCE OF SELF DEFENSE GIVEN IN RETRIAL OF RADER

Fendleton, Dec. 8.—Conflict testimony was introduced Tuesday in the retrial of Fritz Rader, charged with the murder of R. E. McCue in Grant county in February, 1918. The case was remanded from the Supreme Court on the dying statement of the murdered man, four different stories being told by witnesses who were present in the cabin when the statement accusing Rader of the shooting was purported to have been made.

Working out the plea of self defense, counsel for Rader rigidly cross-questioned all of the state's witnesses and the evidence seemed to bear out the contention of the defense that McCue was killed in a fight in which he was the aggressor.

The state rested its presentation of evidence without calling Frank Hales, the only eye-witness to the shooting, to the stand. It is understood that the defense will place him on the stand to prove that the fight was started by McCue himself.

The defense opened its evidence Wednesday and several new factors in the case will be presented, according to the attorneys, one of these being the alleged ill-will that the state's witnesses bear toward the defendant.

Second Hearing of Cement Case Will Begin on Thursday

Thursday morning in Federal Judge Bean's court the government will start its second trial of the Oregon-Portland Cement company for alleged restraint of trade in the cement business by dividing up the territory in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. R. P. Butchart, president of the company and Clark M. Moore, sales manager, are named as the defendants.

The case was tried in October, 1919, before Judge Bean and lasted for three weeks. The jury disagreed. United States Attorney Lester Humphreys and his assistant, Hall Lusk, will represent the government. The offense with which the men are charged is classified as a misdemeanor. The maximum penalty for conviction is a $5000 fine or one year in prison.

The conspiracy which the government alleges is said to have started between other companies in 1916 and to have been entered into in 1916 when the Oregon-Portland Cement company entered this field. Many technicalities are involved.

WASSER DRUGSTORE ROBBERS CAPTURED

Capture of the highwaymen who held up the Wasser drug store at 1580 Peninsula avenue Sunday night was effected Tuesday night by Patrolmen Levison, Ferry and Abbott, of the police auto theft squad, when they apprehended George Davis, alias George Pantland, aged 24, and Frank Evans, aged 26, residents of the View hotel, Kenton, as they stood in front of a poolhall at Derby avenue and McClellan streets.

The two were traced by a hat, with a Tucson, Ariz. mark, which Davis had left in the drug store. Wasser, proprietor of the store, identified both men as those who had held him up. Davis made a confession of the robbery and told the police that he believed Evans had "turned a single" about 10 days ago. Evans refused to make a statement.

Cider Case Weak; Defendants Go Free

Both were charged with violation of the prohibition law and held under $500 bail. The liquor which the officers seized tested 6.85 per cent alcohol.

Newberg, Or., Dec. 8.—Frank Newland of Willamina was arrested and fined $10 for reckless driving of an automobile after he had run amuck at the Newberg Meat company entrance at the noon hour Tuesday. Upon investigation it was found that Newland was driving home from Portland, where he had purchased the second hand car. He had no driver's license and was an inexperienced driver. The court ordered that the car, which was damaged, must remain in storage until Newland secured a license and a permit to drive.
