

AMERICA DRIFTING FROM DEMOCRACY, DECLARES PASTOR

A fearless and impassioned appeal to the people of America to return to the God of the Pilgrims, to cleanse themselves of social hypocrisy, religious bigotry, moral corruption and commercial tyranny that threatens the foundations of institutions and civilization, was made by the Rev. W. H. Boddy, pastor of the Community church of Hood River, in an address Tuesday evening at the Auditorium, the occasion being the tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrim fathers.

"The spirit of drifting, of centesimeness, of courage, of tolerance—all of these and many other choice qualities—have been left us by the Pilgrim, but instead of becoming a greater and more vital part of our national life, we are fast losing sight of them; we are drifting farther and farther away from the spirit of democracy which dominated the early civilization of our country in all its departments, its social life, its religious life and its political life.

IDEALS BURIED
"Many of the lofty ideals for this country and its future born in the minds and hearts of the Pilgrims, were, alas! also buried there. We have traveled a long way, but not in the path laid out by those brave and honest men and women as they interpreted the plan of God.

"Relativism is born of atheism. In this backwash of the world war crime is running rampant and the solution is not to be found in a truce between capital and labor. It is to be found in the recognition of the sovereignty of God. Has not the world a right to expect from the descendants of the Pilgrims something finer for a world vision than a slogan, 'safest of them; we are drifting a right to expect these descendants to lead in a great world effort for peace for peace sake?'"

SING NEW SONG

The chairman of the evening, William D. Wheelwright, introduced the exercises with appropriate remarks on the history and achievements of the men and women whom the people had gathered to honor. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. H. L. Bates. The music was in charge of Professor W. H. Boyer and consisted of a girls' chorus of 300 voices and an orchestra of 100 young people, all from the public schools.

The number given by them were greatly appreciated. A feature of the evening was the singing of "The New America," the words of which were written by Katherine Lee Bates, a member of the faculty of Wellesley, and said to be one of the finest poems coming out of the war. Frederick W. Goodrich was at the organ.

The crowd attending the exercises was gratifyingly large, there being more than 1500 present.

Santa Claus Trips Through Stockyards; Leaves $2,750,000

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(U. P.)—A cheerful Santa Claus, inspired by the recent order of Federal Judge Alsmuler in the packers' wage hearings, tripped through the Chicago stockyards today and distributed $2,750,000 among 100,000 employees of the big packers.

With the remainder of his $4,125,000 pack, Santa Claus left the Chicago stockyards for yards at St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and other packing points to make presents of $27.50, the amount each Chicago employee received, to packers' employees in those cities.

The presents were the pay increase from July 5, 1920, to December 5, 1920.

Hawaii Prosperous; Honolulu Thriving

There are no hard times in Hawaii and Honolulu is enjoying the most prosperous business of that city's experience, says Mrs. Helen Cameron, who has come from Honolulu to visit her brother, Dr. William F. Flehig, at 1042 Hassalo street. "I was surprised," she said, "to learn that such a thing as business depression was even thought of. Our stores are all doing capacity business without the stimulus of special sales. Our industries are too busy to think of unemployment."

Edgar Bierdorf Honored
Edgar Bierdorf, son of Dr. H. R. Bierdorf of 200 Stanton street, was elected to membership in the Alpha Zeta honorary fraternity because of his high scholastic standing at the Oregon Agricultural college. Bierdorf is majoring in dairying and was a member of the winning team of dairy judges at the Pacific International Livestock exposition this fall. He is assistant business manager of the Barometer and a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha collegiate fraternity.

DR. LOVEJOY WILL LEAVE TO RESUME HOSPITAL SERVICE

Dr. Esther Pohl-Lovejoy will leave Portland Thursday or Friday morning for a year's absence in New York and overseas in a continuation of the work of the American Women's Hospital service, of which she is chairman of the executive board, and which she dropped to carry on her recent campaign for congress. On her way East Dr. Lovejoy will stop in Seattle, where she will spend Christmas with her mother.

Dr. Lovejoy resigned from her position with the American Women's Hospital service upon her nomination for Congress, but the board placed her resignation upon the table and recently asked her to come back immediately to take up the work where she left off.

She expects to spend about six months in New York after which she will sail for Europe to carry on relief work among the war-stricken populace. During the year she will attend the annual meeting of the Medical Women's International association of which she is president.

Dr. Lovejoy has been closely associated with the American Women's Hospital service from its infancy and largely because of this connection and her work in the hospitals of France, Serbia and Armenia, she came to be known by women physicians of other countries and was elected president of the international association.

The American Women's Hospital service is composed of medical women of the United States engaged in reconstruction work. It was organized three years ago and is affiliated with the Red Cross, the Armenian and Serbian relief and other relief organizations. Through it, the Hoover committee is distributing its food in Serbia, and aims to provide more trained women than the other organizations are able to furnish.

Dr. Lovejoy expects to return to Oregon after the completion of her reconstruction work.

PRICE-FIXING IS BACK AT MARKET

By unanimous vote of the city council this morning, the war time system of price fixing on the public market was restored and the market master was clothed with the authority to designate daily the maximum prices at which produce displayed by growers on the curbstone booths may be sold.

The ordinance, drawn at the insistence of the Housewives' council, was adopted without protest by anyone, no standstillers or others appearing to resist the action.

Complaint had been made that the original plan of establishing a market which should tend to govern general prices had been subverted, the standstillers occupying stalls at nominal rental charging as much as private stores and being governed by them in price.

Girl Tells How She Was Attacked in Shack by Gangsters

San Francisco, Dec. 22.—(U. P.)—Under the fire of close cross-examination, Jessie Montgomery told today on the witness stand the story of her experience on Thanksgiving morning, on which the prosecution is attempting to send Ed (K. O.) Krivosky to the penitentiary.

Throughout the morning session of Krivosky's trial, his attorney sought persistently to pick out discrepancies in Miss Montgomery's testimony.

Beginning at the point where she said she met Krivosky at the Strokers cafe, she reviewed the entire story.

"Krivosky was staggering and waving his hands in the air," she said, describing his condition as the Strokers. "I told him to behave himself. 'Spud' Murphy also was under the influence of liquor."

She then described how she went in an automobile to the Howard street shack where it is alleged she was assaulted.

"Were you not afraid to go into the house at that hour of the night with strange men?" Miss Montgomery was asked.

"No," was the answer. "I wasn't afraid."

Spectators concentrated their interest during Miss Montgomery's testimony on the attitude of Krivosky's wife. She sat as if stunned with surprise when the girl testified to Krivosky's alleged treatment of her.

Judge Ward, presiding, notified the attorneys that he expected to have the case concluded by Friday so that on Monday "Jim" Carey could go on trial as the third alleged gangster to face the court. It was the expectation that evidence would be completed tomorrow.

YEGGS LOOT TWO CENTRALIA SAFES

Centralia, Wash., Dec. 22.—Two robberies occurred in the downtown district of Centralia Tuesday night. The Pacific Fruit & Produce company's plant and Saultz & Mathews' furniture store, both on South Tower avenue, were broken into and the safes opened.

At the Pacific Fruit & Produce company the safe was evidently cracked open with a sledge hammer and a number of valuable papers, including deeds, insurance papers, notes and Liberty bonds, taken. Miss Frances Blankman, bookkeeper, and George Thonet, manager, suffered the greatest loss. Only 19 cents in cash was taken.

At the Saultz & Mathews store a small hole was bored into the safe beside the combination and nitro-glycerin poured into the hole, blowing out the inside of the combination. The safe was found closed by police officials. The owners of the store could not open it and have been unable to determine the loss. Considerable money was inside. Saultz has sent to Seattle for an expert to open the safe.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday night a negro entered the Napavine Mercantile company's store at Napavine and pointed a gun at the manager, who was standing at the telephone about to call up his home. The manager dropped the receiver and made a dash for the door, wrenching the gun from his hand. The negro turned and ran from the store, leaving his hat. Sheriff Roberts and Deputy Sheriff Poyns spent the night and part of the morning looking for the negro but returned without success.
